11 ESCAPE WHEN BOAT OVERTURNS

Today

Fly in the Ointment.
New Independence Day.
Another Canal.
Dance, Says the Bishop.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

BALDWIN is out. Ramsay MacDonald is in. The King, from his sick bed, asks him to form a government.

PRESIDENT HOOVER will hear from MacDonald, head of Britain's Labor party, that he, MacDonald, on behalf of the British Empire, will do anything in reason about reducing armaments.

That will please all that prefer economy to safety.

THE only fly in the pacifist ointment is the fact that about the time the United States and Ramsay MacDonald get ready to act, MacDonald, perhaps, won't be prime minister any more. Somebody will take his place and say, "Britain must rule the sea and the air. All that disarmament talk is OUT." America and Great Britain should be well armed and force peace on the world.

YESTERDAY, June 4, was another Independence Day.

It marked the tenth anniversary of the adoption by Congress of the woman suffrage amendment.

Women, until 10 years ago, were classed officially with idiots and Indians, "not voting."

The abolition of bodily slavery was important.

This day marks the abolition of mental slavery among women, a slavery worse than physical slavery.

IMPORTANT and gratifying is the news from Washington that President Hoover will appoint a consulting board of Army and civilian engineers to consider the construction of a canal through Nicaragua.

THAT will be another link between the Atlantic and the Pacific, and PROPERTY OF THE UNITED STATES, LIKE THE PANAMA LINK. Let us hope it will be well fortified, especially from the air. Outside of the air no fortifications are of importance. Who would have believed that would ever be possible when Gibraltar, Metz and the narrow strip of water at Constantinople were so important to the world's peace?

THE good and wise Bishop Acheson, of Connecticut, dignitary of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was grieved when told that ladies of Christ's Church parish of Bethlehem, Conn., do not dance and object to others dancing.

The bishop said to them, using language less colloqual, "Go on, dance your heads off. It is the best way to get thin."

THAT recalls the advice of the good French Bishop Fenelon, of Cambral.

A young priest had told his parishioners to observe the Sabbath and not dance or drink on that day.

Bishop Fenelon wrote to him: "I want you to observe the Sabbath and set a good example, but let the poor peasants dance, drink and forget their misery."

VESUVIUS continues pouring out lava, compelling inhabitants of the towns of Barra to leave their homes, creating panic in many towns. The lava stream is poured into the fearsome "Valley of Hell."

BUENOS AIRES sends news of great activity in the volcano of Nevado.

Human beings may thank their stars that these and other volcanoes exist. They are to the earth what a safety valve is to a steam engine.

THOSE that deplore the tendencies of "modern youth," late hours, short dresses, wild dances, cocktails, and the rest, will be interested in an investigation and report by Chicago's Episcopal church.

YOUNG people are wild, says the report, but the blame rests with the parents. Dr. Young, head of the Howe School, of Indiana, says he is more worried about the parents than about children.

It is a fact that bootleggers' customers are the parents. Children despise that law, and parents set them the example.

A GENTLEMAN double-locked his stable door after the horse was stolen.

Wheat drops to 94 cents a bushel, the farmer is compelled to sell, and Congress will rush a $500,000,000 fund for farm relief.

It isn't anybody's fault, just "supply and demand," or something like that. But it always seems hard for the farmer to get a good price for his product and easy to get a good price when he has sold it and somebody else has it.

EVERYTHING cheerful in Wall Street yesterday. You could borrow money on call at 7 per cent. Not exactly cheap, but by no means satisfactory to the well-organized army of usurers.

UNCLE SAM increased his gold supply in the past five months by $147,814,000.

We didn't need it, but for superstitious financial reasons it is a comfort to have it.

Wheat went up five cents a bushel. Ask the sold-out farmers what they think of that.

RIVER CRAFT WRECKED AS CREW SLEEPS

U. S. Engineers' Steamer Upsets at Dead Man's Island Dam; Save Woman

Ten men and one woman escaped drowning early today when the U. S. Engineers' steamer Kittanning capsized in the Ohio River at Dead Man's Island.

The steamer was moored to the construction work on the new Dead Man's Dam, which is being built, when suddenly a cofferdam collapsed. The suction drew the boat partly under water and the crash of the steamer against the dam's side threw many of the crew from their berths.

Most of the crew escaped by jumping to the structural works of the dam, but several were reported to have swum to shore.

The crew consists of 14 men and a woman waitress, Lena O. Wood. Only 11 of the crew were on the steamer when it capsized, its captain, Silas Sayer, reported.

The United States Engineers' boat, George S. Nutt, stationed at Charleroi, was ordered to the scene for salvaging. The Kittanning did not sink below water level, but due to a high river, difficulty is expected in salvage work.

BLAST IMPERILS NORTH SIDERS

Complaints were lodged today with the North Side police by residents of the lower North Side whose homes were damaged when rocks were hurled into the neighborhood by a blast on Monument Hill late yesterday. Scores of children in the streets narrowly escaped injury. Damage may exceed $1,000.

According to police a blast was set off by the Harrison Construction Company, contractors engaged in leveling the hill.

ROCK HITS ROOF

One large rock weighing 15 pounds was hurled against the roof of the dwelling occupied by R. A. Mills, at 736 Reedsdale street. Plaster and woodwork fell into the second floor quarters occupied by Mills and his family. Four windows on the second floor was shattered.

Mrs. Mary Deary, 72, residing on the second floor at 736 Reedsdale street, was showered with glass from broken windows and stones that fell into the room. She is confined to her home today, under the care of a physician, reported suffering from shock.

Six windows were broken in the apartment of William Cleck, on the first floor. A vacant dwelling at 738 Reedsdale street also was showered by small rocks and five windows were broken.

MORE WINDOWS BROKEN

Mrs. Mary Allen, of 1 Willey terrace, reported that six windows in her home had been shattered and woodwork damaged.

Large stones were picked up in courtyards of several residences and the street. Residents say that the windows were not broken by concussion, but by stones hurled against the panes.

Broken Flywheel Makes 1,600 Idle

MARTINS FERRY, O., June 5.—A broken flywheel caused 1,600 employes of the Lockland plant, American Sheet and Tinplate Company, to be idle today. The wheel burst yesterday doing considerable damage, but injuring no one.

WIFE HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH

VALPARAISO, Ind., June 5.—(INS.)—Mrs. Catherine Cassler's stoicism was shattered today as she stood charged with a second murder in two years.

She wept and ranted by turns because her son, Edward, 12, was detained as a material witness.

Edward, a witness at the inquest into the death of Miss Cameola Soutar, 23—described in testimony as the mistress of Truman Cassler, the husband—by conflicting statements unwittingly damaged his mother's defense.

A verdict by the coroner's jury was expected today. Mrs. Cassler was arrested on the murder warrant while on the stand at the inquest.

It is alleged Mrs. Cassler shot the Soutar girl to death and flung the body in a swamp near Hebron, Ind.

Only a month ago she escaped the gallows. She was convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of William Lindstrom for $1,000 insurance, but was granted a new trial and the charge was dropped.

Morrow Cuts Visit, On Way to Mexico

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow is en route to his post in Mexico City, having cut short previously announced vacation plans in the United States by about a month. Although the ambassador had expected to remain in this country until July 15, State Department officials declared today there was no unusual significance in the termination of his visit. Mr. Morrow will arrive in Mexico City near the time when the proposed negotiations between the Mexican government and Catholic church officials will be commenced.

Massillon Girl Dies, Clinic Blast Toll 123

MASSILLON, O., June 5.—(INS.)—The toll in the recent Cleveland Clinic poison gas disaster today stood at 123 lives with the death here of Miss Barbara Merwin, 23. She was secretary to an eye specialist of the clinic.

8 Youths Sought in Auto Battle With 6 Girls

City and county police are seeking eight young men alleged to have attacked and beaten six girls after ejecting them from an automobile on a lonely road in an outlying district early today.

Three of the young women told their story to Police Inspector James N. Hoey at Central Station, after spending the night at a farmhouse, the location of which they did not know. Later they repeated the story to county detectives.

The three, Mary Lawrence, 17, employed at 6339 Waldron street; her sister, Anna, 19, employed at 5341 Waldron street, and Mrs. Betty Schmidt, 20, of 6343 Waldron street, told Hoey they had been to the circus in East Liberty last night and had accepted an invitation of two young men to take them home.

The youths drove to a speakeasy in East Liberty, the girls asserted, and when they refused to drink liquor and demanded to be taken home, the men took them back to the machine, along with six other men who were in the place. They picked up three others girls and started on a long ride which ended in a battle. The sisters bore black eyes as a result of their encounter. Mrs. Schmidt said she was felled by a blow on the jaw.

Temperance Prize List's Fourth Plan

By JAMES B. QUINLAN, JR.
No. 1504 West Ramona Blvd., Alhambra, Cal.

Following is the complete text of the fourth prize winner, $1,000 award, plan No. 13,409, in the Hearst $25,000 temperance contest.

TEN years of practical experience have proved that the Volstead act, as a reasonable and practical interpretation of the Eighteenth Amendment, is inadequate, pernicious in its effects and inherently subversive to the ends of American individualism and constitutional government.

A law that stands in conflict with the ideals, desires, customs and tendencies of a large number of citizens and forbids a practice which is not in itself a shock to social conscience, imposes an intolerable restraint and discourages self-reliance in the individual.

Curb Means Resistance

THE end of American individualism is the cultivation of self-reliance—the extension, not the limitation, of individual free action. Free choice in matters of eating and drinking, within reasonable lawful limits, is the very essence of personal liberty, a right clearly indicated by the constitution of the United States, the regulation of which is expressly reserved to the several states of the Union.

Abridgement of this right, however noble the purpose, leads to resistance by the individual, to opposition and nullification by the states, and to open violation which takes the form of crime.

The intent and purpose of the Eighteenth Amendment is to prohibit the use of intoxicating beverages to citizens of the United States and of territories under its jurisdiction. Its effect, as interpreted by the national prohibition act, or Volstead law, is to criminalize a

Senate Confirms Cotton Nomination

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—The nomination of Joseph P. Cotton, of New York, to be under secretary of state was confirmed today by the Senate.

FOURTH HEARST PRIZE GIVEN

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—James B. Quinlan, Jr., of Alhambra, was highly pleased yesterday, when an Examiner representative handed him a check for $1,000 as the fourth prize winner in the Hearst temperance contest.

"I have never before tried to write anything for the public," he said as he accepted the check.

"Never, except in the way of compositions at school and college, have I written my ideas on any question.

"But about prohibition I have very decided thoughts.

"I was opposed to prohibition from the beginning of the experiment.

"I do not think the world is at all ready for such a method of attacking the problem of drink.

"This is not a passing thought, but is the result of study and investigation extending over several years.

URGES REFERENDUM

Mr. Quinlan, in his plan, advocates a popular referendum on the question, this to be initiated by the President in a message to Congress in the interest of public welfare as preliminary to a change in the existing national prohibition laws.

Further, Mr. Quinlan would make the definition of intoxicating liquor a matter for state determination and would place responsibility upon the states for framing and enforc-

3 MEN INJURED IN CRASH AT BUILDING

Hundreds Watch Police and Firemen Search Wreckage For Victims Feared Dead

Three workmen were injured slightly and six or more escaped when a section of a third uoor reinforced concrete girder in the Sears, Roebuck Building, under construction in North Highland avenue near Station street, collapsed today.

The victims tumbled 35 feet with the debris to the basement.

The injured:

J. E. Johnson, 29, of 150 Auburn street.

James Gore, 22, Negro, of Chauncey street.

HURLED TO BASEMENT

The concrete forms collapsed after a runway, across which a "buggy" of concrete was being pushed, gave way. The "buggy," the runway and a section of the forms and supporting members, along with six cubic yards of concrete weighing seven tons, plunged to the basement through a stairway opening, carrying the workmen with it.

P. M. Magee, labor foreman, who was working near the edge of the hollow square formed by the reinforced concrete girders being constructed, narrowly escaped being plunged into the basement with the other men. His clothing caught in iron reinforcing rods and he was dragged to safety by other workmen.

The contract for the building, a three-story concrete and brick structure, was let recently. Work is being rushed to finish it by September 1. Officials of the contracting company said that the accident would not cause any delay to completion of the building.

Hundreds collected outside the building after the crash and watched police and hospital workers rush the injured to the West Penn Hospital.

TRAFFIC JAMMED

The collapse jammed East End traffic just as the morning rush was approaching. Four ambulances and five police patrols were rushed to the scene and as the first victims were lifted from the wreckage they were rushed to the nearest hospital.

Police and rescue workers raked through the mass of fresh concrete in the basement for additional victims, but none of the men had been buried in the morass.

King George Able To Be Up Part Time

WINDSOR, England, June 5.—(INS.)—King George, who is suffering from an abcess in the right side, is able to sit up a portion of the day, it was announced in the following medical bulletin at noon: "The King had a good night. His general health is satisfactory. His majesty is now able to sit up during a portion of the day. The local trouble is making slow progress." It was signed by H. L. Martyn, Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn. The King sat up in a chair when he received J. Ramsay MacDonald at Windsor Castle.

Governor Roosevelt Sees Wife in Plane

ALBANY, N. Y., June 5.—(INS.)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt returned to Albany today after a six weeks' vacation in Georgia and watched Mrs. Roosevelt take her first airplane ride.

The Governor and Mrs. Roosevelt motored to the Albany airport where the latter christened a new plane The Governor, which has just been put into service by the Consolidated Instrument Company as a "flying laboratory."

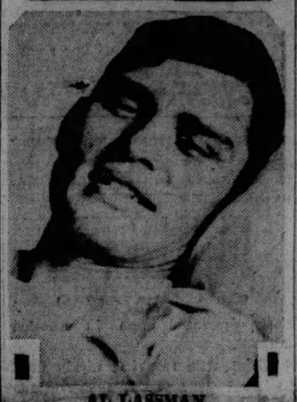
Dream

LEONARD GRANT



AL LASSMAN

Both in hospitals, Grant dreamed his team-mate, Lassman, New York U. captain injured in the Carnegie Tech game last fall in Pittsburgh, had died and as a result his own life was jeopardized.

AUTO HITS VOTE WITNESSES

Although cut and bruised when knocked down by a taxicab while hurrying to Criminal Court this morning, two Stowe Township women refused to remain in a hospital and continued on to court, to testify in the trial of five township election officials charged with election irregularities.

Mrs. Anna Streets, 52, of Woodward avenue, Stowe township, and Mrs. Julia Corliss, 53, of Elberton avenue, former resident of the township, were knocked down by a taxicab at Fifth and Liberty avenues. They were treated at Allegheny General Hospital and continued to court. Mrs. Streets was the principal witness this morning, but Mrs. Corliss was not able to testify. They returned to the hospital at noon.

Mrs. Streets said that during the early morning hours after the polls had closed in the September election, 1927, she saw from her home into the home of Samuel Williams, inspector of the Eighth District. Williams and Elmer Streets, the witness' husband, had the ballot box open before them and they were working on the ballots, she said. Streets was not indicted and Wil-

PAL CHILLED BY DREAM OF DEATH

Grant, His 'Buddy' of Grid, Also Ill, Improves When Told Knife Helped Giant

NEW YORK, June 5.—(AP.)—The brotherhood of the football mighty, welded on frosty afternoons in the roars of packed stadia and the smashing play of grim, perspiring giants, can be just as spectacular and thrilling in another way in the springtime.

Three years ago, two husky youngsters from New England moved in on New York University with the size, speed and ability to set a new standard of tackle play on the hilltop of the rising Violets. One was Al Lassman, a towering six-foot-four mammoth from Cambridge, Mass. The other was Leonard Grant, almost as big and just as formidable, from Dedham, Mass.

They were pals in prep school, inseparable companions in college, room mates, and successive captains of the Violet varsity. "Lass" led the 1928 team and "Fish" Grant was unanimously chosen his successor. When Lassman broke an ankle in his junior year and couldn't defend his intercollegiate boxing championship, Grant pulled on gloves for the first time, carefully absorbed his pal's instructions and kept the title "in the family."

THOUGHT LASSMAN DEAD

Then disaster, and almost death, caught Lassman in the battle with Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh last fall. Grant stayed as close as he could while his captain lay in a coma for months from a serious head injury. Slowly Lassman recovered. Last Saturday a final desperate brain operation was performed to restore the functions of his left arm. But Friday Grant was stricken with appendicitis and hur-

2 FEARED DEAD IN OIL BLAST

BRAINTREE, Mass., June 5.—(INS.)—Bodies of two missing men were sought today in the flame-swept debris which lay in the wake of two terrific explosions in the plant of the Cities Service Refining Company.

Hours after the $500,000 blast, fire departments of four communities had the fire under control, but officials stated that it would be many more hours before a search of the ruins of two big stills could be made.

A score of employes, members of the night force, were injured, four seriously.

The series of blasts, followed by a burst of flame, shook the countryside for miles around.

ERIE, Pa., June 5.—(AP.)—Six persons were injured in an automobile accident here last night. Two sisters, Harriet and Marian Vitron, were hurt most seriously. They are in a hospital. The other four were given first aid treatment.

Golden Shower Rains on Sweepstakes Winners

LONDON, June 5.—A West End London businessman, whose name is not known at present, holds a ticket in the stock exchange on Trigo, winner of the Derby today at Epsom, that will give him about $625,000.

A half interest in the other Trigo ticket in the stock exchange sweepstakes is held by Julian Cann, wealthy Nottingham manufacturer and cricketer. Cann bought his share in the winner's ticket from his wife's aunt, Mrs. Chapman, of London, for about $2,500. The two stock exchanges first prizes total $625,000 each.

W. Barmett, owner of Trigo, and J. Rice, of Belfast, each bought one-eighth of a share on Trigo Monday in the London Stock Exchange sweep for about $2,500 and won about $75,000 each.

A british Army major in Rajputana, drew a ticket on Walter Gay, the horse finishing second, which netted him about $337,500.

A hundred clerks in the office of Ladbrokes, London turf commission agents, drew Trigo in the Baltic Sweep, and will divide about $100,000.

B. Butler, a member of the clerical staff of Amalgamated Motors, of Outtshcorn, Cape province, South Africa, drew one of the Calcutta Sweepstakes tickets on Trigo. Maj. Wells, of Johannesburg, S. A., holds a ticket on Brienz, third place winner, which is good for about $168,750.

G. L. Brill, 26-year-old clothier of Leeds, won second prize in the Calcutta Sweepstakes, having drawn Walter Gay. The prize is about $337,500.

The holder of the eschange sweep ticket on Brienz, which ran third, is James Mackie, employed in the accounts department of the Commercial Cable Company. He won about $160,000.

MACDONALD ACCEPTS JOB OF FORMING BRITISH CABINET

LABOR PARTY HEAD TALKS WITH KING

New Government Personnel Already Selected, Report; Woman May Get Position

LONDON, June 5.—(AP.)—Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor party, victorious in Thursday's polls, at noon today accepted King George's invitation to form a cabinet to replace that of Stanley Baldwin, Conservative premier, who resigned yesterday.

Official announcement of the acceptance was made at Windsor Castle, where King George was ill, a few minutes after the Labor leader had called and left to go back to London.

TALK AN HOUR

He arrived at 11:04 a. m. with his son, Alastair MacDonald, and Lord Arnold. The king's equerry, Col. Seymour, escorted him inside the castle. He remained slightly more than an hour, leaving at 12:18.

It was the second cabinet Mr. MacDonald has been called upon to form, the first being that of more than five years ago, when the Labor party, with the help of the Liberals, was given its first chance at control of the British government.

HAS MADE SELECTION

It was understood that Mr. MacDonald informed the King, during the conference today, of the identity of the selections he has made for the major cabinet posts.

There is great interest in the possibility that one of the new cabinet ministers will be a woman.

MacDonald's immediate elevation to the premiership, earned by the sensational victory of his party at the polls in the general elections last week, was made possible by the resignation of Baldwin, defeated Conservative prime minister, who at one time threatened to contest the Laborite's victory by retaining office and going before the new British Parliament when it assembled for a vote of confidence.

EXPECTS TWO-YEAR RULE

Baldwin, however, decided upon resignation as the most graceful way out of an unpleasant situation. In the ordinary course of events, MacDonald, as his successor, would have been summoned immediately by the King and entrusted with the reins of government, but his majesty's illness made it inadvisable that he undergo the strain of two important political interviews on the same day.

Consequently, MacDonald was summoned to appear before the King today to be accorded the honor he has fought for unceasingly since the Labor party had a brief taste of parliamentary leadership for the first time in 1924.

In that year, the Labor Party, with MacDonald at the helm as premier, remained in office for 10 months, but had not a vestige of power. This year, his party, although lacking a clear majority, will have numerical advantage over its Conservative and Liberal opponents, and MacDonald is hopeful of remaining in office two years.

NEW ELECTION POSSIBLE

This means that if the Liberals, who hold the balance of power, decide to use their vote to oust him from office, he will immediately work for another general election in the hope the people will choose him again, and perhaps accord him a working majority in the House of Commons.

It appears certain that Philip Snowden will be chosen for the important post of chancellor of the exchequer, a position he held in the Labor government of 1924.

2 ATTACK, BEAT CUSTODIAN IN U. S. BUILDING

Capt. Entrekin, Blackjacked By Men He Ejected for Bad Language, Recovering

Capt. George Entrekin, 53, of Brookline, assistant custodian of the Federal Building, today was recovering from an attack by two men who beat him with a blackjack while he was on duty at the building.

Entrekin recognized his assailants as two men he had ejected from the fourth floor corridor a week ago for using improper language in the presence of women and being unable to give a satisfactory reason for being in the building.

On being ejected, one of the men made the threat, "We'll get you yet."

Capt. Entrekin described each of his assailants as about 25 years old. They ran from the scene, leaving Entrekin in possession of the blackjack, which had been brought into play by the first man.

liams, although indicted, was not tried because he turned state's evidence.

TESTIMONY CHECKED

District Attorney Roy T. Clunk said it was impossible for the woman to see into Williams' home, a distance of 400 feet, he believed. He dispatched County Detective Harry Barker to measure the distance. Defense attorneys sent Justice of the Peace J. J. Westwood, of Stowe Township, to accompany the sleuth. Defense counsel say the distance is less than 150 feet.

Yesterday the indicted men denied guilt and put the blame on a rival political faction of the district. The case is being tried before Visiting Judge A. B. Chase, of Clearfield County.

Williams was hit by the testimony of August Weiser, judge of the elections.

Quintilia Recchione, the other inspector; Florence Crawford and Edna Craig, the election board clerks, and George Panno, the overseer, testified. They were followed by other witnesses to substantiate the allegations made to the jury by Attorney Louis Little, for the defense, that Williams and others took possession of the ballot box after the votes had been counted late on election night.

GETS 90 DAYS

Isaac Acle, a grocer, was sentenced to 90 days in jail by Judge George V. Moore today in Criminal Court for conspiracy in the Third Ward election frauds.

Four other defendants changed their pleas from not guilty to guilty of negligence and were paroled for six months. They are William H. Gabriel and William Eassey, inspectors, and Michael Colosinno and John Martin, clerks.

After pleading not guilty and hearing part of the testimony against them, five members of the election board of the Eleventh District, Third Ward, changed their plea to that of negligence.

Samuel Goldberg, judge of election, was fined $50 and was paroled for six months. Milton Zuelstein and Leonard Meyers, inspectors, and Thomas Metz and Max Levinthal, clerks, were paroled for six months.

Four members of the election board, Twenty-second district, Third Ward, changed their pleas to guilty of negligence at the November election, 1926, and were fined $25 each and paroled for six months. They were John Cunningham, judge, and Albert Terry, Louis Davidsoon and Samuel Mattes, clerks.

STUDENTS HURT BY VESUVIUS LAVA FLOW

International News Service.

NAPLES, June 5.—A number of university students, caught in an outburst of molten lava from the new craters of Mount Vesuvius, while watching the eruption, were injured today.

A flaming river of destruction still is pouring from the mountain side. The flow of laval towards Avino has increased. It is encircling the deserted village of Terzigno, which is again menaced with destruction.

Signor Malladra, director of Vesuvius Observatory, said it was impossible to foresee that the eruption would develop into great spurts of molten rock and cinders from the crater, as though coming from a fountain. The outburst is similar to the eruptions of 1810 and 1822, which were particularly destructive.

LAVA FLOW LESSENS

NAPLES, Italy, June 5.—(AP.)—Lava waves which have been threatening to engulf villages around Mt. Vesuvius were stated by the Vesuvian Observatory late today to have begun diminishing.

The traces left by the strong eruption of the past two days became visible. It was said that the eruptive cone, already partially reconstructed, was still bombarding the "Valley of Hell" with great hot stones and liquid fire.

STRONG EXPLOSIONS

NAPLES, June 5.—(AP.)—An official Vesuvius Observatory communique today described the activity of the volcano during the night.

"All night," the communique said, "there were marked very strong explosions with emission of lava from the mouth of the small cone.

"Activity was augmented from midnight until 1 a. m. From 3:45 a. m. to 4:30 a. m. imposing columns of smoke rose to over 1,500 feet in height.

"Due to inundation by lava of the whole plateau of the greater crater it has been transformed into a sea of fire. It is dangerous to approach the crater's edges."

DEBENTURE FARM AID DROPPED

Senate and House Conferees Agree on New Relief Act With $500,000,000 Fund

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A new farm relief act with the export debenture plan eliminated but creating a $500,000,000 federal farm board for the relief of agriculture, was approved today by the Senate and House conferees, ending a three-week conference row.

The debenture which the Senate added to the bill over the opposition of President Hoover, but which the House refused to consider, was stricken from the measure by a vote of eight to two. The five House members and three senators, McNary (Rep.), of Oregon; Capper (Rep.), of Kansas, and Ransdell (Dem.), of Louisiana, voted to eliminate the debenture. Senators Norris (Rep.), of Nebraska, and Smith (Dem.), of South Carolina, voted to retain it.

The bill as finally approved by the conferees would establish a federal farm board of nine members, including the secretary of agriculture, to direct the government's agricultural relief operations. Giant stabilization corporations would be created to handle the surplus and to market each major crop. A $500,000,000 government revolving fund would be placed at the disposal of the farm board.

The compromise bill will be reported to the House tomorrow and acted upon Friday. Administration leaders predicted its immediate ratification by the House. It then will go to the Senate where it will be called up at once, but owing to the Democratic-insurgent demand for inclusion of the debenture a decision may not be reached until next week. Republican leaders, however, predicted the bill would be sent to the White House for President Hoover's signature early next week.

As finally approved, the bill was termed the "agricultrual marketing act.

riedly operated upon in another hospital.

"Fish" was recoving nicely until he heard of Lassman's operation. Yesterday he dropped into troubled sleep and awoke with a temperature of 104.

"I've had a terrible experience," he told the nurse as he tossed on his cot. "Lass is dead. I just saw him die. They couldn't save him, it was awful."

Doctors fought with the fever, but Grant was very ill and rapidly getting worse. Yet just at that time Dr. Frederick Tilney, in charge of Lassman's case, called the Associated Press to say that something of a surgical miracle had happened to his patient.

OPERATION SUCCESS

"We are holding our breaths," Dr. Tilney said, "but the symptoms have disappeared from Lassman's arm. The operation seems to have done the trick. Of course we can't be sure for another week, but it seems as though the big fellow has won out."

Then Grant's nurse called the Associated Press, explained the situation and asked if some reassuring information couldn't be given the patient. He couldn't be convinced his dream wasn't true.

A personal visit, almost an hour's persuasion, and the taut, frightened look left Grant's face.

"I guess I was wrong," he said, and relaxed, tired out. He fell asleep and the temperature dropped. Both patients now are doing nicely.

MISSING PISTOL ISSUE IN TRIAL

Patrolman James L. Shaw, third Pittsburgh policeman to face a murder charge in Criminal Court within a month, taking the witness stand in his own defense, testified that he had not fired the shots that killed Charner Dee, Negro, of 24 Porter street, until after Dee pointed a revolver at him and threatened to shoot.

Defense witnesses today are attempting to show by circumstantial evidence what became of the dead man's revolver. It never was found, but the allegation is that another Negro had roomed with Dee and had disappeared the day of the killing. Attorney Harry A. Diamond, defense counsel, told the jury that he would show this man disarmed Dee and took the gun away with him.

The defense got under way after six commonwealth witnesses had testified that Shaw tried to arrest Dee after breaking up a dice game.

Baptist Association Will Meet Thursday

Four hundred delegates are expected to attend the annual convention of the Pittsburgh Baptist Association in the First Baptist Church, Third avenue, Tarentum, Thursday and Friday. The Rev. W. E. Clark, Pittsburgh, will be the moderator.

500,000 New Buyers Won by Newspapers

NEW YORK, June 5.—(INS.)—Five hundred thousand new customers were obtained in the course of two weeks through the use of newspaper advertising by the United Cigar Stores, it was announced today.

A. C. Allen, executive vice president of United, said the check-up was conservative and followed announcement of price reductions. Allen said:

"It indicates the value of newspaper advertising in comparison with all other forms of merchandising."

'Bitters' Figures In Youth's Killing

Bridgeville Raid Yields Stills, Rum

Two large stills and quantities of mash and moonshine, were seized last night by prohibition agents who raided two houses in Bluff street, Bridgeville. The agents found a 100-gallon still, three 100-gallon vats of mash and several gallons of moonshine in one house, and a 300-gallon still in another. Joseph Sanna, 35, was arrested.

Aderholt Succeeds Snook at Atlanta

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(INS.)—A. C. Aderholt, who has been in charge of Atlanta penitentiary since the resignation of John W. Snook, was today appointed warden of the institution.

Aderholt has been in government prison service for 22 years and has been assistant warden at Atlanta for the last two years.

Missionary Killed By Chinese Bandits

READING, Pa., June 5.—(AP.)—A letter received by the Very Rev. John Dicks, superior of the Sacred Heart Monastery here, says that the Rev. Joseph Winkelmann, a missionary attached to the monastery before going to China, has been killed by bandits. The letter came from the Rev. Francis Wesselman, of the same order, and was mailed in Kweichow, China.

BURKE HINTED G. O. P. CHIEF

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—A new chairman will guide the Republican National Committee through the approaching campaign, Dr. Hubert Work, who accepted the chairmanship last June to conduct the Hoover campaign, will call a meeting of the committee early in the fall to submit his resignation and discuss plans for the new campaign.

Dr. Work's intention has been made known to President Hoover and members of the committee in a letter which disclosed that he had prepared to resign at the committee's meeting March 5, but had been dissuaded.

Among those mentioned in political circles as likely to succeed Dr. Work was Secretary James W. Good of the War Department.

James Francis Burke, committee counselor and close friend of President Hoover, who has figured prominently in the administration's efforts to straighten out patronage tangles, was another whose name figured in the gossip as a probable successor to the chairman, and a third was Ralph Williams, of Oregon, now a vice chairman.

Rumors that he would succeed Dr. Hubert Work as Republican national chairman were denied today by James Francis Burke, general counsel for the national organization. Dr. Work's resignation was announced yesterday. Mr. Burke said that reports of his succeeding Dr. Work were without foundation, and that he felt was as useful in his present position as general counsel.

"When the National Committee is called together to name a successor, President Hoover's wishes will, no doubt, be paramount, as this is the rule of courtesy that has always prevailed," Mr. Burke said.

Sharon Properties Sold to Get Taxes

SHARON, Pa., June 5.—Twenty-four properties were sold at public sale to satisfy tax claims of the city. One lot in Walnut street was sold for $14, the amount of taxes.

FLAG WINNERS AT WEST POINT

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 5.—Yesterday was by far the biggest day in the experience of the 36 flag champions and their escorts on the patriotic pilgrimage that they are making under the auspices of the United States Flag Association. The highlight of the program was the champions' visit to West Point Military Academy.

At West Point the champions were received by Col. W. K. Wilson, executive officer and acting superintendent, in the absence of Col. R. C. Richardson, commandant. Their stay at the Academy will terminate today after the party has seen the West Point horse show.

FIRE RAZES OLD N. Y. THEATER

NEW YORK, June 5.—(INS.)—One of the worst fires in years in the downtown district destroyed the 150-year-old Thalia Theater, at 46-50 Bowery, early today.

The flames took on such proportions that the entire district was threatened and every piece of apparatus in the lower part of the city was called out by five alarms.

The power was shut off on the Third avenue elevated line and the firemen fought the conflagration by dragging hose lines onto the structure.

Third-Floor Rubbish Fire

Firemen were called out today to extinguish a rubbish fire on the third floor of a building at 725 Fifth avenue. The fire originated beneath a stairway in the apartment of Merritt Whitlow, Negro. Damage was estimated at $25.

BROWN STARTS TERM SOON

Federal officials today said they expected Guy W. Brown, former state senator and banker, of Fayette County, to surrender to them and be taken to the Atlanta penitentiary within a few days.

He was found guilty February 16, in Federal Court, of misapplication of about $130,000 of the funds of the Fayette City National Bank and the First National Bank of Webster, and May 7 was sentenced to serve three years in the Federal prison at Atlanta.

MINE TROPHY TO MANSFIELD

Mansfield mine first aid team from Carnegie won the Pittsburgh Coal Company trophy and a trip to Kansas City in the fall to represent the Pittsburgh district in the International Safety Meet in a victory over five other Pittsburgh Coal teams at Library last night.

The boys' trophy for the Pittsburgh Coal Company was carried off by the Euclid team from Fitzhanning, Pa., and honors in the girls' events were won by Banning No. 1 team.

The safety meet was on the athletic field at Montour No. 10 at Library. Six teams of men, survivors in elimination contests, competed on one side of the field, while three boys' teams and three girls' teams competed on the other.

Drills consisted of four problems in a list of 14.

Mine safety men, Red Cross workers and mine officials acted as judges. A. C. McDowell acted as referee.

Man Falls Dead Mowing His Lawn

Joseph Hurley, 74, of 3664 Middletown road, fell dead while mowing the lawn in front of his home late yesterday. A physician attributed death to heart disease.

Sumner Fess, Senator's Son, Gangster Target

HAMILTON, O., June 5.—(AP.)—C. Sumner Fess, New York, son of Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, stopped at Hamilton police headquarters last night on his way to Cincinnati and reported that two shots had been fired at him from a passing automobile when he reached the approach of the bridge over Gregory Creek, between Hamilton and Middletown.

Fess was alone. He had checked the speed of his machine to make a sharp turn onto the bridge when he heard the shots and the bullets whizzed past his head. He was uninjured. Hamilton police could suggest no motive, nor could Fess.

Police here said the machine might have been mistaken for that of a gangster and declared they believed the shooting was done by bootleggers who recently have killed several persons in Hamilton.

Fess continued on his way after making the report.

INDUSTRIES IN DISTRICT NEAR PEAK

Federal Reserve Bank Gives Figures to Show Workers Have Gained Much in Year

The Pittsburgh district payroll increased $6,000,000 in May as compared with May one year ago, workers receiving $39,000,000 against $33,000,000 in 1928, according to estimates of the Federal Reserve Bank.

J. C. Nevin, managing director of the Pittsburgh branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, was agreeably surprised today, when he received the figures.

Asked what the increase meant, he said it indicated that more men are employed in the mills, factories and industrial establishments generally than in May, 1928.

While there is no accurate method of determining just what payrolls amount to in various districts, the system employed by the Federal Reserve is said to be such that the sum can be reasonably figured. The largest increase came from such sections as McKeesport, Duquesne, Braddock, Homestead, East Pittsburgh and upper Ohio River districts.

The increase for May shows that the payrolls of the district rose nearly 10 per cent as compared with April. For that month there was an increase of nearly 10 per cent over April of last year, the April payroll for 1929 amounting to $36,000,000.

SYRIA ELEPHANT HIT OF PARADE

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—(AP.)—Syria Temple, of Pittsburgh, with a shuffling elephant and caliph astride at the head of its section of the Shriners' parade, was the "hit" of the day. It drew rounds of applause from the crowd and much good feeling from news photographers when the elephant consented to halt before the reviewing stand and perform on its hind legs, much to the disconcern of its rider.

The Syria Temple Oriental Band, first to appear in the line of march and playing weird Oriental music was loudly acclaimed.

Six thousand Shriners garbed in all the colors of the rainbow surged through sunlit streets in the majestic parade to the Coliseum to open the fifty-fifth annual convention.

In columns extending 30 blocks, the fun makers of Free Masonery, with banners flying, thrilled the throngs of spectators who banked the avenue of march 10 rows deep.

A modern Arabia in all its glory had been transplanted into the heart of this Southern California metropolis, and the thousands who came to watch roared the visitors a stirring welcome.

The parade swept every programed event of the crowded schedule to the sidelines, despite the fact that the serious business of electing a mayor faced Los Angeles.

Woman, 71, and Youth Held in Murder Case

MACON, Ga., June 5.—(INS.)—Mrs. Sarah Powers and Earl Manchester were indicted by the Bibb County Grand Jury today for the death of James Parks, slain, it was alleged, for the $14,000 insurance Mrs. Powers held on his life. Manchester, 21, was charged with the murder. Mrs. Powers, 71-year-old boarding house proprietor, was charged with being accessory before the fact. Either charge can carry the death penalty.

Structural Strike Ended in Chicago

CHICAGO, June 5.—(INS.)—An agreement signed today ended a strike of structural iron workers and cleared the way for immediate resumption of construction work here aggregating $200,000,000.

Under a compromise contract the workers will receive $13 a day. The former scale was $12 and they demanded $14. The strike began last Saturday.

Convict Shot, Three Escape Ohio Prison

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—(AP.)—One convict was shot and seriously wounded and three others escaped in a break for freedom from the Junction City brick plant of Ohio Penitentiary yesterday. The wounded prisoner is Stanley Starr, 20, of Cuyahoga County. Those who escaped are Henry Schara, 19; Ray Crooks, 31, and Clarence Ragland, 24.

Enforcement Body To Use Nine Rooms

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—Permanent quarters of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement have been arranged, to consist of nine large rooms in a new local office structure.

Additional space is expected to be needed after hearings are under way. The commission is scheduled to begin its inquiry June 6.

WHERE WORKER TOPPLED

When their scaffold hook pulled the coping loose atop this building, Irwin avenue and Jackson street, North Side, one workman escaped injury and George Smith was knocked from the scaffold to the sidewalk by a shower of bricks. Acid with which he was cleaning the building spilled upon Smith and seriously burned him.

BALM SHRINKS, ESTATE SHOWS

The $30,000 which the late Henry Denniston, Swissvale millionaire recluse, paid to Nettie M. Richardson as balm for a disappointed love, was set once more before the public eye today in shrunken form—$1,800.

Miss Richardson's estate consists of just that, it was learned today when letters of administration were taken out by her mother, Mrs. Melzena Richardson, of Coraopolis.

Elderly Miss Richardson met aged Henry Denniston several years before his death about five years ago. The outcome of that meeting was a suit for breach of promise. He had promised to marry her, Miss Richardson charged, and she won a verdict for $170,000.

She settled for $30,000.

PLAN VACATION SCHOOLS

Sixteen speakers were being heard today in the closing sessions of the ninth annual institute for vacation church school workers in the Smithfield Evangelical Protestant Church.

The institute, which opeend Monday, laid plans for conducting vacation schools throughout the county this summer. It is held under auspices of the Pittsburgh Council of Churches and the Allegheny County Sabbath School Association.

Today's program included meetings covering all classes of work, with two general assemblies. The committee in charge included the Rev. Dr. James E. Detweiler, chairman; the Rev. Dr. J. Kirkwood Craig, secretary; the Rev. Dr. N. C. Millliron, the Rev. A. J. R. Schumaker, dean; H. E. Carmack, Edward T. Crowder, the Rev. Henry E. Krause, Henry E. Cole, Mrs. John M. Bailey, Prof. Frank M. McKibben, Vernon R. Covell and the Rev. Homer C. Renton.

STORM AGAINST SPECULATION RIPS SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—A general outburst against "the orgy of speculation" in the stock markets occurred yesterday in the Senate with the many critics prescribing almost as many different remedies for the situation.

The Federal Reserve Board was singled out especially for attacks but President Hoover, Calvin Coolidge and various Government officials also came in for condemnation.

FOR STOCK TAX

Investigations, a tax on stock market speculations, raising of the rediscount rate and amendment of the Federal Reserve Act were advanced as means of checking the flow of billions of dollars through the market.

Senator Glass announced he would propose as an amendment to the pending tariff bill a five per cent tax on stock transactions which were held for less than 60 days. He announced he would favor repeal of the provision in the Federal Reserve Act allowing loans on United States bonds for 15 days.

Senator Couzens contended a raising of the rediscount rate by the Federal Reserve Board would have served to check the flow of money into the stock market.

COOLIDGE CENSURED

Senator King, (Dem.) of Utah, said Calvin Coolidge while President had "expressed approval, certainly not disapproval, of the large amount then utilized, nearly four billion dollars, for stock gambling purposes."

The debate preceded passage of an administration bill authorizing a new form of short term securities by the Government to be sold at a discount rather than on an interest bearing basis. Senator Couzens forced an amendment in the bill already passed by the House, to eliminate a provision authorizing an exemption from taxation of the capital gains tax of holders of the securities. The measure now will be returned to the House for consideration of the Couzens modification.

BAKEWELL ASKS CHILD'S RETURN

BOSTON, June 5.—(INS.)—Petition for a writ of habeas corpus seeking the return to Sewickley Academy of 6-year-old Barbara Ann Bakewell has been filed in Supreme Court by attorneys for Benjamin Bakewell, wealthy resident of Sewickley, Pa.

In the petition, Bakewell charged that his wife, Mrs. Estelle Dunn Bakewell, daughter of a well-known automobile tire manufacturer of Pittsburgh, had, without the consent of the father, removed Barbara to Massachusetts—to the Bakewell summer home at Hyannisport on Cape Cod and to the present residence of Mrs. Bakewell in Wellesley.

After hearing arguments yesterday decision was reserved.

Benjamin P. Bakewell's residence is at 13 Thorn street, Sewickley. He was said to be out of the city today, and it was not known when he would return. Bakewell is secretary of Duquesne Steel Foundry Company.

Man Found Dazed, Lying in Street

Oakland police today were trying to identify a man about 45 who was found lying in the street in front of 5130 Center avenue late last night. At the Homeopathic Hospital it was said he was in a dazed condition. He talked incoherently and gave several addresses, which police said proved to be fictitious.

KDKA PLANNING MORE POWER, DEALERS HEAR

By DARRELL MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

CHICAGO, June 5.—An increase of power to 200,000 watts for KDKA for experimental purposes, the broadcast of London, Paris and Berlin programs in Pittsburgh by October 1; the introduction of several novel cabinets by manufacturers, and a plea by WENR for more time on the air were among highlights discussed today by thousands of radio dealers attending the sixth annual convention of the Radio Manufacturers' Association here.

It was learned that KDKA now is planning a transmitter with a capacity of 200,000 watts. There was much speculation as to what effect this tremendous power would have on reception in and around the city.

ARRANGES RELAYS

Another startling bit of news was the report that C. W. Horn, formerly of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, had returned home from Europe, where he made arrangements to relay programs from Paris, Berlin and London direct to listeners in the United States over the National Broadcasting Company network. Cafe music from Berlin, Follies Bergere from Paris, and the choice bits of London dances will be available to American listeners by October 1, according to P. H. W. Dixon, of the NBC. KDKA and WCAE will have the feature in Pittsburgh.

The NBC has gone in for television, but nothing will be undertaken on a nation-wide scale for at least three years, Mr. Dixon stated.

ASK MORE POWER

More than 25 radio editors from all parts of the country signed petitions for an increase in the power and time of WENR, the second most popular station outside Pittsburgh. Frank D. Scott, a former congressman from Michigan, heard the plea of WENR through Ben Pratt, program director, and promised cooperation at the hearing which will be held soon before the Federal Radio Commission in Washington.

W. H. Richman of the General Radio Company, New York, will be the next president of the Radio Manufacturers' Association, it was indicated in a poll of delegates.

PITTSBURGHERS THERE

Several Pittsburghers attended the banquet of the Radio Foresters Tuesday night in the Stevens Hotel, where the major part of the million dollar display of sets is being shown. They were the guests of W. H. Hetznecker. Among those at the Pittsburgh tables were Claude Urban, C. R. Anderson, M. J. Buck, R. J. Woodruff, Walter V. Berry, J. O. Olsen, C. O. Goulding, A. J. Buzzard, Charles Shotwell, Frank E. Hanshaw, M. V. Mansfield, H. R. Kirk and Ralph Friday.

Pittsburghers who registered today were Elmer Hamburg and James A. Simpson. Although only about 60 Pittsburghers are registered at the show there are close to 200 in this throng of 20,000 who confine their wanderings to three hotels inside a city block.

Gangsters May Have Rifle Supply Cut

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—A bill directed at gangster warfare, making it unlawful to transport machine guns and automatic rifles in interstate commerce, has been introduced by Representative Fish, Republican, New York.

Heavy penalties of fines up to $5,000 and five years' imprisonment or both would be imposed on persons convicted of sending or receiving such weapons.

Elks Take Crippled War Vets to Circus

Sixty-five crippled World War veterans yesterday were guests of Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11, B. P. O. Elks, at the Barnum & Bailey circus. The veterans were taken to the tented city in automobiles under direction of John A. Freyvogle, exalted ruler, and Heber McDowell, chairman of the social and welfare committee of the lodge.

PITT'S SENIORS CROWN QUEEN

Senior girls at the University of Pittsburgh today crowned their Queen of the May. With much pomp and ceremony, including a procession from State Hall to the Heinz House, Miss Mabel DeForest, this year's queen, was crowned. Two hundred girls participated in the ceremonies and, after the coronation, all remained for the senior breakfast at Heinz House.

The May Queen, surrounded by her court, headed the procession, buglers and flower girls leading the way. Miss Lottie Reich as Alma Mater, carried the book of knowledge. Miss Betty Clark represented Truth, and Winifred McClure represented Valor. Three former May queens also were in the procession.

At the exercises in Heinz House, Miss DeForest was crowned by Miss McClure. A program of speaking followed. The speakers were Miss Ruth Mattison, last year's queen; Katherine Bainbridge, president of the senior class; Mary Ray, chairman of the social committee of the Women's Self-Government Association; Miss Helen Geyer, a member of the faculty, and Miss Anna Schaab Robb, representing the alumni association.

Suit Asks $100,000 Fee From Inventor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—(AP.)—George Campbell Carson, former prosecutor, who recently settled with several large copper smelting and refining companies after years of litigation over their alleged infringement of a patent of his, was sued yesterday by Antone Pare, one of his attorneys, for $100,000.

Pare asserted that much was due him for services rendered to Carson in obtaining patents for the inventions which caused the suits against the copper companies. Settlements by the companies were said to run into the millions. The exact total was never disclosed.

Sewickley Man Leaves $20,000

An estate valued at $20,000 was disposed of today in the will of Forney A. Reeves, of Sewickley. The will directs that the estate be divided among his wife and children.

Harvey C. Sheaff, of 2934 Mattern avenue, Dormont, disposes of an estate valued at $16,000 in his will probated today. Bequests of $500 each are made to William L. Sheaff and Henry A. Sheaff, brothers, and the remainder is to go to his wife, Katherine D. Sheaff. At her death the estate will go to a daughter, Barbara Sheaff.

Wife's Sister Hints Literary Career For Tunney

HARTFORD, Conn., June 5.—(AP.)—A possible literary career for Gene Tunney was predicted today by Mrs. Edwin S. Dewing, sister of the former champion's wife, the former Polly Lauder, of Greenwich. Mrs. Dewing returned to West Hartford today after a two-months' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Tunney at Brioni, Italy.

"He is, of course, very much interested in literature and spends a great deal of his time reading," said Mrs. Dewing. "It may be that some day he will put something down that he thinks is good and show it to a publisher.

"But he wouldn't care to do any writing unless it is good. He is the type of man who doesn't care to do anything unless he does it well."

SCHOYER DEATH HELD ACCIDENT

CINCINNATI, O., June 5.—(AP.)—Dr. Joseph Curlis, coroner of Clermont County, last night returned a verdict of accidental death after an inquest over the body of Mrs. Lucy B. Schoyer, 60, widow of a prominent Pittsburgh attorney, one of three persons killed in a bus and automobile crash near Batavia, O., Monday night. The verdict held no one responsible.

All of the three killed were passengers on a bus which locked wheels with an automobile driven by the coroner's son, Edward Curlis, as the latter attempted to drive past it on a hill while going in the same direction as the larger vehicle.

Dr. Curlis said he would hold an inquest today into the deaths of Dr. and Mrs. Edward C. Ireton, of Marathon, the other victims.

Flier Dies in Fire After Plane Crashes

OAKLAND, Cal., June 5.—(AP.)—David Jennings Baird, Jr., 23, was burned to death last night when his plane went into a nose dive, crashed and caught fire at the western end of the Oakland airport. He was flying alone. All efforts to rescue him from the burning wreckage were futile.

TWO FACE QUIZ IN SHOOTING

County detectives today were to quiz Jack Delengi, 38, and Joe Emmy, both of Bridgeville, in connection with the shooting yesterday of Teddy Roberts, 28, alleged Bridgeville racketeer. He is in the City Hospital at Mayview.

Although Roberts told detectives he was shot when he dropped a revolver, the fact that the revolver was found in his home a half mile from a store room where he is alleged to have been wounded, disproved his story, the officers said.

Emmy was arrested several weeks ago after a still was alleged to have been found on his farm near Bridgeville. His trial had been set for today. The detectives said they learned that Delengi and Roberts were in the store room at the time of the shooting, arguing over how the expenses of Emmy's trial should be divided. Emmy was said to have been in the street in front of the place at the time.

NEW PARLEY ON WAR DEBT EXPECTED

International Conference To Study Application of Reparations Terms Likely

PARIS, June 5.—(AP.)—Experts on reparations, preparing today to adjourn one four-months'-long conference, foresaw another international meeting within two or three months to study application of the reparations agreement they have just concluded.

This meeting would be merely a sequel to the conference just ended and would compare with that of August, 1924, when representatives of the governments concerned met to study application of the Dawes plan. The suggestion has been made that it might well take place in London, possibly at the end of July, although others favor awaiting ratification of the accord just reached.

GET REPORT SOON

Each of the governments will be in possession of the conference report, which will be principally recommendations by the experts, by the end of the week and can begin studying it then with a view to deciding what action will be taken.

Completion of the text of the report was being rushed through today and tomorrow so as to have it ready without fail for signature at least by noon Friday. The work was in the hands of three sub-committees, each handling different phases of the ponderous task just finished by the experts.

LAUDED BY HOOVER

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—President Hoover and Secretary Stimson last night dispatched to the American embassy in Paris their congratulations to Owen D. Young, J. P. Morgan, Thomas N. Perkins and Thomas W. Lamot, American reparations experts, congratulating them upon the success of their work in devising a plan for the payment of the German World War indemnity.

CIRCUS GLAMOR LURES 5 AWAY

The glamor of circus and carnival life has lured a North Side girl and four out-of-town boys from home, the Missing Persons Bureau was notified today.

Bernice Davis, 17, of 1430 Boyle street, left with the Johnny Jones Exposition when it pulled out Saturday after two weeks at the old Exposition grounds, parents of the girl informed police. An effort will be made to get in touch with the carnival owners.

Donald Fleming, 14, and Charles Piper, 15, of Grove City, came to Pittsburgh to join the circus, police here were advised. They ran away from home Sunday.

Zigmund Zulkowski, 19, and Joseph Gudachefski, 15, of Plymouth, Pa., also caught the circus fever and left home, their parents notified the Missing Persons Bureau, in asking that search be made for the boys.

Police also were asked to hunt Alfred Lodge, 20, of 2 Greeley street, by his mother, Mrs. Sarah Lodge. She received a letter from him yesterday, she said, saying he was going to leave home.

Yeggs Crack Safe In East End Store

Knocking the hinges from the safe in the Donahoe's store at 5629 Fifth avenue early today, thieves ransacked the safe, but as far as can be learned, they failed to obtain any loot. Thieves also ransacked the P. H. Butler chain store at 6842 Frankstown avenue, detectives reported. A rear window was jimmied and the store ransacked. It is not known whether anything was stolen.

Friends to Honor Lyon, Veteran Attorney

Portrait by Charles Heberer

WALTER LYON

This oil painting by Charles Heberer will be presented to Walter Lyon, now 76, by friends and admirers at a testimonial dinner tonight.

One hundred friends and admirers will sit down to dinner tonight in the Union Club with Walter Lyon, veteran lawyer, former lieutenant governor and twice United States district attorney here. An oil painting of the honor guest will be presented by James Francis Burke, whose address, with that of Judge J. A. Evans, will constitute the speechmaking.

It had been planned to hold the dinner a year ago on the occasion of Mr. Lyon's seventy-fifth birthday, but postponement was necessary. At tonight's dinner there will be Mayor Charles Kline, Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, Senator Max G. Leslie, R. R. Quay, Judges Evans and George B. Moore and leaders of the business, financial and judicial life of the city.

Mr. Lyon, born in Shaler Township in 1853, taught school for five years while studying law. He was appointed United States district attorney in 1889, resigning in 1893 when elected state senator to fill the unexpired term of the late John N. Neeb. In 1894 he was elected lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania and served until 1899, after which he resumed private practice. In 1921 he was again appointed United States district attorney and served four years.

FLOWER MART JUNE 18

The annual flower market of the Civic Club of Allegheny County will be held in William Penn way between the Philadelphia Company Building and the Nixon Theater on June 18—an exceptionally opportune time, in the opinion of Miss Marie Dermitt, secretary of the club, because there will be a convention of iron and steel electrical engineers in Pittsburgh that week, and the flower display will show the thousands of visitors that the city is interested in beauty as well as commerce and industry.

Traffic will be barred from William Penn way at the point designated on June 17 and 18, and the street transformed into a garden with floral decorations of every description, donated by florists and others.

In addition to flowers and potted plants, garden tools, pillows, sandwiches, cake, coffee, cold drinks and ice cream will be sold, and the proceeds devoted to civic purposes.

It is hoped that besides enabling the Civic Club to raise a fund with which to carry on its activities the flower market will stimulate many Pittsburghers to add to the beauty of their homes and lawns by planting flowers.

CHARTER RALLY AT EDGEWOOD

Another community meeting is scheduled for tonight by the citizens committee working in the interests of the Metropolitan charter. The meeting scheduled for the Edgewood High School, will be similar to meetings held in Bethel Township and Ross Township last night. Joseph T. Miller, chairman of the Metropolitan Plan Commission, and Charles A. Lewis, borough solicitor, of Clairton, will be the speakers.

Last night William E. Best, of Dormont, spoke at a meeting in Bethel Township and Representatives Louis W. Hagmaier, of Aspinwall, addressed a gathering in the Samuel Hamilton school, Ross Township. Both speakers outlined the benefits the small municipalities would receive through the charter.

Benjamin Page, president of the Pennsylvania Trust Company, gave his support to the charter in a statement issued yesterday. Mr. Page was warm in his praise for the special assessment feature of the charter. Under this clause, those who benefit will pay for improvements and this, according to Mr. Page, "is the only fair way."

Bride, 20, Enters Plea for Alimony

Mrs. Willa Knicely Rice, 20, of 3855 Brighton road, filed a petition in Common Pleas Court asking for alimony pending determination of the divorce action of her husband, W. Walter Rice, of the Fort Pitt Hotel. The husband has charged her with cruel and barbarous treatment.

Mrs. Rice alleged that notice of the suit was served on her while she was confined in the Municipal Hospital with scarlet fever, to which institution her husband had sent her. She says he owns real estate and business properties and draws a salary of $400 monthly as traveling sales manager for a candy company.

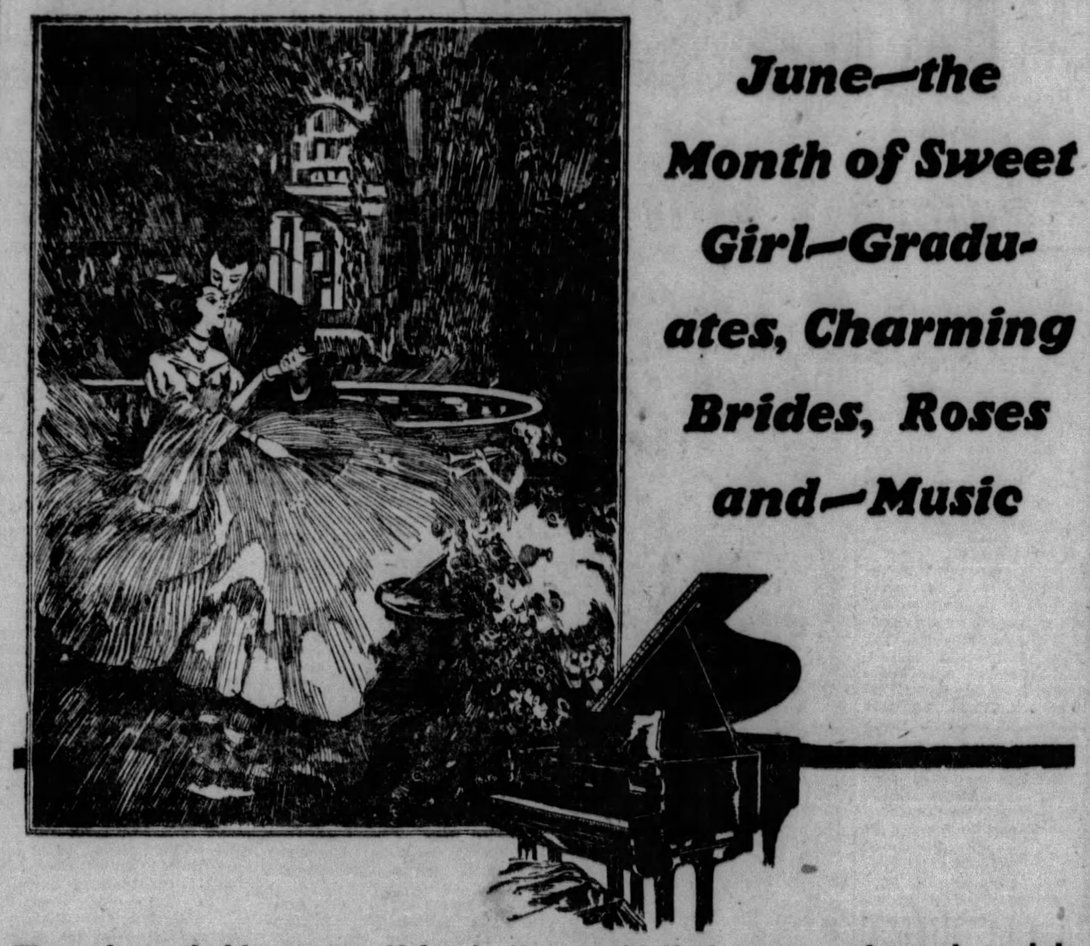
"Grand Piano Month"



June—the Month of Sweet Girl—Graduates, Charming Brides, Roses and—Music

There is probably no one thing in the world that represents such a rich combination of beauty, utility and genuine loveliness as a GRAND PIANO. Not only does it bring entertainment, beauty, distinction, warmth and color into the home, but for this very reason it is the most charming, most useful, most satisfying and most appreciated of all gifts.

June of all the months of the year seems to be the ideal month in which to purchase a Grand Piano, and with this in mind we have this year filled our big Piano Salon with the finest, most complete assortment of Grand Pianos ever shown in Pittsburgh. These are all nationally advertised makes, brand new, right from the factories, representing the latest creations in beautiful cabinet work and tone production. Here and only here will you find such famous makes as the—HARDMAN, with its 83 years of masterly craftsmanship—the EVERETT, finer than ever before in its 50 years of honorable distinction—the SCHAEFFER, which was awarded the Medal of Honor at the Paris Exposition in 1878—the celebrated SOHMER, A. B. Chase and others. You will see these pianos here in beautifully figured mahogany and walnut woods, in rich, mellow art finishes and in exquisite period as well as conventional designs. Obviously we cannot describe nor price these pianos individually in this limited space, but will have to be content in stating that we can supply you with new grands ranging from

Every piano is unconditionally guaranteed—your old piano will be taken in exchange as part payment at a liberal allowance and easy monthly terms to suit your convenience granted on the balance.

Bargains in Reconditioned Pianos

Having closed a chain of five big retail stores in West Virginia and Ohio, we are in position to offer you wonderful values at this time in used and demonstrator pianos, every one reconditioned in our shops and every one fully guaranteed with a YEAR'S EXCHANGE PRIVILEGE without the loss of one single dollar of cash paid.

YOUNG BUILDER GETS 4TH PRIZE

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—James B. Quinlan, winner of the fourth prize of $1,000 in the Hearst temperance contest, has given deep thought to the prohibition question for some years, and was able to express his ideas in a strikingly convincing style.

He lives at 1504 West Ramona boulevard, Alhambra.

He is a native of Missouri, but since his early childhood has lived in four or more states, and been in four universities, having to hop from one to another as his parents progressed westward.

He was a year at Kansas University, then two years in Colorado University, a year in the University of Arizona, and finally put in his four years and graduated from Stanford two years ago.

DECIDED IDEAS ON LAW

He took the course of political science at Stanford and when he stepped into the world he followed his father's example and became a house building contractor.

You can see his work all about Alhambra and neighboring places.

From the time he began to think for himself he has held very decided ideas as to the present prohibition law, and has followed current thought and studied the various methods of dealing with that question.

But never before this occasion has he sought to give public form to his conclusions.

In fact he had never attempted to write professionally, though at all his colleges he was fond of composition, and his efforts in that line, were creditable.

But he had given thought to this particular subject, and by the result he has attained, he proves that he thinks well, and can clearly say what he does think.

ATTRACTIVE TYPE

In fact he is a most attractive type of a brain-trained American young man. University schooled, jumping at once into an exigent practical vocation, and now is a home town boy who has made good in a national contest.

He is 28, married and a 2-year-old girl is the initial of the Quinlan, Jr., family record.

He's a mighty good player of baseball, an honest, capable builder, a citizen whose interest is deep in all matters affecting his fellow men and his country.

The sort of young fellow that makes you know, if he contracts to build a house for you, that it will be constructed according to specifications with no skimping of nails, and no shortage of lime in the plaster.

He received a bit over a dollar a word for his first effort as a writer. His essay contained just 991 words.

WINS FOURTH PRIZE

JAMES B. QUINLAN, JR.

Mr. Quinlan, Jr., Alhambra, Cal., winner of the fourth prize in the Hearst Temperance Prize Contest.

Motorcycles Crash In Contest, 2 Hurt

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., June 5.—Ralph Nippert, 16, and Kenneth Burgess, 17, Oak Hill, were injured when their motorcycles collided during a hill-climbing contest on Oak Hill. Nippert sustained a dislocated elbow and broken arm and Burgess was bruised about the neck and shoulders.

Salvage Work Begun On Sunken Towboat

CHARLEROI, Pa., June 5.—After the boats A. R. Budd, Beacon and A. B. Sheets finally hauled the sunken river towboat Volcano upright, following her sinking in 20 feet of water in the Monongahela River at Allenport, near here, last Thursday night, divers worked yesterday to salvage the $75,000 craft. Damage to the Volcano, owned by the Hillman Coal and Coke Company, will exceed $60,000.

Righted by tow lines and cables, the boat still dangerously listed to starboard, her prow fast in channel mud with the rear portion of the hull and wheel suspended in midair. The steamer will be jacked to the surface.

Fourth Prize Plan In Temperance Test

Abuse of Power

OBVIOUSLY such a measure is in itself an abuse of power and inconsistent with the letter and spirt of the constitution. Repudiation by the people is imperative. Orderly agitation to that end and substitution of appropriate legislation, based upon principles of justice and reason is urgent.

Successful administration of the substituted measure depends upon adequate definition of state and federal authority. But the all-important problem is to secure concerted expression of the people on the subject, so that they may authorize change by Congress in unmistakable language.

Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment is an impractical method of change (even if desired by a vast majority of the electorate). One-thirty-sixth of the qualified voters in the 13 smallest states could prevent an amendment to the amendment. Yet a majority in four states, with a population four times that of the combined 13, have vigorously repudiated the existent national prohibition act.

Another Way

THERE remains but one truly conceivable method of change. The Congress of the United States should modify the federal act to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment so that the same shall not prohibit the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation of beverages which are not in fact intoxicating as determined in accordance with the laws of the several states.

Let all the people vote for the first time upon the measure as it stands. Make that vote mandatory on Congress. Let the definition of intoxicating beverages, a fanatical conceit under the existing law, become a matter for state determination and state administration. Let the state desiring radical prohibitive measures have them, but let it provide means of control from its own purse. Let the remaining states regulate personal habits and customs with a measure of tolerance based on experience.

States' Rights

MODIFICATION opens the way to self-determination by the respective states. Usurpation of power by the federal government in matters peculiarly adapted to state regulation and control tends to destroy the political identity of the individual state and to centralize authority in Washington. Federal jurisdiction is strictly limited to matters of general government, to interstate rather than intrastate business. The several states must cherish and preserve their political integrity.

The states, again sovereign in their reserved rights, may look to the experience of various countries which have tried prohibition and failed. Their adoption of temperance measures came in time to avert dangerous social upheavals. Their subsequent experiences in government control and regulation are models well worth serious consideration.

Up to President

ONE troublesome obstacle remains. By what agency is the measure to be presented for a vote of the people? The constitution explicitly provides for the emergency: the President of the United States, chief spokesman of the whole people, "shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the state of the union and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient."

Recommendation in this national emergency clearly devolves upon him as a duty in the interest of public welfare. Unofficial but significant polls of the press upon this, a purely social issue, have persistently demonstrated the popular sentiment for change, essentially as herein expressed, by a vote of 5 to 1. But only through the President's official recommendation can Congress be induced to present the question for a vote of the people and thus receive the popular mandate.

Citizens' Rights

THIS plan is founded upon the proposition that the right be individual free action, particularly as affecting eating and drinking within reasonable lawful limits, inheres as a right of every American citizen. The power to establish lawful bounds resides in the sovereignty of the several states and of the people. But the states may prescribe those bounds only within the sphere of sovereignty not expressly prohibited them by the constitution.

It is based upon the conviction that temperance is a virtue which may be cultivated by example and instruction, but that appropriate laws, tolerantly conceived and judiciously administered, may serve to promote the desired end.

Enlightened public opinion expressed in law should represent the common political experience of a people at a moment on its road to freedom. All laws are experimental. They are in the making. They proceed by trial and error. Their ultimate success depends upon their adequacy in relation to human motives and actions, the degree of enlightenment of the people who make them, the efficiency and intelligence of the officials who administer them.

This plan, "A Practicable Substitute for Prohibition," suggests the first step toward "actual temperance conditions." Its adoption will automatically tend to correct and ultimately abolish existing evils and preserve the moral balance and political integrity of the nation. I respectfully submit it to the thoughtful consideration of the American people.

ing regulations from the best experience of other communities, these to be adapted to local conditions and subject only to the underlying regulations of the Federal law.

"The essay for which I have received this check was not superficially done," Mr. Quinlan said. "I worked over it for two months, formulating my thoughts, finding the result unsatisfactory, throwing it in the waste paper basket and going over the job again and again.

LAUDS PUBLIC SERVICE

"Mrs. Quinlan and I joshed about the final essay, never dreaming that it would be given serious attention, and after I put it in the mail, it dropped from my mind.

"I had wanted to do it, I had done it, and that was the end of it.

"There wasn't the faintest suspicion in my mind that I stood any chance at winning any one of the prizes, and of course when I was notified to come to the Examiner office and receive this check I was astonished and frankly I was tremendously pleased.

'Mr. Hearst has done a great public service in having this national expression of views about prohibition, for it is a tremendous question, one that directly affects every person in the country.

"Making so many people think about it, enabling so many people to give their ideas and having the rest of the world know what those ideas are, cannot fail to be an aid to the welfare of the country."

Unknown Man, Hit By Coke Lorry, Dies

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 5.—An unidentified man, about 45, was killed yesterday when struck by a coke lorry at the Century plant of the Century Coke Company, one mile east of here. The report to the coroner said the accident was unavoidable. Company officials said the man was a trespasser. A knife, razor, $1.12 in small coins and tobacco were found in his clothing.

CHARTER HELPS IMPROVEMENTS

In view of the interest in the forthcoming referendum election for the approval of the Pittsburgh metropolitan charter, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph will publish daily brief statements by Joseph T. Miller, chairman of the commission. In this series the provisions of the charter will be set forth in plain language shorn of its legal verbiage.

By JOSEPH T. MILER,
Chairman Metropolitan Plan Commission

The Consolidated City has the power to create special tax districts to finance Metropolitan improvements in any section in which the people demand such improvements.

It gives flexibility to the Consolidated City government.

It allows any section in the Metropolitan area to demand the amount of public improvements for which the particular district is willing to pay.

How is this arranged? By the levying of the special assessments upon abutting and non-abutting property according to the extent to which such property would be benefitted by the improvements.

For example, the building of a Metropolitan sewer in one section of the county would not be a charge against the taxpayers in the opposite end of the county.

It would be a charge against the district directly benefitted.

Similarly the undeveloped rural districts would not be forced to help bear the costs of highly developed and highly prosperous sections demanding and willing to pay for the highest refinements of public service.

(To Be Continued)

Voters are invited to propound any proper question regarding the charter and these will be answered promptly if addressed to Chairman Joseph T. Miller, 519 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope. Some answers to inquiries of pertinent interest will be published in the Sun-Telegraph.

Women and Children Hurt in Auto Crash

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 5.—Mrs. Anna Hesselbein, 64, of Lorain, O., was severely injured here when an automobile in which she was riding collided with another machine. She is in a serious condition at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Hesselbein had come here to see her son, Harry Hesselbein, managing secretary of the Johnstown Chamber of Commerce, who was injured in an automobile collision recently. Mrs. L. S. Gross and three children, Doris, 13; Lawrence, 10, and Pearl, 9, relatives of Mrs. Hesselbein, also suffered minor injuries in the collision.

Rescuer of Brother Given Scout Medal

SHARON, Pa., June 4.—John Lazorishak, 17, a Boy Scout who five months ago saved his brother from drowning in the Shenango River, has been presented with a gold medal for life saving by the National Council of Boy Scouts. The lad jumped into the stream and pulled his brother from under a wire netting. He refused to tell of the incident for more than two weeks.

Two Brothers Held As Bomb Suspects

BEAVER, Pa., June 5.—Joseph and Louis Phillips, brothers, of Beaver Falls, were indicted yesterday by a Grand Jury on counts of attempted murder, sedition and malicious mischief by explosives in connection with the bombing of the home of William Davidson, chief of police of Beaver Falls, March 8.

2 Brothers Injured As Train Hits Truck

MERCER, Pa., June 5.—C. I. and William Dehaven, of Mahaffey, Pa., brothers, are in the local hospital in serious condition as the result of injuries received when the truck in which they were riding was hit by a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train near here. The men are employed with the Home Construction Company on the Perry highway.

"Why Be Fat— Why Be Thin?"

Lecture and Moving Pictures On

Weight Control

Tomorrow, 2 p. m. Auditorium

It's just as wrong as far as good health is concerned, to be too thin as to be too fat. That it is a perfectly simple matter to control one's weight scientifically, is clearly shown in tomorrow's lecture, "The Influence of Foods on Individual Weight," by Mr. Franklin H. Luce, director of dietetics for the Continental Scale Works of Chicago.

Both men and women are cordially invited to attend these lectures.

Friday—"The Science of Weight Control."

Comfortable Knit Underwear

Women devoted to active summer sports adopt cotton and lisle underwear as much for its comfort as for its inexpensiveness and durability.

The popular choice inclines to:

Union Suits, 55c.
Women Lisle Union Suits, $1
Sizes 36 to 44.

... Horne's, Second Floor ...

Printed Foundation Garments

The printed mode in dresses is paralleled in summer foundation garments. Panty girdles, those lithe, boneless combination garments are made of the daintiest flowered silk with only the fine elastic at the sides in plain color.

The Vagabond sash, a garter-girdle, is also shown in a lovely flowered Cheney print. Panty-girdles (illustrated), $6.50 and $7.50. Vagabond Sashes, $3.50. Bandeaux to match, $1.00.

Candlewick Spreads, $2.85

Like the old-fashioned ones these are hand-tufted in quaint and charming designs. Of firm cream muslin, tufted in color. Rose, blue, yellow, lavender, green or white. Patterns include "Colonial Chain, "Daisy," "Periwinkle." Single and double-bed sizes.

Candlewick spreads in colors with white tufting, come in blue, rose, yellow, green or lavender. Patterns include "Fern Basket," "Mountain Beauty," "Lattice." Single and double-bed sizes.

Other styles, $3.25 to $22.50.

Tufting Demonstration

Two representatives from Georgia will be in the Bedding Section this week, to show just how tufting is done.

SLEUTHS TO GET MOTOR 'FORT'

Safety Director James M. Clark has been authorized by Council to buy a new automobile, costing not more than $6,000, for the detective division.

Appearing before Council yesterday to explain what was meant by requesting a "fully equipped automobile," the director read specifications laid down by Frank Boyd, commissioner of detectives.

Boyd wanted a car with an armored body, bullet-proof glass with port holes, and compartments for tear-gas bombs, riot guns and riot sticks. Clark did not think much of the armored body and the bullet-proof glass, he said.

Clark and members of Council agreed on a car with the requested compartments and armored radiator and front fenders. The car without those extras would cost $4,400.

Real Estate

Deeds have been passed from the Liggett estate to James A. Cornelius, builder, for 221x339 feet in College avenue extending from Elmer to Ellwood street. The consideration was $70,000. The buyer will start a development of individual homes.

The Pittsburgh Real Estate Board was addressed by Raymond Marlier, past president of the Pittsburgh Aero Club, yesterday following the noon luncheon at the William Penn Hotel. Mr. Marlier outlined the history of aviation. He quoted figures to show the growth of the industry since Lindbergh's flight to Paris in 1927. Roy Cappe presided at the meeting.

A property in West Liberty avenue, Dormont, has been conveyed from John M. Alderdice to Louis Merwitzer. The lot is 40x115 feet.

In Mt. Lebanon, Ellis H. Schaffer has sold to T. L. McSteen a property in Pennsylvania boulevard.

F. C. Silknitter sold for William E. Veitch to Joseph D. Lake a home at 1303 Murtland avenue, East End. The lot is 24x100 feet.

Carl W. Geyer has sold for Katherine McGrath to Andrew Kasur a lot at 1259 Superior avenue, North Side. The purchaser is breaking ground for a brick residence.

Building permit applications included:

Fourteenth Ward—New Church Corporation, stone church, Homewood and Penn avenues, $65,000; H. H. Stutsman, brick dwelling and garage, 1166 South Negley avenue, $9,300.

Twenty-ninth Ward—Donahoe's Inc., 2701 Brownsville road, $25,000; N. Holleran, brick dwelling, 220 Poplar Grove street, $7,000.

Eleventh Ward—E. G. Whalen, brick and tile dwelling and garage, 6536 Jackson street, $8,500.

First Ward—West Penn Electric Company, repairs and alterations, First avenue and Wood street, $8,000.

Bishop Mann Talks To Girl Graduates

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 5.—Bishop Alexander Mann, of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church, addressed the graduating class of the Washington Seminary, composed of 14 young women, here yesterday. He urged them to adhere to the training they had received in the school which has just completed its ninety-second year.

At a meeting of the graduates, Mrs. Marion Wylie Murphy was elected president of the General Alumnae Association; Mrs. R. L. McCarrell, vice president; Miss Mary Kirchner, secretary, and Miss Jane Maurer, treasurer.

Eagle Club Rooms Robbed at Dennison

DENNISON, O., June 5.—Dennison Eagle club rooms were burglarized the second time in 14 months by thieves who sawed off two of the three locks on the door and took $75.

"KONJOLA WAS BEST MEDICINE OF THEM ALL"

Pittsburgh Lady Tells of Remarkable Experience With Master Remedy —Stomach Trouble Ended.

"What a glorious medicine Konjola is!" Time and time again that has been said of Konjola, the new and different medicine, by happy men and women who had despaired of ever seeing another well day until they found in this compound the medicine they should have had in the first place.

MRS. LOUIS MARTIN

No wonder Konjola is called glorious, for it has brought health to thousands who tried other medicines and treatments in vain. How Konjola works; how its 32 ingredients—22 of them the juices of roots and herbs—go to the very seat and source of the ailment, is being explained daily by the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting those who come to learn all about this amazing medicine of which they have heard and read so many splendid things. Konjola works not only quickly, but thoroughly. The ailing organs are cleansed and stimulated; poisons and impurities are driven from the system, and the way is paved and the door thrown open for the return of new and glorious health. After all, life teaches no greater lesson than that we profit from the experiences of others. Consider, then the case of Mrs. Louis Martin, 1029 Western Avenue, Avenue, Pittsburgh, who said to the Konjola Man a few days ago:

"I found that Konjola was the best medicine of them all, for not only did it benefit me, but it brought health to countless others who had been in poor health. My condition steadily became rundown after I had recovered from the influenza. My stomach was left rather disordered and I was in an anemic condition. Try as I might, I was unable to find the right medicine for my case, and steadily I became worse.

"It was two years ago, when I was in Parkersburg, W. Va., that I first heard of Konjola. It was recommended so highly there that I determined to give it a trial. Remember, this was two years ago, and since I completed the treatment at that time, there has never been a recurrence of my former troubles. Before making a public indorsement I wished to know if Konjola would do for others what it did for me. So I advised approximately fifty people who were ill, to give it a trial. They all did so, and reported the results to me. In every instance, Konjola proved supreme. In every case it brought new and glorious health. Then I was convinced that this medicine was the master medicine—the medicine that every sufferer needs. So I willingly and gladly give this indorsement and hope that others will profit from the lesson my experience teaches."

So it goes, wherever this supermedicine is put to the test, no matter how severe that test is. Konjola contains no hazardous ingredients. It needs no such elements. Results are what count, and Konjola can be counted on for results.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

Activities of Hollywood and Its Stars Recorded in Tales and Pictures

NEW MOVIE TRIO

Here we have a stage producer "gone talkie" and the leads of his first picture. Edgar Selwyn went to Hollywood to make a dialogue film of his "Eva the Fifth" and picked Bessie Love and Raymond Hackett for the leading roles.

Pitt Stock to Offer 'Fair and Warmer'

Next week the George Sharp Players will appear in the farce-comedy, "Fair and Warmer," in the Pitt. This was one of the early success of Madge Kennedy's career. In the production at the Pitt, Pauline MacLean will act the leading role. In its original production "Fair and Warmer" met with success in New York and other large cities of this county, and in London, Paris and Berlin.

MICKEY NEILAN, HOLLYWOOD'S BAD BOY NO LONGER, NOW DIRECTING INA CLAIRE

By DOROTHY HERZOG

(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate)

HOLLYWOOD, June 5.

A FRIEND of the Monty Blues dropped in to visit. As she was leaving, she remarked for little Barbara Blue's sake: "Well, I think I'll take Richard with me." Richard is the new offspring, now all of four months. Barbara rushed protectingly to the crib, arms outspread, "You can't have Richard!" she stormed. A month elapsed. This same friend came a-visiting again. Nary a word did she say about taking Richard home with her. But Barbara remembered that last time, and as she prepared to leave, Barbara hurried to the governess and warned: "Now don't you let her take Richard!" Which is what one might enviously call a memory . . .

Being in the neighborhood of Culver City purposely, this scribe deemed it high time she amble on the Pathe lot and mayhap to the set of "The Awful Truth," where Ina Claire (aliased domestically, Mrs. Jack Gilbert) is starring.

Monte Blue

The set's guard permitted an entrance with a deal of suspicion. One can't help looking like that. I told him so, with no little display of asparity. Whereupon he sympathized with my mother. However, onto the set. Director "Mickey" Neilan had just finished a scene and Miss Claire was discovered disappearing behind a mass of boarding. Investigation revealed she had gone to her set dressing room. A verbal calling card was sent in to her. Ina sent forth a request would I wait.

Neilan Busy With Business

WELL, there were rumor-ish questions to be put to Mickey. It had been boomed around town that Neilan is no longer the colony's bad boy. Mickey admitted the way he was attending to business was scandalous, but that's how matters stood with him. 'Stough to lose good copy like Mickey has been.

Ina Claire

Time passed. Ina never showed. It seemed she was studying her lines. It also seems that Ina always studies her lines from one scene to the next. Of course, one can sympathize. It must be annoying to spend one's evenings studying a script for the next day, especially after going all the way to Los Vegas to be married. And I have heard that newspaper persons can be terrible pests. But really, this particular visit was a casual one. There were to be no questions, such as: "How do you like married life in Hollywood?" or —well, one can think of so many, even if she isn't a newspaper person.

AMUSE-O-GRAMS.

Moran and Mack were watching a group of chorus girls and boys rehearse dance numbers for their Famous Players flick, "Why Bring That Up."

Moran—Look at them go. Those boys are sure panting in short steps.

Offers Reward And Collects It

CONSTANCE BENNETT, recently arrived from Paris to be featured in "The Play's the Thing," brought with her two canines Yslept Peter and Pan. One's a Scotty. The other a West Highlander. A. W. H. resembles a Scotty, only 'tis white. As Conie had some shoping to do and didn't want to leave the dogs alone, she dropped by Mrs. Al Kauffman's house and asked if she could leave them in her yard. Mrs. Kauffman said yes. Peter and Pan, however, took to their heels. Connie was frantic. She advertised for them, promising a huge reward. A week passed. Still no dogs. Whereupon she followed a hunch.

Constance Bennett

She and Eddie Kane, a local realtor, started forth in Connie's new car down the street about a block from where she lived. Connie called: "Peter! Pan!" in a jiffy, a streak of black and a streak of white tore out from some house. Right. Peter and Pan! They had almost, but not quite, found their way home. Connie collected her own reward.

ADD MOVIE VOCABULARY—"New Deal"—a term used by electricians on a set, meaning to fix the lights for another shot. Bridge players will please take note that there's no finessee-ing.

Pioneer Duck Of Movies Dies

SCREENALITIES: "WADDLES," the duck that made her debut into the flicks with LOUISE FAZENDA in the affluent Mack Sennett days, is no more. Waddles died of old age. She passed away on a peaceful quack in Louise's arms. . . . MRS. JACK WARNER has a 13-year-old son who is taller than she. 'Tother eve., Irma (Mrs. W.) had a party at her house. She referred to the youngster with a sly smile as "my little brother." "Hey, where do you get that?" He caught her up. "Next thing I know you'll be callin' me your grandson!" "All right son," Irma chuckled. . . . MARCELINE DAY and MARY ASTOR lunching together. Their heads were so close that it looked tough for guilty consciences . . . PAULINE FREDERICK speeding to her beach home, which is 12 miles above Malibou. She's a neighbor of the William Selters. . . . EDWIN CAREWE and his former wife, MARY AKIN CAREWE, lunching tete-a-tete at ye Brown Derby. I warned you this looks serious. . . . Two actors were discussing another actor who never got away from "I, Me, and Mine." "Doesn't that guy know anybody but himself?" quoth one. . . . And—that's all.

Makes Her Own Skin Bleach

Known for having one of the most beautiful skins in New York, Miss Mildred Ball, favorite artists' and photographers' model, recently made the statement that most of the New York models use a skin bleach of their own making.

According to Miss Ball, "we get three ounces of Orchard White from the druggist and add to it the juice of two lemons. This makes a full quarter pint of a perfectly harmless yet marvelously effective bleach. Applied to face, neck and arms, it bleaches any dark or discolored skin a beautiful rosy white. It also makes any rough or coarse skin soft and smooth. Many of the girls use it, too, for a tan and freckle bleach. Nothing like this wonderful mixture can be bought ready to use because it acts best when freshly prepared. The cost for several weeks' supply is only a few cents."

Move to Unionize Talkies Begun By Actors' Equity

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 5.—(AP.)—Frank Gillmore, president of Actors' Equity Association, announced last night that the organization's council had ruled that members of Equity might not engage in sound or talking motion pictures except under the standard Equity contract, which prohibits them from appearing in casts with non-members.

Gillmore said the ruling became effective yesterday, obligating Equity actors and actresses who sign movie contracts today or thereafter to abide by the association's stand against employment where non-organized players are acting.

Hollywood film circles looked upon the announcement of Equity's long-expected attempt to force motion picture producers to recognize its unionized labor terms. What effect the ruling will have upon the industry, producers declined to say. They indicated that nothing could be said until a comparison had been made of the views of various studio officials.

In making the announcement Gillmore said that studio conditions for the actor had gone "from bad to worse" and that many complaints had been received, chiefly against the long hours required before the camera. He added that sound and talking pictures had created such a demand for actors who se voices record well that Equity members had gone into the movies in droves.

"Many complete casts in Hollywood, as well as New York," Gillmore continued, "are made up of Equity members."

Officers Elected By Catholic Women

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., June 5.—(AP.)—Mrs. Jane Nagle Lear, of Wheeling, was re-elected regent of the West Virginia Catholic Daughters of America for a two-year term, at the fifth biennial meeting of the body here yesterday. She has been regent since organization.

Mrs. Mary Whitstead, Parkersburg, was named vice regent; Mrs. Ann G. O'Leary, Wheeling, secretary; Mrs. Anna Collins, Morgantown, treasurer, and Miss Laura Shaffer, Piedmont, monitor.

The Inside Story of the Lindbergh-Morrow Match

HOW would you like to know Lindbergh as he really is—to know what goes on behind those blue, fearless eyes, that smiling inscrutable face? What was there about Anne Morrow that stirred the heart that beautiful women by the thousands have failed to touch? Read "THE COLONEL'S LADY" and you will know. An intimate accurate picture of Lindbergh, written by a woman who has known him since he was fourteen and who speaks with authority on his match with Miss Morrow.

The Greatest Issue of the Magazine for Young Women

Smart Set is the gay, entertaining, up-to-the minute magazine that helps young women make the most of themselves.

The brilliant July issue is printed in color, brimming with the best fiction money can buy, and packed with more than a thousand hints on how to improve your beauty, intelligence, style, and personality.

6 masterly short stories—5 great novels—10 brilliant special features—3 touching poems—8 expert articles dealing with every problem of the young woman of today.

Note just a few of them below.

Why I Masqueraded, 6 Years as a Man

The intimate day-by-day adventures told by herself of Mrs. Valerie Arkell Smith who, as swashbuckling "Capt. Barker," fooled the world for six years.

What prompted this aristocratic, high-strung girl to hide her sex and assume the role of a man? How was she able to dupe soldiers with whom she fought, lovers who adored her — even the woman she married — into believing she was a man?

She bares her soul and tells all in "WHY I MASQUERADED AS A MAN." You have never read a story like it — the most amazing human document ever printed.

The Passion that Poisoned a Queen

For her Sir Walter Raleigh flung his coat in the mud. Dukes, Lords, Prime-Ministers, and Generals fell like chaff before the whirlwind of her personality. Her name? Queen Elizabeth the Great. But mark this—she never had a happy love affair in her life. Her besetting sin and her unquenchable passion was jealousy—and it defeated her. For every woman who is in love there is a great lesson in "THE WOMAN WHO NEVER GAVE," a remarkable biography written by Adela Rogers St. John.

Why Marion Talley Renounced Fame at Twenty-Two

The world could not understand why this lovely opera star kicked fame into the discard at the very pinnacle of her success. Here she tells why. She wanted a beach and a ukulele instead of an opera stage and the plaudits of millions. She wanted to be herself instead of a celebrity. As fascinating a life story as you will ever read.

One Hundred Hints for the Mid-Summer Wardrobe

How would you like to look Paris-dressed on a very small expenditure? You can do it. Smart Set has devoted more than 40 pages to the discussion of chic and daring bathing suits, afternoon and evening gowns, hats, slippers, and scarves

Would You Marry A Poet?

TAX PROTESTS STILL MOUNT

Persons who a month ago hesitated to sign petitions to Congress urging a reduction of the tax on the incomes of wage workers are now joining the campaign with enthusiasm. As a result the membership in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph League for the Downward Revision of Taxes on Earned Incomes is making extraordinary progress.

From several parts of the city where a canvass had been made early in May have come requests for petitions and these have been signed by hundreds eager to assist the cause. A recanvass of the business section of the North Side was made following requests for extra petition blanks from merchants and residents in that section and the number of signers obtained was double that of the signatures on the first circulation of the papers.

IMPORTANCE REALIZED

"The people are thinking over this question and they realize that a reduction of the tax on the incomes of professional men and wage earners means more prosperity for all," said a Penn avenue merchant today. "Few in my store were interested in signing when petitions were first circulated. Some said they paid little income tax and were not concerned in saving money for men who drew large salaries or prospered on big fees. In their indifference they were just as selfish as the tax dodger.

AID TO PROSPERITY

"It is beginning to dawn on the people that the lightening of the tax burden on the great body of workers allows them more money to spend and this stimulates buying to a degree that materially increases production. With greater production employment is furnished on a larger scale and everybody is benefited. Any measure that results in more business and increased community prosperity should be supported by all the people and no further arguments in favor of the plan should be necessary."

Today the canvass was extended through Washington and Greene counties, where increasing interest was reported in the campaign.

POOLS TO OPEN ON NORTHSIDE

North Side swimming pools, hitherto closed until July 1, although all other municipal pools were opened Memorial Day, will be opened at once through a councilmanic order directed to Mrs. Mary J. Cowley, head of the North Side Playground Association.

Mrs. Cowley is said to have explained her reason for keeping the pools closed by the fear that children might be tempted to go swimming instead of to school. She also is reported to have said that June is too cold for outdoor swimming.

Councilmanic action to open the pools was taken after Harry A. Little presented a letter from John G. Mock, secretary-treasurer of the Allegheny Chapter, Izaak Walton League, protesting against the continued closing.

Mr. Mock asked:

"Why should the children of the North Side be denied the use of the swimming pools in the playgrounds while those of the city proper and the South Side have been in use since Memorial Day?

"Why should they be compelled to wait until July 4 or some such other time when somebody feels good and ready to open them, is what North Siders would like to have explained to them by the party or parties responsible for this unjust discrimination?"

Mrs. Cowley is reported to have replied that "It's not necessary to open the pools on Memorial Day. It takes some time for the water to warm up and it is not good for the children's health to go in when it is cool, as there is danger of pneumonia."

Pools under the direction of Mrs. Cowley are Riverview Park, Lake Elizabeth, the Roberta Lang Pool in Woods Run and the Mary J. Cowley Pool in Troy Hill.

Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, has jurisdiction over all pools except those under Mrs. Cowley's direction.

Missing Policeman Found in Baltimore

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 5.—Charles England, missing Washington policeman, is in the home of relatives in Baltimore, a telegram received here last night stated. Officer England has been missing since he went off duty a few minutes before midnight Sunday.

Patrolman England has never recovered from injuries suffered some months ago when his motorcycle crashed into a telephone pole while he was chasing a fugitive automobile. He had been on light duty. It is believed he is suffering from a nervous collapse.

17 Unlicensed Dog Owners Given Fines

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 5.—The drive on unlicensed dogs in this section of Fayette County was continued today, headed by John M. Hare, of Fayette City, representative of the State Department of Animal Industry. Four more persons, swelling the total to 17 in two days, were arrestd and find $42.

Responsibilities -:- -:- By Truda Dahl

EVERY one who has ever graced the face of this fair earth has had responsibilities of one sort or another. Some are serious ones; others mere trifles. Some are beautiful; others ridiculous. And you'll see exactly what I mean if you take a walk through any of the parks on these lively June days.

You'll see a bench somewhere and on one end will be seated a girl—you cannot call her anything else, she looks so delightfully happy and contented—and clustered around her are responsibilities. Tiny replicas of herself and her Beloved. That's what I call beautiful responsibilities—the molding of tiny lives into what will eventually be sterling, healthy, happy men and women.

And on the other end you'll see the fretful, pampered daughter of Fortune, with her prize Pekes. To her way of thinking they are more care and responsibility than anything on earth. And she's tired and fretful looking—in marked contrast to her sister.

Which would you rather be? Of course, I'm sure of your answer or I wouldn't ask it, for I know that all of you would rather have Love's responsibilities than anything else on earth. N'est-ce pas?

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Telling the News

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

My fiance and I are planning to be married soon, and, as he is building our home, it means that we must save money. Under the circumstances, I decided that an engagement ring would be an expensive item, and we now plan to put that money into our home. How, then, shall I announce our engagement to a few personal friends? I do not want to make it public, as I should like to continue going to business for a while and would not want to have it known at my place of business. M.

THE only way is to tell your closest friends—and make them "cross their hearts" that they will keep your secret. Impress upon them that it is most important for you, professionally, not to have the engagement known.

The Guest Does

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When a young man calls for a girl to take her dancing at one of the hotels and they sit and talk a while at her home, who should suggest going? M. S.

HE as the guest, should.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Damp Clothes, Wet Feet Bring Chills

IN my part of the country we had much rainy and disagreeable weather. I presume this has been true in other sections.

Long periods of rainy weather are often followed by frequent illnesses. And why?

Most persons have an aversion to rubbers and other rainy day apparel. From childhood we have to be watched, bribed and coaxed into wearing rubbers. Yet failure to protect the feet from wet often results in serious illness, or may produce conditions that show their effects in later life.

You dash from the subway station, or the elevated, or the street car, as the case may be, to your office. The distance seems so short it is hardly worth while to carry an umbrella. For hours afterward your clothes are damp as the result of this exposure.

Then you sit in these clothes all day. Perhaps the office isn't very warm. In summer there are really chilly days. Soon you find yourself sneezing and coughing and even having chills. Occasionally more serious symptoms develop.

We all chafe under restraint. This is particularly true of the busy man who is forced to stay home and perhaps in bed, because he got his feet wet and caught cold!

If you are unfortunate enough to take cold, do something about it. But do it as soon as the signs first appear.

There are as many remedies for a cold as there are doctors in the world. One of my doctor friends insists that the patient must stay in the house in a warm room, and if convenient, beside a hot stove or fireplace. Another doctor friend drives his patients into the open air and sunshine.

Both doctors are successful, but I am wondering if it is not the rest and change which do the work, rather than the hot air or the cool air. Most of us do our work, during the closed-in season, in stuffy, poorly ventilated and perhaps dusty or smoke-filled rooms. To stay home in a sweet and clean place, or to get out into the pure air is a real treat anyhow and may have much to do with speedy return to health.

What you will do with a cold depends on your willingness to submit to the demands of time and common sense. If you will do the sensible thing you can "break up" a cold in its very beginning. You ask me how?

Go home and fill the tub with water hot as you can stand it. While this is getting ready, take a tablespoonful of milk of magnesia, followed by drinking a glass of hot water.

By this time your bath is ready. Stay in it a half hour. Then go to bed between blankets and stay there a full hour.

By this time you will be sweating freely. At the end of the hour, sponge off with alcohol or cool water. Dry thoroughly and get into a dry bed between sheets this time. Have the room well ventilated and settle down for sleep, staying there till morning.

Nine times out of ten you will get up, free from symptoms of a cold and ready for your regular duties. If not, loaf around for another day.

Answers to Health Queries

H. D. R. Q.—I am a boy of 18, troubled with pimples; what do you advise?

A.—First of all, correct your diet and keep the system clear. Avoid too many sweets and heavy, rich foods.

A. R. Q.—What treatment will help hay fever—I have bronchial trouble I have been doctoring to no avail?

A.—Be sure there is no obstruction or catarrhal condition which may be causing the trouble. There are serums which have been helpful—why not have your doctor prescribe for you?

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

No Wedding Rings!

"MEN won't marry fifty years from now," declares an optimistic writer (masculine) in the June Cosmopolitan. Just like that!

If you believe all you read in the magazines, this world will soon be just like Heaven! There will be neither marrying nor giving in marriage this side of Paradise if the men have their way.

* * *

You can hear the rumble of masculine revolt from coast to coast. La femme, says the revolutionists, is The White Man's Burden!

HELEN ROWLAND

It is WOMAN who robs man of his wild bachelor freedom, dopes him into docility with her lures, drags him through the horrors of the wedding ceremony, makes him buy a house in the suburbs, and then keeps his nose to the grindstone forever afterward.

It is woman who turns him from a happy, carefree savage into a tame but miserable civilized "citizen." And all by the power of the wedding ring!

* * *

It is woman who sets up standards of culture, manners and moral convention for him to live up to—and then sues him for alimony when he tries to dodge them.

* * *

It is woman who insists on being "loved" when he only wants to be amused; on being admired when he wants to talk about himself, and on being married when he only wants to PLAY.

* * *

It is woman who persists in "filling his life" and overflowing into his spare time, when all he wanted was a little diversion and a few odd kisses.

* * *

In short, if women could be entirely dispensed with, except for amusement, a man could lend a natural, simpler, irresponsible life, shaving only occasionally, and never worrying about his debts, his soul or his complexes.

But let a man hand a woman a wedding ring, and she immediately backs him into a dinner coat and a boiled shirt, and begins thinking up harrowing ways of making him spend his evenings, when he might be enjoying himself.

It is she who serves him seven-course dinners, made up of a little dab of food disguised with mushrooms or whipped cream, when he is passionately longing for an honest slice of roast beef and a boiled potato.

* * *

And who polishes the floors to suicidal glassiness, puts down expensive Persian rugs, and then has a brainstorm when he walks on them with his muddy boots?

It is woman who covers the windows with draperies so that he can't look out of them, and chokes off the lights with pink shades so that he can't see what he's reading. Who tidies up his desk, throws away his precious old clothes and hides his fishing tackle in the attic.

* * *

Take all the wedding rings out of the world, cry the Bachelors, and man will be a free, free soul again! Women will be as weak as Samson after Delilah bobbed his hair.

Horoscope

Thursday, June 6.

ACCORDING to the strong position of the great benefics, Jupiter and Venus, this day should be noted for achievement and conquest in the personal affairs as well as in business interests. It is a time for pushing to the goal of the ambitious, with the promise of much help from friends and those in authority. Nevertheless there is a warning to be on the alert in all dealings with corporations, secret societies or in underhand agreements, as there is a hint of fraud or misrepresentation.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of advancement and prosperity, in both personal and business affiliations, with assistance from those in high places. But be on guard in transactions with secret societies, combines or trusts, lest there be fraud or treachery. There is danger of subtlety or intrigue.

A child born on this day may be talented and ambitious in many directions, but may lean toward strategem or craft. However, it will rise to good position, possibly in diplomatic service.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

The Old Blackmail 'Bugaboo' Again Rears Its Head

MARION'S flush deepened at Carolyn's vehement assertion that her refusal to be one of the "blind dates" at a neighboring prep school dance must have been a "whopper" if it voiced her disclination for the affair. Carolyn's attitude was patent. To her, it simply was impossible for a girl to be anything but crazily enthusiastic over any opportunity to attend a dance.

"Oh! of course I wanted to go in a way," Marion said, honestly, "and if I'd known anybody there, I probably would have written home and asked mother for permission. But as it was, I didn't like the idea of going where I didn't know a single solitary boy. So I stayed at home."

"And kicked yourself down all the flights of stairs there were all during the evening," Carolyn said impishly. "Don't I know? I used to miss out on things because I was scared but 'nuffin cookin' like dat for dis darky no moah'!"

Helena Brixton moved uneasily. "Carolyn!" she said with mild reproof, and her young daughter wriggled under her mother's voice and look.

"Sorry, Mummy!" she said contritely. "I'll be good." But I knew, as I looked into her dancing eyes, that her subdued manner was due wholly to her ingrained respect for her mother, and that secretly she considered her style of speech to be much more appropriat to the occasion than the more formal clothing of her thoughts which Helena Brixton would have approved.

Lillian put in a tactful oar. "Then we can consider Marion's going settled, I think," she said. "When you determine on the date, Ronald, let me know, and I'll take the matter up with Mrs. Barnes. But give me plenty of time. Did you say there was to be a dance afterward?"

"Oh! yes," Ronald said eagerly, his fine young face fairly aglow. "And I'll let you know the minute I find out myself. You can't know how thankful I am to you, Mrs. Underwood. I'll try my best to give you and Marion a good time."

"I am sure of that, Ronald, Lillian answered, smiling at him in a way which told me that the boy's attractive ingenuousness had banished the prejudice she had conceived against him because of his stepfather, Samuel Brixton, whose name he bore and who had brought him up from early childhood.

"I suppose we ought to talk clothes," Helena Brixton said with a comradely glance at Lillian, whose mind, I knew had flown to that subject when Ronald had spoken of the dance following the game. "But there is so little time. We must all pack at once."

"We can talk while we pack," Lillian said promptly. "I simply must get a slant on that angle of this proposition, and you've been through the mill. I can see."

Helena Brixton nodded with a smiling gesture toward her young daughter, and Lillian turned to me.

"Will you come and talk clothes too, Madge?"

"Not unless I'm needed," I returned, "and I'm sure I'm not in this particular case. I must get into the kitchen for a little parley with Katie."

"You mustn't plan any luncheon for us," Helena Brixton protested quick, but Lillian took her arm and swept her upstairs. I heard her explaining as she went that "it was simply impossible to do anything with Madge when she decided to feed folks."

I found Katie hurrying like mad through her kitchen work, but she stopped as I entered and put a swift question.

"Vot time loonch today?"

The query twanged again the chord of memory awakened by Mary's announcement that she was to drive with George Jackson later in the day. When she had last driven with the young Prince of Trees, Katie had asked to have lunch early and had driven away from the farmhouse carrying a fantastic disguise in a suitcase. Mary and Georges had told of seeing a queer woman in a similar costume, and I had been quite sure that Katie for some reason of her own had trailed them. Did she mean to repeat that trailing today?

LAUNDRY BLAZE INJURES THREE

Two men were burned and a fireman was injured in a fire that followed a gasoline explosion in the basement of the laundry of Yee Guong, 40 Fancourt street, last night. Hundreds of persons watched firemen extinguish the blaze, which resulted in $100 damage.

Guong, 65, and Yee Yat, 21, Chinese, were cleaning a garment with gasoline when the fluid ignited from a gas stove. They suffered burns about the face and hands. Fireman W. P. Riley, 38, of No. 1 Engine Company, sprained his ankle when he tripped down the stairs and was taken to Mercy Hospital. Dense smoke routed Mrs. George Yee, her two children, and Yee's parents from the second floor of the building.

Traffic in the vicinity was halted for 10 minutes.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A DAINTY FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL

Printed organdy in tan and burnt orange shades was selected for this pleasing frock. Plaitings at neck and sleeve and the sash are of orange organdy. This is also a pretty model for chiffon or voile, or for China silk in the new pastel shades with sash of ribbon in a favorite color. White crepe de chine with binding in blue or pink is also suggested. The dress is a straight-line model with fulness at the sides below the hips. The ruffles are mounted on the dress portions and form pleasing and animated fulness. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length with a narrow band cuff or as a short puff joined to a narrow sleeveband, and finished like the neck edge if desired, with plaiting.

The pattern for this dress is cut in four sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. To make the dress as pictured in the large view will require 2⅝ yards of 35-inch material for an 8-year size. If made with long sleeves 2⅝ yards will be required. For sash of ribbon 2¼ yards will be required. For bias binding at neck and puff sleeve edges 1½ yards is required. Plaitings at neck and sleeve edges require 1½ yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Don Carlos Whiting goes to Hawaii after he discovers that his wife, Eve, is carrying on an affair with George Phillips, a neighbor. On landing in the island he is accosted by a native, David Nahuli, who offers him $2,000 for delivering a black bag. In carrying out this mission he meets Eugenie, Nahuli's white wife. Then in wandering about Don Carlos meets Selma Wilson, crippled mother of an unusual family, which includes a daughter, Ruth. The latter plans a companionate marriage with Al Harding, much to the disgust of her father, Big Tim Wilson. Nahuli orders him to carry the black bag again. Eugenie invites him to her cottage on Tantalus Hill. She tells him he has been delivering opium and warns him. Among revelations is that Nahuli forced her to marry him to save her father from prison. Don Carlos spends his time working on a play from which he expects success. He and Eugenie fall in love. On Ruth's wedding day Big Tim goes on a vacation—disgusted. Then David learns of the affair between his wife and Don Carlos. At a gay party Don Carlos thinks he hears a movement in the bushes and goes to investigate. Nahuli threatens him again. But before he can bring about revenge he meets his death.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXII.

EVE was having a wonderful time on the steamer going to Hawaii.

The voyage began with three days of fog and by that time acquaintances on shipboard were well under way. Various little cliques which make every ocean voyage interesting had been formed. There were the conservatives and those who threw convention to the wind. Eve soon found that life aboard ship was just as though a small village or city had been transplanted on deck. The same intimate gossip went on behind people's backs. It came quickly to her ears.

There were gay drinking parties to while away the lazy afternoons and evenings. And it was to this element that Eve directed her time and attention. Always fond of the gawdy tinsel of life, she fluttered toward it as a moth towards a candle.

It was after an evening of steady drinking that she had told Col. Drinkwater that she was the wife of Don Carlos. The colonel was attached to the barracks down at Schofield.

Eve and he had been performing some tipsy dance steps to the great amusement of those watching the dancers. They glided grotesquely about the floor of the improvised ballroom. The colonel was fat and 40; slightly bald and very florid.

"Not THE Don Carlos Whiting, the playwright?" Col. Drinkwater had remarked upon hearing her statement.

"The one and same. But why such an accent on the one and only Don Carlos? Has he become such a big fish in the small puddle of Honolulu?"

"Don't you know?" asked the colonel.

"Know what?" Eve didn't wish to appear too inquisitive. It might be easier to extract information if he didn't guess the scarcity of her news about Don Carlos. They were leaning over the rail now, getting a breath of air after the hectic fox-trot. She flicked her cigaret ash daintily against the rail.

"That he is a very successful young playwright and author?" For the moment, the colonel acted soberly. Married, was she? A pretty minx. And a gay one.

"Oh, that," drawled Eve lazily. "Why shouldn't I? I'm his wife."

"Why he ever let you get away from him is beyond me. You're too devilishly good looking, my dear, for a man to walk more than six feet from you. You'd get in mischief; couldn't help it. Men won't leave you alone."

"So I notice," retorted Eve. "Particularly one Col. Drinkwater."

His arm had been sliding about her, as they stood in the shadow of the boat deck.

"Oh, now, I say, my dear. What's a little hug between friends?"

"It doesn't mean a thing in my young life," said Eve, airily. "What about another dance? I've got itching feet tonight. And what else do you know about Don Carlos?"

"Well, now, er—r—r. I don't want to get mixed up in any family scandal."

"Don't worry. You won't. We're ver-r-ry friendly." Eve imitated a nonchalant attitude so successfully that the colonel decided to risk his disclosure.

"I was going to say that they DO say down in the Islands that he owes all his success to some hapi-haole woman. Anyway, rumor says she is."

"What's that?" asked Eve.

"Half-white," answered the colonel.

"Good Lord!" ejaculated Eve. Then as laughter came to her aid, she added: "So the fastidious Don Carlos has fallen for local color!"

"Tell me some more about this—this half-white woman," Eve suggested.

"Ugh! You're getting drunk," she shuddered.

"Shay! Speak for yourself. Aw, go on, give me a little kiss."

"All right; fair exchange is no robbery. A kiss for all you know about that woman. What's the scandal about Don Carlos?"

"Dang these women!" The colonel's irritation sobered him for a moment. "Once they set their hearts on something they won't give a fellow a bit of rest. I dunno—you know he wrote this 'Alien Blood,' a corking good play, about a white woman marrying a Polynesian because of some hold he had over a member of her family. There were opium rings and everything mixed up in it. Gossip says that he is in love with the woman.

"And the husband wants to get him. Already he has something on Don Carlos besides this friendship with the wife. I dunno much more about it; I left the islands for a trip to the mainland about the time the play came out. Another little drink?"

"It'll go right to your head," grunted Eve sleepily. "Is she—pretty?"

"Pretty! A dead knockout. The woman's beautiful." Then turning to her suddenly, "How come! You're stark sober. Want another littl' drink?"

The colonel was bending over her. His hot breath, whisky-laden, swept her cheek. He attempted to fondle her. Very suddenly she was tired of him and drew away.

"I'm going to turn in and call it a night, Nighty-night." She brushed her red lips to the fair fuzz which covered his head.

"Aw, stick around."

"Meaning what?"

"Er-r-r, have littl' drink." The colonel flushed to the roots of his fair hair. Eve slammed the door.

It was a warm Tuesday night in June and Eugenie was seated in the huge peacock chair on the lanai of Don Carlos' bungalow. He had often imagined her there, sitting quietly, her slender hands clasped lightly in her lap, gazing into the night, and Don Carlos sat at her feet worshiping the divinity of his heart.

"Eugenie, sweetheart, I adore you." His head resting light against her, turned so that he could see the radiant beauty of her face.

She stroked his head gently, ruffled the dark waves of hair.

"I never dreamed there could be such happiness," she confessed. "You mustn't worship me too much, my dear. I'm only human, you know."

Somehow Eugenie almost felt humble before this great love of Don Carlos'. He was such a boy in spite of his years, in spite of the maturity of his splendid physique. He made her feel almost material in his simple adoration of her.

"You're so beautiful tonight, Eugenie."

Little does Don Carlos realize that soon he will be confronted by another woman he had so many times called beautiful.

PETTING PATTY — Poppy Acts Fast

FATHER AND SON — By WILLIAM ALLEN WARD — Daily Short Story

THE Texas sunset was a masterpiece painted on the western horizon. But a man cannot enjoy art on an empty stomach, especially if said emptiness had started some two days before.

Jim Winters, big shouldered and with dreamy melancholy eyes, shook the dust of a Panhandle sandstorm off his ragged coat and leaned against a telegraph pole. He looked into the sunset—that masterpiece of art, painted by the Greatest of Artists who used a sunbeam for a brush and the blue sky for a canvass, but he did not see the great painting; instead he saw steaks, beefsteaks, smothered in onions, black coffee, creamed potatoes. Jim Winters was hungry.

Three hundred yards from the railroad along which Jim was traveling into the sunset, was the small cottage of a homesteader. Jim surveyed the landscape with deep interest and pondered on the wisdom of inquiring of the tenants if they coud spare a meal for a traveling man.

Jim crawled beneath the wire of the right-of-way fence and started across the newly plowed ground toward the homesteader's cottage. Smoke curled upward from the cottage chimney while a woman, apparently still in her twenties, hurled handful after handful of grain to the fowls that flocked about her. In the barnyard, a man was busily working. Jim walked slowly as he meditated. He viewed a picture which to him was greater than the sunset—he saw a picture of happiness and content.

In an instant Jim's mind, momentarily forcing back thoughts of food, went back through the years and he dreamed of what might have been. He visioned in his mind a little home, a wife and the kiddies, all of which might have been his—if he had kept his word and gone straight.

Jim had broken faith with Nancy. It was back in Chicago that Nancy had pawned her jewels to obtain defense counsel and beat the burglary case against him and then married him when his name was clear. But Jim heard again the wolf call of the underworld and scurried away to join the pack. After being married less than a year, Jim broke faith with Nancy and staged a stick-up in Chicago's loop. The judge said 20 years and Jim joined his brothers in crime in the somber cells of the Silent City—the home of broken men—called by some the state penitentiary.

Jim remained behind the walls but a short time before his chance came—then he "outran the guns." He read in the papers a few days later that he had been killed in the getaway, killed when the fire of guards set an old hay barn on fire. Jim knew that Old Briggs, Nego life-timer, who made the dash with him, was the one who perished in the barn, but he kept his secret. Jim hit the long road—leaving Nancy behind.

"This home might have been mine . . ." Jim was thinking as he approached the woman who still fed the chickens. A little boy about 5 years old, was running about the yard, happy as the March wind that whipped over the hills.

"Lady," called Jim in a feeble voice, for he was very weak.

The woman did not hear. Jim was about to call again when he got a glimpse of her face and whispered to himself, "Nancy."

Jim was hungry. For just a moment he pondered—then turned away, determined to leave Nancy with her happiness. He slipped away as carefully as possible to prevent Nancy hearing him. Once he had the cottage between him and Nancy he felt relieved, although hunger still tore at his vitals like a hungry rat.

"Hey, mister," a little voice piped.

Jim turned around. He looked into the smiling face of Nancy's little boy. Jim did not remember just how he looked, for he had not viewed himself in the mirror for a long while, but he saw a resemblance, and he remembered that Nancy had whispered to him her secret before he went away.

"Nancy's boy . . ." Jim whispered. "Nancy's boy . . . and mine!" he added.

"Hey, mister . . ." the boy called again.

Jim couldn't think of anything to say. His heart jumped up in his throat and he felt very faint and weary. Jim had never been worried a great deal with his conscience. But this time the old gentleman called Conscience rose right up and gave him a terrific wallop. Jim never felt meaner in his life.

"Where's your dad?" finally asked him, "out yonder in the cow lot?"

"He's not my real daddy," the boy replied, "he's my step-daddy, my real daddy's dead."

"Dead!" exclaimed Jim. "How do you know?"

"Mamma told me so," the lad said, "and she told me he was a mighty good dad . . . the best daddy any little boy ever had . . . and my mamma don't tell stories . . . my daddy was a good man!"

For a full minute Jim looked into the sunset and this time he saw a picture there . . . a home where he wanted to go. Slowly, as twilight crept over the prairie Jim walked into the sunset. Hunger again tore at his vitals, but he smiled, for a child had shown him the way.

Changing a frown to a smile

YOU know a chubby little youngster just like the little one pictured here. And you know, too, how the frown darkens and the tears gather when mother prepares one of those nasty cathartic doses that Childhood dreads.

But many parents have found that it isn't necessary to force children to take things that cause them to "make faces". They give safe, chocolated Ex-Lax which the youngsters take with a smile.

A PLEASANT WAY THAT'S BETTER, TOO • • • • Ex-Lax is not only delicious-tasting — just like chocolate — but it is better for both children and grown-ups than the harsh, nasty-tasting cathartics it is replacing.

The laxative ingredient of Ex-Lax is a triumph of chemistry. Does not disturb digestion nor cause griping. Is not absorbed by the system. And is not habit-forming. It is safe as well as scientific.

It does not embarrass. Its action is positive, dependable—yet natural.

CHOCOLATED FOR A GOOD REASON • There are other possible carriers for the laxative ingredient. But chocolate was chosen for Ex-Lax because it is the ideal medium.

Unpleasant tastes may disturb the stomach. But smooth, delicious chocolate encourages digestion. And chocolate, as employed in Ex-Lax, dissolves completely. Carries all of the laxative into the stomach—in the manner best assuring uniform action and fullest effect.

So Ex-Lax is not just a "candy" laxative. It is chocolated in the special Ex-Lax way, for sound scientific reasons.

• WRITE FOR FREE SAMPLE Try Ex-Lax. Let it tell its own story. Your druggist has it in three sizes—10c, 25c and 50c. For free trial box write to Ex-Lax Co., P. O. Box 165, Times Plaza Station, Brooklyn, N. Y., Dept. PST-7.

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive, and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bisurated Magnesia tablets, which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 90 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bisurated Magnesia Tablets!

Here are the first returns, just as received— and as audited by certified public accountants

Every Tuesday night, over the Columbia network, Paul Whiteman's orchestra thrills the radio world with dance music, played as only Whiteman can play it.

OLD GOLD sponsors this radio hour. But strangely enough, not once during the hour has the claim ever been made that OLD GOLD is the best of all cigarettes!

Instead, just a moment is borrowed from Whiteman's music to ask smokers to find out for themselves which cigarette is best, by making the "concealed name" test, in their own homes.

To date, through the courtesy of radio fans, reports have been received on the verdicts of 17,972 smokers who have made this test.

Did OLD GOLD win in all cases? Assuredly not! Brands X, Y & Z, the long-established trio, made a good showing. They're good cigarettes. But once again, OLD GOLD, the two-year old, proved that this is the day of the new and better thing!

No cigarette-maker can justifiably say that his cigarette is the best for everyone. Tastes differ. Why not let your taste decide which cigarette you like best . . . with all brand prejudice removed?

That's what these 17,972 radio fans did. At left is the box score of their vote . . . as audited by a firm of certified public accountants.

Certified Public Accountants' Statement

How 17,972 smokers voted

We hereby certify that we have audited the reports received from radio fans, showing how 17,972 smokers voted in comparing the leading cigarette brands, with brand names masked.

Brand X	3879	22%
Brand Y	3103	17%
Brand Z	2178	12%

OPPENHEIMER $250,000 GOES TO CHARITY

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

A FRIEND whose ears for baseball gossip are almost as large as those of the spurious grandma in the Red Riding Hood fable was telling of a little pleasantry the other day at Forbes Field when the Pirates were playing Philadelphia.

There is a Pirate pitcher, who includes in his many arts, a knack for throwing what is technically called the "dust-off" ball. It is aimed at the batter's head, not with the idea of hitting the batter, but to make him nervous, keep his feet loose, and generally remove his air of confidence. The pitcher in question is not only a great pitcher, but he can lick his weight in wildcats in a physical encounter. Consequently, batters he throws at can't threaten retaliation.

But the other day a young batsman issued a bloody den. Said he to the pitcher: "If you throw at my head again I'll stab you."

Old-timers who always are bemoaning the good old days when every baseball game was a riot may be interested in hearing how the current game has "softened up."

On the street the other day a former journalist stopped and said he heard Sidewalks might go to Paris and added he wanted to give a little advice. He has been over 18 times and lives eight months a year in the French capital. He said he hoped I would not be making odious comparisons between French and American customs and that I would not light my cigarets with 100 franc notes. A dozen other faults of Americans abroad my friend cited. I made a mental compromise with him. I'd eschew the favorite conceits of Americans if my American friend would manage to see some slight merit in Americans and lose the notion that everything foreign is so superior.

THERE must have been something wrong with the mechanical end of the broadcasting station the other night when a certain local boy was broadcasting. "How do you know," I asked Mr.

Abels, "whether anyone is listening?" "You can always tell," he said, "by the letters you receive about your talk." Consequently, I still insist there must have been something wrong with the mechanical end of the station I spoke over.

A letter at hand which apologizes for withdrawing an invitation to speak, due to better arrangements having been made after the invitation, brings to mind a strange situation always confronting certain parts of the public. It relates to the matter of giving talks before organizations.

Altogether, it appears here an unhappy situation. A man is appointed on a committee to seek a speaker. He wants to get the job over with and he selects five names. If he gets anyone of the five he is satisfied, regardless of the merits or demerits of the speaker finally chosen. The speaker in turn frequently accepts, not because he wants to do the job, but because he can't find a ready excuse or because some indefinite sense of obligation impels him to accept. The part of the public which must then listen to the product of a desperate committeeman—the reluctant speaker in question—then must take a long gamble on whether it is going to be bored stiff with an innocuous talk on a subject of little interest or whether the speaker will manage to say something old in terms of the new.

Here you have an unhappy committeeman, a dubious speaker, and an audience that has someone thrust upon it—and the wonder here is that something isn't done about it. In every organization there are interesting men who speak better and with more authority than the speakers they must listen to—but the merry game goes on.

MARTIN FREES 5 IN MILK WAR HEARING

Warning Against Violation Of Injunction After Fatal Attack Closes Inquiry

With a reprimand and an admonition not to interfere with the operation of the business of the Liberty Dairy Products Corporation, five men accused of violating a court injunction were freed by Judge Richard W. Martin today.

The defendants — Thomas McGreevey, John Morgan, Charles Arnsberg, Eugene McCormick and Paul Vandergrift—had been charged with contempt of court for alleged participation in an attack on a company wagon in West Carson street last week, when one of the attacking party was killed.

In his opinion Judge Martin explained that the defendants had not been officially notified of the injunction which had been granted against inteference with the dairy corporation's activities.

Today's decision came on the twenty-sixth day of the strike, after two days spent in hearing the contempt proceedings against the five defendants, members of the International Brotherhood of Chauffeurs, Teamsters, Stablemen and Helpers of America.

Efforts of Federal and state labor mediators to effect a settlement of the strike have so far resulted in nothing more than a series of conferences between the mediators and representatives of both sides in the milk war.

4 Children Saved By Man When Home Burns

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., June 5.—(AP.)—John Eddy, 33, saved the lives of his three young children and that of Willard Smith, Jr., 8, when flames destroyed the Eddy home here last night.

The children were in the house alone and were believed to have been playing with matches.

Volunteer fire fighters were on the scene when Eddy arrived, dashed into the house and carried the half conscious children, two at a time, to safety.

Charity shared the entire $250,000 estate left by Daniel W. Oppenheimer, of the former clothing manufacturing firm, M. Oppenheimer & Co., 938 Penn avenue, in a will probated today.

Bequests of $500 each were left to the Salvation Army, Jewish Home for Babies, Pittsburgh Hebrew Free Burial Association and Pittsburgh House of Shelter. For memorial purposes to his parents, Benjamin and Eva Oppenheimer, the deceased left $10,000 each to the Montefiore Hospital Association of Pittsburgh and the Jewish Home for the Aged, to be used as the institutions preferred through suggestion the hospital expend its bequest for the children's department.

JUNIOR REPUBLIC GIFT

Mr. Oppenheimer left the George Junior Republic $5,000 for memorial purposes in his own name, while a bequest of $1,000 was given the Rodef Shalom Congregation for the care of the family burial plot. The sum of $5,000 was left in trust with the Fidelity Title and Trust Company with the stipulation that its income be used to assist worthy boys of the Jewish faith in securing college or university educations. The same trust company was left in charge of $10,000, the income of which is to go to his brother, Jacob Oppenheimer, of Philadelphia, for life.

OTHERS CARED FOR

The residue of the estate was ordered divided equal among the following institutions: Salvation Army, Jewish Home for Babies, George Junior Republic, Pittsburgh Hebrew Burial Association, Montefiore Hospital, Jewish Home for the Aged and a share for the scholarship fund founded by the $5,000 bequest.

MOTHERS PICK IDEAL SON

What five qualities, each expressed in a single word, denote a mother's boy?

What single virtue, above all others, does the ideal mother believe her ideal boy should possess, and why?

Mothers of boys are invited to answer these questions which are inspired by a film "Mother's Boy," which opens June 10 at the Harris Theater. The contest opens with this announcement and all entries must be in by next Saturday midnight. The awards to be made to the winners follow:

FIRST PRIZE .....$25 in Cash
SECOND PRIZE ....$15 in Cash
THIRD PRIZE .....$10 in Cash
FOURTH PRIZE, theater box (12 seats) for "Mother's Boy," at the Harris Theater.

The rules of this contest are simple: On Question 1: What five qualities, each expressed in a single word, denote a mother's boy? it is necessary to write down only the five words. On the second question: What single virtue, above all others, does the ideal mother believe her ideal boy should possess, and why? it is only necessary to write the single word and THEN GIVE THE REASON IN ONE SENTENCE OF NOT MORE THAN 15 WORDS, telling WHY this virtue is selected. Your reason is very important for in the event the same virtue is selected, the best REASON will decide.

Write on one side of a sheet of paper and be sure to put your name and address on it. The decision of a committee of judges selected by the Sun-Telegraph is final, and in the event of a tie duplicate prizes will be paid winners. Address all letters to Mother's Boy Editor, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh.

Wife Killed by Car, Man Asks $100,000

Philip Zuckerman asks $100,000 damages for the death of his wife, Rebecca Zuckerman, in a suit against Emil G. W. Hilleman filed in Common Pleas Court. She was struck by Hilleman's automobile while attempting to cross Beechwood boulevard at Lilac street last April 18 and died the next day as a result, the suit alleged.

County Bar to Join State Association

The Allegheny County Bar Association, at a special meeting yesterday, voted to affiliate with the Pennsylvania Bar Association. Attorneys William S. Dalzell and William R. Scott were named delegates to the annual meeting of the state association.

Rail Safety Contest Honors Won Here

Honors of gold and silver banners were won by the Allegheny division of the Pennsylvania Railroad for the first quarter of the railroad's safety contest. The gold banner was awarded for the lowest number of casualties on any division, the silver banner for the greatest reduction in casualties to employes on duty. The division made a 75 per cent reduction over the same period of 1928.

Plaza Building Receiver Named

The Peoples Savings and Trust Company of Pittsburgh was appointed permanent receiver for the Plaza Office Building Company and L. W. Monteverde and D. R. Sweeney were appointed appraisers by Judge Elder W. Marshall in Common Pleas Court. The petition for receivership was filed May 8 by the Atlantic National Bank of Boston, Mass., trustee for bondholders.

Last Day Brings Many Names for Baby Hippo

Hundreds of letters continued to pour into the office of the Sun-Telegraph today, suggesting names for the baby Hippo at the Highland Park zoo. With the contest scheduled to close at 6 o'clock this evening, the letters continued to arrive in large numbers during the closing hours of the contest.

Those who wish to suggest a name for the Hippo must have their letters in the office before 6 p. m.

When the last of the letters have been opened and the hundreds of names laid on the judges desks, those who are to select the name will then begin their gigantic task. Director Edward G. Lang of the City Department of Public Works and Ernest F. Tretow, keeper at the zoo, will be the men who will have to select the name for the Hippo.

And when the name is picked, the grade schoolboy or girl (this contest is confined to them) who entered the name, will receive a present of $25 from the Sun-Telegraph. Many of the boys and girls have submitted lengthy names but short, descriptive names are better fitted, the judges stated.

However there is still time to enter a name for the latest addition to the city zoo. The attached ballot is for your suggestion.

Oakland Man, Rum Carter, Sentenced

His appeal for a new trial refused, Alex B. Rosenberg, of DeSota street, Oakland, today was fined $300 and sentenced to serve three months in the county jail by Federal Judge Nelson McVicar. On May 29, Rosenberg was found guilty of possessing and transporting 484 pints of whisky. Part of the whisky was found in his home and part in an automobile in front of his home.

Druggist Attacked Putting Car Away

David Weiss, 35, a druggist, reported to police early today that while putting his automobile in a garage near his home at 7103 Reynolds street, a man in the building attacked him, striking him on the head with a milk bottle. When he screamed, the intruder fled.

INQUEST HOLDS WIFE IN KILLING

Mrs. Mary Barr, of 13 Wood street, Braddock, was held on a charge of murder by a coroner's jury today at an inquest into the death of her husband, Harry Barr, 52, street car motorman, May 23.

Physicians and nurses at Braddock General Hospital corroborated police testimony that Barr, in a dying statement, accused his wife of having shot him in their home. She was recommitted to jail.

Ungrateful Cat Claws Police Rescuers

Scratches were the only reward Turnkey Andrew Carter and Janitor John Showalter, of North Side Police Station, received for rescuing a kitten from an areaway 15 feet deep in the rear of the police station today. They heard kitty's wails and brought it out of the pit with a stepladder only to have it claw them. They gave the kitten a good breakfast of milk then turned it over to the Animal Rescue League.

FIRM OFFERS SCHOLARSHIP

A $300 scholarship, open to any graduating senior in public or parochial high schools of Pittsburgh, has been announced by the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company.

William H. Albers, president of the Kroger organization, has stated that it is part of the policy of his company to encourage the educational development of the American youth. With this aim in mind, he said, the scholarship has been offered.

W. H. Albers

It is hoped that principals of Pittsburgh high schools will recommend that their best scholars apply for consideration for this scholarship. Students wishing to apply independently of their principals, however, are at liberty to do so. Scholastic grades will be the principal basis of the judging, Mr. Albers stated.

The scholarship will be awarded by a committee of three judges, consisting of Chancellor John G. Bowman, of the University of Pittsburgh; President Thomas S. Baker, of Carnegie Institute of Technology, and the Rev. President M. A. Hehir, of Duquesne University.

TWO ACCUSED IN FAKE RAID

Accused of representing themselves as government agents and attempting to "shake down" Mrs. Margaret Geric, of 300 North Holland avenue, Rankin, William E. Knally and Michael McCronic were arraigned today before the United States Commissioner. Decision was reserved.

It was testified the two men went to the Geric home on May 4 and were recognized by the woman as acquaintances of her son. They asked for a drink and she gave them wine, according to testimony, and then searched the house. She refused to pay them the $100 they demanded, the woman testified.

The men were arrested when they went to a mill where Mrs. Geric's son, George, was employed. The demands for $100 were repeated, it is alleged, and the son caused their arrest. Borough police testified two "fake badges" were found in their automobile.

Duquesne to Join Catholic Alumnae

The women's section of the Duquesne University Alumni Association unanimously adopted resolutions to accept the membership invitation of the International Catholic Alumnae Association, at the final meeting of the year held in the university library. The Very Rev. M. A. Hehir, C. S. Sp., president of the university, delivered an address of welcome to the members present. Officers of the association are: Miss Mary G. Caulfield, president; Miss Catherine Farrell, vice president; Miss Agnes M. Sullivan, secretary, and Miss Honora J. Conway, treasurer.

PARENTS FIGHT FOR CHILD

Mrs. Marie St. Clair, seeking to regain custody of her 2-year-old daughter, Patricia Rose, charged her husband, Raymond A. St. Clair, followed her to California after she was forced to flee with the child in fear of her life, and brought the child back to Pittsburgh.

A writ of habeas corpus granted to her by Judge Elder W. Marshall in Common Pleas Court, on petition of Attorney Thomas M. Marshall, Jr., was directed to the husband and his parents, Charles C. St. Clair and Mrs. Florence St. Clair, of 1924 Perrysville avenue, where the child is alleged to be unlawfully detained.

The petition alleged that the parents of the child were married June 30, 1926, and cruel treatment by her husband forced Mrs. St. Clair's flight with the child. A hearing was fixed for tomorrow.

Driver Taking Child To Hospital Arrested

Albert A. Slowick, 37, of 1127 Ridge avenue, was arrested at Allegheny General Hospital, where he had taken 5-year-old James Walter, injured when struck by Slowick's automobile near the lad's home, 506 Madison avenue, today. The boy was not seriously hurt, police said.

Sid Rogers Says

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 4.

If you have missed anybody around their old haunts in the East, and have no idea where they are, they are right here in Beverly Hills, trying to get into the talkies; and the ones that were in 'em are trying to learn to talk.

I haven't had a chance to say a word since I got home for people just practicing on me to show me they talk.

In the old days everybody was practicing to make signs, now they are practicing noises.

And song writers! Why, the city makes you come to a dead stop at every crossing with your car to keep you from running over a song writer working on a theme song.

Yours, WILL.

WOMAN IN CAB HURT IN CRASH

Miss Ruth Davis, 32, of 374 Meyran avenue, was in a serious condition in the West Penn Hospital today as the result of a collision between a taxicab, in which she was a passenger, and an automobile at Harriet street and Pacific avenue late yesterday.

Ollie Smith, 35, of 1613 Brighton road, driver of the cab, and A. C. Horlitze, 22, of 448 South Aiken avenue, driver of the automobile, were arrested by police of the Forty-third Street Station on charges of reckless driving and later were released on forfeits.

SHIP AFIRE, 700 ENDANGERED

TOKIO, June 5.—(A.P.)—Fire raging aboard the Japanese steamship Ugo Maru was believed today to threaten the lives of the boat's 700 passengers, most of whom were Russians.

Reports carried in Nichi Nichi Shimbun, confirmed by a Foreign Office dispatch from Vladivostok, said the ship had caught afire between Vladivostok and Kamchatka. Other vessels were said to be rushing to its aid.

The ship carried 700 Russian fisher folks, of whom 380 were women, and a Japanese crew of 43.

"SKINNY" MEN!

Gain Weight Quick!

Amazingly Easy Way

New IRONIZED YEAST Adds Pounds Quick. Druggist Guarantees Results—or pay nothing

"Gains 12 Pounds Quick and Clears Skin"

"IRONIZED YEAST soon gave me 'pep' and energy, cleared skin of pimples and sallowness. Gained 12 pounds."
—(Miss) L. A., Scotland Neck, N. C.

IRONIZED YEAST adds 5 to 15 pounds solid flesh in few short weeks. Rounds out muscles. Gives manly color and clear, robust skin. Builds strength and energy. Makes real men out of "skinny" weaklings.

How and Why Ironized Yeast Adds Weight and Vigor

Ironized Yeast is two great tonics in one. Weight-building YEAST and strengthening, blood-enriching IRON. The Yeast is the kind used in making malt and which makes malt so beneficial.

Don't be a "Skinny" Weakling

This Yeast is treated with two kinds of Iron used for years by highest medical authorities. Iron enriches the blood; makes cheeks rosy; tones nerves and muscles.

The Yeast is further treated with Violet Rays, the latest scientific discovery, which increases its energizing and weight-building powers.

Only when Yeast is thus Ironized is it most effective; for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening value of Yeast. Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by Yeast or Iron taken separately.

Don't be "skinny" or weak any longer. Be hearty and strong. Have a real man's arms and legs and a clear, ruddy complexion. Get IRONIZED YEAST today. Pleasant tablets without "yeasty" taste. Do not cause gas or bloating.

Quick Results or Money Back

Go today to any drug store. Get full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. If not delighted with results of this generous trial get your money back.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal.—© I. Y. Co.

"My! you look lovely to-night"

SHE knew the compliment to be true—for the last pimple had vanished.

If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you must realize that the logical cause may come from the blood.

A clear, smooth, velvety skin bespeaks loveliness. Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. Hope, joy, happiness, and even love, may depend on the possession of a clear, unblemished skin.

On the other hand—skin eruptions are outward evidences of the condition within. Authorities state it is an indication that the body's power of resistance to disease and infection is low. Meaning, that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish let-down feeling, loss of appetite, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and you sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to diseases.

Made from fresh vegetable drugs

S.S.S. is Nature's own tonic for improving the appetite, building strength, and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, by increasing the red-cells of the blood.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test of over 100 years.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

32 to Get Reserve Commissions at Tech

Commissions as second lieutenants in the Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States Army will be awarded to 32 members of the graduating class and undergraduates at the commencement exercises of the Carnegie Institute of Technology on June 11, it is announced. Sixteen of the prospective officers are Pittsburgh district students. In addition, six others will receive certificates exchangeable for commissions when they have completed the required periods of training at summer camp this year.

Kaufmann Adds to Private Art Collection Abroad

International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 5.—"A thorough understanding and appreciation of the fine arts is the most vital factor in the management of modern department stores. Paris no longer leads in smart merchandising, having lost this distinction to Vienna and Berlin. American store officials can learn nothing of business efficiency from European establishments, but would do well to copy the continental manner of display and store traffic."

These were the facts most noticeable during his three months' tour of European capitals, Edgar Kaufmann, president of the Kaufmann Stores, Pittsburgh, told International News Service when he returned home on the Olympic last night.

SON STUDIES IN VIENNA

Mr. Kaufmann was accompanied by his wife. Edgar Kaufmann, Jr., their son, accompanied his parents to Vienna where he remained to study under the tutelage of Prof. Herbert Steinhof, famed Viennese portrait painter.

Mr. Kaufmann, a collector of old paintings and sculpture, said that he had added extensively to his collection while on his trip.

"I intend to give Pittsburgh the finest department store in America," said Mr. Kaufmann. "I carried with me plans by which I intend to enlarge and beautify our present establishment and these I cross-checked and added to with the aid of Europe's finest department store architects. The result will be a store utterly unlike anything in the United States."

LEAD IN DISPLAY

Asked wherein continental ideas of store management differ most from those practiced in America, Mr. Kaufmann replied:

"In display, the Europeans, particularly in Berlin and Vienna, are years ahead of this country. They care little for mass display, but specialize in striking effects, utilizing their knowledge of things artistic in execution of windows, the equal of which I have never seen.

"In store traffic—that is, the skillful handling of large crowds—the Europeans are far ahead of America. In Paris, Berlin and Vienna, I venture to say that five people enter department stores to one in America, yet there is little congestion. This has an important bearing on sales."

Mr. Kaufmann found European economic conditions on the rise, but remarked that the various countries were still in a serious slump from the war.

NEW DRY AIDE AT WORK HERE

Harold D. Wilson, successor to Joseph A. Frayne, resigned assistant prohibition administrator, arrived in Pittsburgh today and went to work under Commander John D. Pennington, in charge of enforcement in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Wilson, former director of prohibition enforcement in Massachusetts, comes here from Boston. He was once a newspaperman. He quit the government service six years ago and just recently returned as a senior investigator.

In March Frayne left Pittsburgh for New York, where he is now a special investigator. He was generally believed responsible for the investigation of alleged booze rings on the North Side, South Side and in the Strip district. Following his resignation as Pennington's assistant, he was employed for a time as an unattached special investigator here.

RECORD SOUGHT WITH SEAPLANE

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP.)—Lieut. Apollo Soucek, holder of the world's altitude record for land planes, yesterday made an assault on the seaplane mark of 37,996 feet.

He said after his hour and one-half flight that he thought it was unsuccessful, but his barograph was taken to the Bureau of Standards for calibration on the possibility a new record had been achieved.

Flying the same pursuit ship, pontoons added, in which he rose 39,140 feet several weeks ago to exceed the 38,418-foot mark made by Lieut. C. C. Champion, Soucek climbed until his altimeter at one time showed 39,000 feet. This height is expected to be cut down by the barograph reading, and to fall short of the 38,323-foot altitude necessary to break Champion's seaplane record by 100 meters, as international flying rules require.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Sewickley Horse Show To Keep Society Busy Remainder of Week

OVER the week-end the first part of the week the brides of early June held sway, but now society folks are turning their attention to other events in addition to marriages. Later in the month the debutante will be in the spotlight.

But for the remainder of this week the interest of everyone in the social world, from the clubman to the society matron, from the debutante to small girls and boys, will be the annual Allegheny Country Club horse show, which will open tomorrow in the ring at the clubhouse, and continue Friday and Saturday.

As usual, a number of entertainments will be given in connection with this popular event, but most of them will be small and rather informal. Perhaps the most notable entertainment will be the annual riding and costume party the William Christopher Robinsons give following the close of the first day of the show.

Nearly everyone will remain in town until after the show, and many folks will be here from out of town, too.

A NUMBER of the visitors will stay at the Allegheny Country Club. Charles N. Hancher, of Wheeling; the S. Macys, of Warrenton, Va.; the Carl H. Hannas, of Cleveland, and their son Teddy Hanna; the Albert J. Davises, of Long Island; the Albert E. Trimbles, of Indianapolis; the Harold A. Palmers, of Detroit, and the W. C. Stevensons, of Middleburg, Va., will be at the Allegheny Country Club for the three days of the horse show.

A party from Greensburg also will be found at the same club during the show, including Elizabeth Morehead Bovard, Margaret Coulter, Henry W. Coulter and Torrence Miller.

ONE of our June weddings will be very small. I'm speaking of that of Mary Ralston Crabbe, daughter of Mrs. William Ralston Crabbe, of Castleman place, and Dr. Paul Benjamin Ernst, of the Schenley Apartments, son of the Eugene Ernsts.

Because of the illness of the bride-elect's mother, only the immediate families will be at the wedding, to take place in the Crabbe home Saturday, June 15, at high noon.

There will be no bridal party, I understand. After a sojourn in White Sulphur Springs, Dr. Ernst and his bride will make their home in Pittsburgh.

MANY of our young people, as well as proud mothers and fathers, will be going East to attend commencement events. Among those who will be at Yale for commencement is Nan Bunton, daughter of the C. C. Buntons. She'll leave on June 13 for Philadelphia, where she'll be the guest of the junior E. T. Weirs. Nan will attend the boat races at New London, Conn., and later a house party at Annapolis, Md.

MISS FLORA A. KOCH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lincoln Koch, of Darlington road, has chosen June 12 as the date for her marriage to Sidney S. Nevins, of Kittanning. The ceremony will be performed in the Hotel Schenley by the Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Goldenson.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. R. S. FLINN, of Berkshire avenue, Brookline, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Naomi Margaretta Flinn, to Andrew K. Shirley, of Belle Isle avenue, Brookline. No wedding date has been set.

MISS MILDRED ALEXANDER, of Reynoldsville, Pa., and Miss Louise King, of Pittsburgh, will be bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Dorothy Louise Beegle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harper K. Beegle, of Harbeth Lawn, Gibsonia, and James McClain, which wil be solemnized June 26. Harper K. Beegle, Jr., brother of the bride, will be the ring bearer. Byron Mitchell is to be Mr. McClain's best man and the ushers will include Edward Ramsey, Jr., and T. Clarke Stewart.

MISS KATHERINE EDWARDS has been in New York for a few days, I hear.

A FAREWELL dinner will be given Friday night in the Hotel Schenley by the faculty staff of the Margaret Morrison Carnegie College in honor of Miss Mary Bidwell Breed. Miss Breed is retiring this year after serving 16 years as director of the college.

THE senior class of St. John's High School will present a comedy, "Modern Ideas," tonight and tomorrow night under the direction of Mrs. Madeleine Skelly Foust. The cast includes John Dewey, John Straka, Maurice Hines, Edward Spohn, Regis Fey, Dorothy Walter, Kathryn King, Annabelle Close, Peggy Hart, Mary Waldron, Mary Catherine Cavanaugh and Madeliene Hillgrove.

ORIENT CHAPTER, No. 35, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a card party tomorrow night in the home of Mrs. Katherine Fuller in Hampton avenue, Wilkinsburgh. Playing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

* * *

MRS. ALICE DEE, of Mt. Lebanon, is chairman for the card party to be held Saturday afternoon in McCreery's by South Hills Court No. 623, Catholic Daughters of America. Bridge, "500," euchre and old maid will be played.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. C. W. FREEMAN, of Hampton avenue, Wilkinsburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Frances Freeman, and Theodore Carroll Byerly, of New York, which was solemnized Friday. After September 1, Mr. and Mrs. Byerly will be at home in Washington, D. C.

SOME OF THE BABIES WHO MAY BE ADOPTED BY VISITORS TO ZOAR HOME ON ITS SIXTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

How would you like to adopt one of these babies, all two-to-eight-week-old charges at the Zoar Home, Allison Park, which tomorrow observes its sixteenth anniversary with its usual annual affair? It is expected visitors will adopt several.

Regent Square Club Closes Its Season

ANOTHER club closed its season yesterday when the Regent Square Woman's Club held its annual luncheon in the Stanton Heights Golf Club. Covers were laid for 50 at the long tables where baby's breath and other garden flowers, combined with pale green tapers, made a dainty decorative scheme. Mrs. R. M. Van Orsdell made the opening prayer, Mrs. David Lloyd was toastmistress, and there was a short program of readings and vocal solos by Mrs. Vivian Kiser Fay. The outgoing president, Mrs. F. W. Wappat, and her successor, Mrs. D. E. Whysall, were presented with corsages of tea roses and each spoke in response, Mrs. Wappat stressing the urgency of a definite objective in the club. A report of the altruistic committee by Mrs. A. F. Heineman showed a wide variety of practical philanthropies and gave some idea of the scope of this committee's work. Mrs. W. H. Miller toasted the club in original verse. The luncheon, which was followed by cards, was in charge of Mrs. F. C. Alexander, Mrs. J. K. Milligan and Mrs. William Mahood.

MRS. APPLETON BASH, who founded the Dormont Mothers' Club and has been made a life member, offered the invocation at the club's annual banquet last night in the Downtown Y. M. C. A. Mrs. H. M. Black, retiring president, presented her successor, Mrs. A. H. Gale, with a corsage, and Mrs. Gale announced her chairmen for next season. During the dinner the club sang original songs composed by Mrs. Donald P. Maxwell and Mrs. C. J. McKee, Mrs. Horald G. Ewens accompanying. Mrs. J. E. Shipp gave several readings, Alice Gerstenberg's playet, "Fourteen," was contributed by Mrs. H. A. Heineman, Mrs. C. G. Louis and Mrs. C. J. McKee. Mrs. H. C. Stevens, on behalf of the club, presented Mrs. Black with a platinum and diamond pin.

FAMILIAR with every phase of the recreation situation in Pittsburgh and having made recreation surveys and established recreation systems in many cities, Dr. Cyrus F. Stimson is well fitted to speak on "New Fundamentals in Recreation," the subject for his talk before the Pittsburgh Girl's Conference tomorrow. Dr. Stimson, who has been field secretary of the Playground and Recreation Association of America for 15 years, is one of the comparatively few experts America has in this field. The conference will meet at luncheon tomorrow in the Central Young Women's Christian Association. Reservations are being taken at Girl Scout Headquarters, Arrott Building.

MRS. JOSEPH B. DRAKE is chairman of the benefit bridge luncheon which the Sarah Sloan Scholarship Club will have Saturday at the Food Craft Shop. Assisting Mrs. Drake will be Mrs. John S. Sloan, Mrs. Walter R. Fleming, Mrs. George T. Campbell, Mrs. Robert T. Alexander, Mrs. C. D. Bushnell, Mrs. E. B. Heyser and Mrs. Richard Arthur.

* * *

MRS. T. J. SWEENEY and Mrs. D. J. Sullivan will be hostesses at a benefit dinner and card party in Council House of the Pittsburgh Council of Catholic Women, Thursday, June 13. Following dinner, bridge, euchre and "500" will be played.

BRIDGE will follow the monthly dinner of the Oberlin Alumni Association of Pittsburgh which will be held tomorrow night in the Congress of Clubs. The association will close its season with the annual picnic later in the month.

FOR the first time guests will be present at the annual luncheon of the Mt. Lebanon Woman's Club with which the club will close its year Monday. The luncheon will be held in the Hotel Schenley with a surprise program marking it.

THE quarterly institute of the Allegheny County Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in Emory Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday. Reports from superintendents will follow the opening exercises of singing and prayer. A quiet hour and the executive committee meeting will close the morning session. Mrs. W. T. Larimer's "Observations of a Traveler," a solo by Mrs. Harry Ackerman, a talk on the county essay contest by Mrs. E. C. Vance, and a sealed questionnaire conducted by Mrs. S. R. B. Stewart, will occupy the afternoon hours.

MRS. EDMUND J. FAIRFIELD, chairman of the home department of the Congress of Clubs, announces a luncheon and theater party tomorrow as the department's closing event of the season. Reservations are to be made at the clubhouse for both luncheon and matinee.

THE women of Holy Rosary Church will hold a rummage sale in Broad street, East Liberty, today and tomorrow, the proceeds to go to the building fund of the church.

A SWIMMING party will be held Friday evening at the Pittsburgh Natatorium by the Clark Club.

Girl Sues Youngstown Clubman for $50,000

YOUNGSTOWN, June 5. — Carl Vinopal, prominent business and club man, is made the defendant in a suit for $50,000 filed by Elda Summer, of Cleveland. The petition alleged that in 1926 Vinopal, representing himself as a single man, promised to marry the defendant, but failed to keep his promise. Miss Summer states she relied on the promise until she discovered that Vinopal was married.

Three Hurt as Auto Crashes Into Pole

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 5.—When the machine in which they were riding was forced from the road and struck a telephone pole, Louise O'Hara, 23; Mary Chackla, 24, and William McCarry, 28, all of Latrobe, were severely injured on the Derry-Blairsville road.

The driver of the other machine did not stop.

Peeved at 75-Cent Haul, Beat Victim

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., June 5.—Held up on the Tenth Street Bridge, which spans the Beaver River between here and Beaver Falls, by two men, Paul Cirko, 24, Oak Hill, was beaten and kicked into unconsciousness when he could produce only 75 cents, all the money he had. Police are searching for the footpads.

10 GATHERINGS HERE IN JUNE

Ten conventions, bringing an estimated attendance of more than 18,000 visitors, have been listed for Pittsburgh during June, according to a bulletin issued by the division of conventions and visitors of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Raymond Kennedy is secretary. The average convention will last three days.

The largest attendances are expected at gatherings of the Iron and Steel Electrical Engineers, Order of the Eastern Star, Order of the Amaranth, National Electric Medical Association, Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association, American Wholesale Coal Association and the Conference on Printing Education.

Within the next 12 months more than 50 conventions will meet here, bringing approximately 80,000 visitors, the bulletin continues.

Those heading committees bringing the conventions to Pittsburgh are Frank W. Conner, passenger traffic manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Harry W. Neely and L. C. Bihler, assistant to the president of the Carnegie Steel Company.

Moves Here from Newark

B. Friedman, who has been with M. Samuels & Co. for 12 years as manager of the company's Newark stores in Philadelphia and Baltimore, has come to take charge of the store here in Fifth avenue.

Six Boys Arrested Admit Stoning Trains

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., June 5.—Six little boys, apprehended here by Pennsylvania police, admitted to Justice Walter Lewis they had thrown stones at passenger trains and had started at least six grass fires in the town.

"Rinso makes washday easy" says Mrs. F. B. Loury of Corliss

"Rinso makes such an easy thing of washday. All I do is soak the clothes in those rich, lasting Rinso suds. I don't have to scrub or boil a thing, they're so beautifully white and sweet.

"Rinso is fine for dishes and general cleaning, too."

MRS. FRANCES B. LOURY,
1319 Pritchard St., Corliss, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Extra-white clothes—try it!

Not only does Rinso save scrubbing and boiling . . . it gets clothes so much whiter you'll be amazed. Safely, too—you can trust your finest cottons and linens to Rinso's rich suds.

One cupful of this famous granulated soap gives more suds, does more washing, than two cupfuls of lightweight, puffed-up soaps—it's so compact. The makers of 36 leading washers recommend it. Get the BIG package.

PIRATES PASS .300 IN CLUB BATTING

IT were not for the fact that Steve Swetonic is handicapped by a sore finger on his pitching hand, which becomes irritated as a game draws near to its close, Pittsburgh fans would be starting to feel doubtful about the Pirate hurler's ability to go the distance without weakening. It is hoped that the finger will prove the explanation of the fact that the North Side boy rarely succeeds in getting through more than seven innings at his best gait.

Steve Swetonic

Even yesterday, when he pitched the Bucs to a 9-to-5 victory that gave them an even break in their series with the Phillies and lifted them to within 11 points of first place, Steve was nicked for two singles, two doubles and a triple, also giving a walk, in the last two rounds, three runs resulting.

In a game against the Braves on ...ay 5, he allowed only one run in eight innings and then ...elded two in the ninth. On May 20, the Cubs reached him ...r runs in the eighth after he had given only two in the first ...even innings, and last Wednesday, with the Bruins again his ...pponents, he had to be lifted in the eighth inning.

...HERE is no doubting Swetonic's courage or smartness at any time, ... or his ability to pitch high-class major league ball when he is ...ong and in his stride, so it is possible that his loss of effectiveness ... the late innings may be due to his troublesome finger. Steve has ...en bothered by this member all season. In the game against the ...ubs last Wednesday the trouble became worse when the repeated ...ipping of the ball caused a blister to form on the digit, making it ...fficult for him to throw his curve.

Yesterday the finger was seemingly in good condition when he ...arted the game, but it may have been a return of the irritation that ...used his let-down toward the finish. Fortunately the Bucs had a ...ad large enough to carry them through to a victory that gave them ... record of having won 21 of their last 29 games up to today.

...REDDIE MAGUIRE, second baseman of the Braves, who are in ... town for their first local series of the season, has twice been ...rced to move on to make room for Rogers Hornsby. First it was a ...ember of the Giants, and next as a member of the Cubs.

Freddie Maguire

After plucking Maguire from Holy Cross ...n 1924, John McGraw sent him to Toledo ...or two years of seasoning. He recalled ...im for 1927 and intended to use him at ...econd base as understudy to Frankie ...Frisch, but then the Frisch-Hornsby deal ...was put over and Maguire went back to To...edo, whence the Cubs obtained him in the ...all. He covered second for the Bruins in ...1928, and played the bag like a master, but ...he was shifted to the Braves in the Horns...by dicker last winter because Chicago ...needed more hitting power.

WHEN the deal was made, many fans expressed the opinion that in supplanting Maguire with Hornsby at second base Joe McCarthy was weakening his team on the defense, and that Hornsby would lose more games by his errors than he would win through his base hits. When Frank Graham mentioned that to Maguire recently, however, Freddie replied. "Boloney! Don't let anybody tell you that Hornsby won't help the Cubs—and help them a lot. You can bet he'll be hitting around .350 at the end of the season, and will supply a punch where the Bruins needed it last year—in a spot in the batting order not filled by an outfielder. We'd have won many a game last season if one of us had been able to come through with an extra base hit in a pinch. That's where Hornsby will shine."

WHILE admiring Maguire for putting in a boost for the man who twice dislodged him, most baseball followers will refuse to alter their view that as a second sacker Hornsby does not come within a mile of Freddie, and that he is a weak spot in the Chicago lineup, from a defensive viewpoint, one that may obstruct the club's pennant chances if it does not actually prove fatal.

In the Cubs' games here this year Hornsby has appeared to be just as weak as ever around second base, not only on flies to short right field, which he never was able to get under and catch, but also on ground balls. If he has to make more than two or three steps for the batter he seems unable to get them. Not long ago, the manager of a National League club remarked in this city while discussing Hornsby: "He would have to hit .400 steadily to play on a team of mine."

EVEN when a pitcher makes such a remarkable record as Burleigh Grimes has made for the Pirates in winning nine straight games for the Pirates, besides saving two others, he does not always get the credit he deserves. Always there is somebody who tries to pick a flaw in his achievements.

Wilbert Robinson, veteran manager of the Robins, is one who was there with a boost when he was asked what he thought about the Pirates and their infield: "I dont' know much about their infield, but that Burleigh Grimes is half a ball club himself."

Rube Bressler

THAT was quite a sportsmanlike tribute from a manager who only a little more than two years ago traded Grimes to the Giants for Catcher Butch Henline. But when Rube Bressler, Dodger outfielder, cut in with some different stuff. "Why wouldn't he be?" Bressler is quoted as having said. "Faber recently pitched a one-hit game. Old Jack Quinn is still fooling 'em. They couldn't do it without the spitter. Why, most of the guys who are playing now never saw a spitter until they came into the big leagues. Just figure that out. It's hard enough to hit a spitter when you've been trying for years, so just imagine those other birds coming along and getting a look at it for the first time. And not seeing much of it, either, if you observe the way they hit against it."

THE following was received from A. I. M.: "As a reader of your column for these 20 years, dating back to my kilties days at Millvale, I want to commend your attitude in what we might call rennaissance in sports. Old timers, old boys, may have had their day, but, believe me, living them over again brings deserved smiles of joy to these makers of sport history. Moderns scoff at us but overlook a most important fact.

"That is that these pastimes of today had their origin in our dim and distant past, were codified and clarified by the hands of men in way-back hours, until they are now nigh perfection as entertaining recreations. Youths should consider these heritages with gratefulness, ever realizing that they are enjoying games their dads helped to fashion and foster."

JOSEPH CURTO — HEARST TROPHY — COMMISSIONER BABCOCK

Who will win the second annual junior golf championship tournament for the William Randolph Hearst trophy, under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, on the Schenley Park links, Thursday, July 11? Whoever the youngster is, he will be finely rewarded, as was Joseph Curto, last year's winner. Curto will not be eligible to defend his championship this year, as he is over the age limit. His winning score of 68 was only two over par. Later he won a place on the local public links team which successfully defended the National team championship. County Commissioner E. V. Babcock presented the prizes at a banquet which followed last year's Hearst tournament. Curto's reward consisted of the beautiful trophy pictured above, a fine golf club and a solid gold medal.

TONY BATTERS FERNANDEZ

NEW YORK, June 5.—(AP.)—Tony Canzoneri, smiling little fighting master, turned loose all his punching artistry last night on Ignacio Fernandez, courageous Filipino featherweight, to open the New York outdoor season with an overwhelming victory at the Queensboro Stadium.

About 14,000 packed the stadium to see Canzoneri, invincible since losing the featherweight championship, make a punching bag of the brown boy who only two weeks ago knocked out another New York idol, Al Singer. There were no knockdowns, but Canzoneri smothered the dangerous Filipino with punches and won every round.

WEAK HURLERS HURT PHILLIES

The scrambled race in the National League is becoming more interesting as the fight progresses. The Cubs finally flagged down the Giants, but the Bears were on the run right down to the finish of the last game to prevent a clean sweep of four games.

The Quaker came, saw and conquered, to a certain extent. Saturday night the fans of this district were saying things about Burt Shotton's clubs that might have been inspired by enthusiasm. The same fans last night, had they been interviewed, perhaps would have revised their earlier utterances.

PHIL HURLERS POOR

Few teams are better than their pitchers, and the Phillies are no exception. On Friday and Saturday Manager Shotton was able to show two good hurlers in Willoughby and Benge, but he was just about through then, and he knew it, although Phil

BULLETIN.

The opening game of the Pittsburgh-Boston series, scheduled at Forbes Field this afternoon, was called off on account of rain. It will be played off as part of a double-header on September 18.

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

A bit closer to the top this morning as a result of yesterday's victory over the Phillies while the first-place Cardinals were splitting even, the Pirates are all set for the season's first appearance of the Braves, who are in town today for three games.

Featuring Johnny Evers and Walter Maranville, the Tribe reached Pittsburgh today from Cincinnati. All is not well with the Braves, by the way, although there is no team dissension. It is quite reliably reported that Judge Fuchs is anxious to hand over the reins of management to Assistant Manager Evers, who is in charge of the club on the present jaunt. Evers so far has made no definite decision, according to the current gossip.

Be that as it may, Evers and Maranville have many local admirers who are glad to see the famed keystone pair in Pittsburgh, even though they be here in the role of an invader. The Rabbit has been the outstanding feature of the play of the Boston club. Maranville will always be a big favorite here on account of his connections with the Pirates and the same popularity holds for Johnny of Troy, largely because he was a part of the great Cub machine which did battle with the famed Pirates under Fred Clarke.

KREMER TO HURL

In his first meeting with the Bucoos the Braves will be called upon to look at the slants of Monsieur Kremer. Remy has had a lot of rest and should be in rare form to tackle the Boston foemen. Sox Seibold is due to hurl for the Tribe.

COUNCIL VOTES PUBLIC LINKS FOR TOURNEY

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

City Council has given its support to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's second annual Western Pennsylvania junior amateur golf championship for the William Randolph Hearst Trophy, which is to be held on the Schenley Park municipal links Thursday, July 11.

Council has passed a resolution tendering the municipal links to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph for the day. John Jay Burke, who is to drive the first ball and act as honorary director of the meet, appeared before Council in behalf of the affair. Councilman Robert Garland, an enthusiastic Stanton Heights Golf Club player and the man who gained great popularity among golfers by putting across the daylight-saving ordinance, presented the resolution. It immediately was seconded by Councilman Daniel Winters and unanimously passed. It reads as follows:

'Resolved, that the Schenley Park municipal golf links be set aside on Thursday, July 11, for the playing of the second annual Hearst junior golf tournament being sponsored by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph."

The resolution was presented with the full sanction and approval of Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang, who is an enthusiastic golfer and always a hearty supporter of any affair that adds to the welfare and health of the community.

BOYS GET READY

Meantime, the boys are beginning to line up for the big tournament. For the information of those who are not acquainted yet with the rules of the contest, all entrants must be 18 years of age or under, attending classes not above high school grades, and strictly amateurs as defined by the United States Golf Association code. Caddies who have not attained their sixteenth birthday also are eligible, but they must play in a qualifying round at their respective clubs for one of eight places on their club team. It is necessary, however, that they enter the tournament in the regular way, filling in the entry blank and specifying at which club they work.

BOILERMAKERS MAY FOLLOW IOWA OUT

CHICAGO, June 5.—(AP.)—The Big Ten athletic turmoil grew today as Everett Case, basketball coach of Frankfort (Ind.) High School, advised he was prepared to go before Commissioner John L. Griffith with proof that Purdue, as well as Iowa, was guilty of subsidizing athletes.

Coach Case said he also would prove to Commissioner Griffith that Purdue revealed his credit mixup with Iowa because he refused to recruit for Ward (Piggy) Lambert, Boilermaker basketball coach.

Charges, presumably coming from Purdue, were made recently that Case had sent two of his star basketball players, Doyal Plunkett and Bob Spradling, to Iowa in exchange for free teaching credits.

Nelson Kellogg, Purdue director of athletics, advised the Associated Press over long distance telephone, that he would be glad to have Case outline his charges.

PURDUE WELCOMES HEARING

"We are anxious to know if anyone connected with Purdue is guilty of proselyting or subsidizing athletes," Kellogg said. "And if Case has such information, now is the time to give it to Commissioner Griffith. But as far as I know there is no basis for such charges."

Case appeared before the Frankfort school board last night and the board instructed him to lay his information before Griffith. He said he would do so either tomorrow or Thursday.

"If Mr. Case has any information about Purdue or any other Big Ten school violating rules, I will be glad to hear him," Commissioner Griffith said. "We are eager to get to the bottom of this trouble and do not intend to stop."

PLENTY OF WITNESSES

"I have plenty of witnesses to prove my charges," Coach Case said.

Case's charge followed the refusal of a special committee of the conference to return Iowa to good standing. The committee decided it was premature to reinstate Iowa and that the Hawkeyes must prove first their ability to control athletics and stop subsidization of athletes.

President Walter Jessup, of Iowa, promised he and his co-workers would do everything possible to gain reinstatement.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1929 TWENTY-THREE

RODGERS OUTPOINTED

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., June 5.—Johnny Dunn, local boxer, was awarded the judges' decision over Jackie Rodgers, hard-hitting Pittsburgh Negro, after their 10-round bout here last night. Rodgers made a poor showing and was beaten all the way.

TRIGO WINNER OF ENGLISH DERBY

EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 5.—(AP.)—Trigo won the one hundred and forty-ninth running of the classic English derby, here today. Walter Gay was second and Brienz third.

Twenty-six horses ran.

The winner was owned by W. Barnett, and no one of the first three were among the leading pre-race favorites.

Trigo is by Blandford, out of Athasi.

He won by one and a half lengths, while two lengths separated second and third.

To this opportunist colt, which conquered more famous and better liked opponents in a breath-taking whirl around the horseshoe-shaped track, went all the gold and glory of the greatest horse race, and perhaps the most famous sporting event in all the world.

The betting on Trigo was at 33 to 1. Walter Gay was at 100 to 8 and Brienz at 50 to 1.

OBSCURE HORSE

Before an immense crowd estimated by one official at "nearly a million," this comparatively obscure son of Blandford and Athasi romped home a winner by one and one-half lengths.

As the game colt tore down the slope of the straightaway to register one of the many upsets recorded in the long history of this famous classic, literally millions of dollars changed hands throughout the entire world where wagering and participation in the mammoth sweepstakes is believed to have totaled nearly $100,000,000.

In that final rush for the finish which is accentuated in the derby by a downhill sweep in the famous track, thousands of eyes searched in vain among the leaders for such popular favorites as Cragadour, Mr. Jinks and Hunter's Moon.

Of the three show horses Walter Gay, which finished second, was the best liked in the pre-race speculation. Brienz, which came home third two lengths farther back, was held at the extremely long odds of 50 to 1.

AMERICAN HORSE SIXTH

The American-owned horses, Mrs. Glorney's Posterity and Gordon Selfridge's P. D. Q. were slow in getting into their stride after the start.

Posterity pounded away strongly, but was not sufficiently fast to catch the leaders and finished sixth while P. D. Q. was not in the first 15.

Walter Gay had been one of the heaviest tipped horses in the event for the last few days and his fine showing was well received. There had been some doubt before the race as to whether he would start as his popular owner, Lord Woolavington, had served warning that the hard ground might keep him out of the field.

Kopi, which was one of the most heavily backed entries, had the misfortune to fall near the hazardous "Tattenham corner." His jockey, F. N. Winter, escaped injury.

OWNER OF IRELAND

W. Barnett, the owner of Trigo, which overturned all advance dope to win the derby stakes, is an Irish breeder who bred the Newbury Cup winner, Athford, brother of Trigo.

Trigo's trainer is R. C. Dawson, also an Irishman, who never before trained an Epsom Derby winner. He trained Fifinella, which won the Wartime Derby at Newmarket and also the Oaks stakes. Trigo's jockey was J. Marshall, a young Epsom lad who is a pupil of Trainer Stanley Wooton. He rode a gallant race.

None of the forecasters thought much of Brienz, but this horse shone brilliantly enough in the grilling test over the mile and one-half course. Finishing third, he completely outshone Lord Astor's Cragadour, the favorite, his stablemate in training.

The judge placed Lord Derby's Hunter's Moon fourth and W. M. G. Singer's Engarde, fifth.

LEADS IN OVATION

Barnett led the victor in amid a great ovation. A tall, jovial, clean-shaven man, he is a grain merchant in Belfast.

"I always thought Trigo had a chance," he said. "He was running well in the 2,000 guineas and today he certainly put up a great show. Trigo was born, bred and trained in Ireland. I'm a delighted man."

The race was surrounded by all the pomp and panoply annually associated with England's greatest sporting events.

By the time the first race was scheduled to start the crowd had become the largest ever seen on the famous Downs while throughout all of England and in the farthermost reaches of the rest of the world eager turf fans and seekers for sudden gold hung over the telegraph wires.

One official with 50 years experience declared the throng was the biggest he had ever seen.

Superlatives were used also in describing the size and scope of the sweepstakes, the largest of which are the London Stock Exchange and the Calcutta Turf Club.

WINNERS UNKNOWN

Partly because of the fact that the winner was an outsider, it may be days before the holders of the lucky tickets will be known.

When the big field of 26 at last was sent away, Trigo's jockey bided his time and it was not until the turn into the long straightaway that the Irish colt gained the lead, hotly pursued by Hunter's Moon, Cragadour, Rattlin', The Reefer and Engarde.

Trigo still held the lead a quarter-mile from home and despite a strong challenge from Walter Gay and Brienz he went on to win by a length and a half from Walter Gay, which was two lengths ahead of Brienz. The time for the one and one-half mile course was 2 minutes 36 2-5 seconds.

With the race well into the second month, the early season predictions regarding the Giants, the Cubs, the Pirates and Cardinals appear to be justified. You will note this morning that these four clubs are in the first division and that seems to be where they belong. Water finds it own level, even in baseball.

Pittsburgh fans are getting a big kick out of the hitting of Paul Waner, who went into a slump during the early weeks of the season. The wee slugger is gradually forging his way to the front. He added a homer and a double to his string and drew two passes yesterday. Paul has overtaken Lloyd, who has experienced a slump.

PAUL HITS HOMER

Paul's homer of yesterday was well spanked. When he is "pulling" his drives he is in his best form, and of late he has been hanging his liners from the plate to the stands. If he has a few breaks he should be right up among the leaders when the Glorious Fourth pops around the corner.

DUNDEE BATTLE HERE MAY BE CANCELED

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

The Meyers Bowl in Braddock has a fight on its hands to save its Joe Dundee-Joe Simonich bout, scheduled for one week from next Monday night, it developed today when word was received from Max Waxman, of Baltimore, manager of Dundee, welterweight champion of the world, to the effect that Floyd Fitzsimmons, who is promoting Dundee's 15-round championship battle with Jackie Fields at Detroit, July 11, for which he is guaranteeing Dundee $50,000, is balking at the idea of Dundee participating in a bout anywhere before he enters the ring against Fields.

Joe Dundee

Fitz fears something may happen to Dundee, who has a habit of having things happen to him, anyway, and has put his foot down on the warm-up battle planned here by Waxman. The latter, however, has assured the Meyers Brothers and Matchmaker Jules Beck that he has not entirely despaired of going through with the match in the bowl and is making a trip from Baltimore to Detroit in an effort to convince Fitzsimmons that it will be to the latter's advantage to let Dundee get a hard fight under his belt before he tackles Fields. Matchmaker Beck is holding himself in readiness to join Waxman in Detroit.

Definite word on whether the fight in the bowl is on or off is expected within a day or two.

HERRERA VS. GOLDSTEIN

Meanwhile the Meyers Bowl management is busy on its card for next Monday night, which will feature a double windup of two 10-round bouts with Tony Herrera, the sensational Mexican lightweight, of Chicago, appearing on top, with Phil Goldstein, of the Hill and New York, as his opponent. Jackie Rodgers, Negro bantamweight, of the North Side, meets Eddie Burl, of Buffalo, in a return bout in the other 10-rounder. Burl recently won over Rodgers in Erie. Two preliminaries in keeping with these events should round out a popular program.

The bowl drew more than $2,500 for the Jack McVey-Osk Till show last Monday, despite the freezing weather, which kept away many of the regular fans, and, under better conditions, the club is confident it will play close to capacity in the shows to come.

One of the best all-star cards ever arranged for Philadelphia, where they put on real attractions, is booked for Shibe Park tonight. It consists of four 10-round bouts, each involving a white star against a Negro, as follows: Kid Chocolate vs. Vidal Gregorio, Bruce Flowers vs. Billy Wallace, Baby Joe Gans vs. Pinky Kauffman and Jack McVey vs. George Courtney.

TONIGHT'S BOUTS

Joe Chaney, of Baltimore, boxes Billy Rose at Dayton, Ky., tonight. Other bouts listed include Vince Dundee vs. Billy Alger, 10 rounds, West New York, N. J.; Harry Ferry vs. Walter Peters, 10 rounds, Mitchel Field, L. I.; Herman Perlick vs. Jack Berg and Henry Perlick vs. Eddie Anderson, 10 rounds each, Milwaukee, and Dixie Lahood vs. Henry Felagona, 10 rounds, Helena, Mont.

Mike Ray, manager of Jackie Murray, who recently stopped Jess Hoak twice, believes Jackie is ready now to meet the best of the 140-144-pounders and would like to match him against Young Rudy, Tiger Joe Randall, Young Profio and others in this class. He may be reached by calling Grant 10118.

Battling Gizzy, of Washington, and Bobby Amster, of New Jersey, have been signed to box the main bout of a show at the Washington (Pa.) Gardens next Monday night. Ray Newton and Tommy Crawley likely will go through with their canceled match at this club's next show.

LEHR MEETS ANDRUCCI

Slip Lehr and Andy Andrucci, two of the most popular of the local amateur boxers, will box the main bout of the open-air show to be held by the Twenty-seventh Ward A. C. on its North Side grounds next Monday night. Joe Polins and Mose Butch will appear in another feature event.

Freddie Edwards, of Chester, W. Va., and Eddie Anderson, of Washington, Pa., have been signed for the semi-final of the opening show in the Junction Park dancing pavilion, at New Brighton, Thursday night of next week and Lou Sanders, of Beaver Falls, will appear in the other six-rounder. Two four-round bouts will open the show. Young Rudy, of Charleroi, will meet the best opponent obtainable in the 10-round windup.

The Jolly Bowl of New Castle, is dickering for a bout between Buck McTiernan, of Swissvale, and Larry Brignolia, of Erie.

WOMEN GOLF TEAMS PLAY

Section II had its go of it yesterday and this afternoon Section 1 of the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania team league is having its weekly struggle. Section I teams on the links of the Edgewood Country Club are meeting. The event marked the lone tounament on today's card.

The Hill Crest Country Club, near New Kensington, started play in the spring handicap tournament this morning.

Chartiers Heights remained in first place in the Section II standing of the Women's Golf Association team competition yesterday, defeating Alcoma, 12 to 5. Ben Avon, by defeating Westmoreland, 16 to 1, clambered within a point of the leaders.

Jim Bruno, caddie master at Alcoma, shot a par 37-35—72 to win the second caddie-master-assistant pro tourney over his own course yesterday. Joe Capabianco, Edgewood, with a 38-36—74 was second; Frank Bruno, Nemacolin, with 40-38—78 was third, and Wayne Tobias, Greensburg, with 42-38—80 and Ben Loeffler, Oakmont, with a pair of 40s, tied for fourth.

P. Waner, Gehrig Gain Ground In Big Six

Associated Press.

With a general downward trend in the big six averages, the performances of Paul Waner and Lou Gehrig stood out. Each got two hits in three official times at bat and each advanced one place in the standing. Waner's average rose from .335 to .342, sending him into third place ahead of Rogers Hornsby, while Gehrig again sent Babe Ruth, who remained idle, into the cellar by going from .319 to .326. Jimmy Foxx, the leader, went hitless in four trips to the plate and dropped from .425 to .414.

ers yesterday in the last clash of the series. The contest developed into an old-fashioned slugging battle but the Pirates were so far in front at the end of six innings that they did not seem to extend themselves in the remaining three rounds during which period the Quakers became a bit dangerous. The final score was 9 to 5.

PAUL, COMMY STAR

Steve Swentoic worked the entire game for the Freebooters and registered his fourth victory of the season. North Side Steve was found for 12 hits, but the smart youngster was good when he had to be effective. Swetonic yielded seven of the blows in the last three chapters and at a time when he was toiling with the knowledge of a commanding advantage.

Paul Waner and Adam Comorosky rang up homers in the free-hitting contest. Brother Paul slammed the rocket into the rightfield stands with Swetonic on base in the fourth and Comorosky started the home half of the seventh with a rifle-like drive to left-center that enabled him to make the circuit of the paths. The Pirates totaled 15 hits.

Phil Collins, late of New Orleans, worked six innings against the Pirates, Elliott and McGraw finishing.

Slow-consuming OIL for today's fast-stepping motors

IN THIS day of marvelously improved driving control, automobiles travel safely with far greater speed than formerly. No ordinary motor oil can begin to withstand the demands of modern high-speed motors and fast-driven cars.

If you value that fine piece of mechanism under the hood of your car, don't gamble on the oil you put into it. From behind sixty years of lubrication experience, The Atlantic Refining Company sees the importance of that warning more clearly, perhaps, than you do.

By intensive research laboratory work on internal combustion engines of all types and makes . . . by innumerable road tests of the most racking sort . . . Atlantic lubrication specialists have developed in ATLANTIC Paraffine Base MOTOR OIL the precise qualities automobile operation requires today.

FOLLOWING in the footsteps of Bob Sproul, local sandlot hurler, who recently fanned 20 men in one game, Hurd, pitching for the Dom Mezzio nine last evening, fanned 18 batters. Dom Mezio beat the Whoopee Club, 16 to 5.

SCHENLEY WINS WAY TO CITY SCHOOL FINALS

For the third year in succession, Schenley and Langley high schools will clash in the final for the City Scholastic Baseball League championship. This was somewhat in doubt until yesterday, when the Bellefielders cleared up the situation in Section I by defeating Westinghouse, 5 to 0, in a play-off game for the sectional title.

Westinghouse came down to the final game of the regular season needing a victory over Schenley to tie up the sectional race. With Jim Matoney hurling, this triumph was scored, and yesterday's extra tussle made necessary. Matoney attempted to repeat his victory over the Oakland nine, but young Ear Stratton, who previously had been used as a relief hurler, undertook his first starting job and came through like a whiz. He limited Westinghouse to four scattered hits and scored a pair of runs himself.

A costly error by Shetler in the second inning paved the way for three Schenley runs and took the fight out of the Silver Lakers. Two were away and two on the sacks when Shetler dropped a perfect toss from the hand of Shortstop Ware. Moran's single sent three runs over, and with Stratton hurling as he did, put the ball game on ice.

Moran, Bud Loder and Joe Mihm led the Schenley attack. The Bellefielders fielded perfectly, turning in a brace of opportune double plays. Matoney pitched his head off in an effort to win for Westinghouse, but his efforts were unavailing. The score:

Wright to Get Full Pay If He's Fit

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The Brooklyn National League club will make no further attempts to cancel the deal which sent Jess Petty and Harry Riconda to the Pirates in exchange for Glenn Wright, Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Robins, announced today.

Uncle Robbie said that Wright was to join the Brooklyn club in Cincinnati, June 15, for a final tryout, and in the event that he is found to be in shape for regular duty in the Brooklyn infield, he will be paid in full his salary for the season. If he is not in shape he probably will be placed on the involuntary retired list or suspended indefinitely.

Wright was here yesterday with his mother and fiancee, paying a social call on his teammates. He said he had no idea about his present condition. He has followed the orders of Dr. Cecil Ferguson and has not event attempted to throw a ball.

Schang Is Charged With Non-Support

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 5.—(INS.)—Wally Schang, catcher of the St. Louis American League team, will be given a hearing tomorrow before Magistrate Isaac Kehoe charged with non-support of his daughter Joan, 3.

The warrant was sworn out by Mrs. Marie Aubrey Schang, of Willow Grove, estranged wife of the famous catcher, who sued for a divorce alleging cruelty several months ago. Schang arrived in Philadelphia today with the St. Louis team.

C. & I. LEAGUE TEAMS SHOW ENTHUSIASM

By TOM BIRKS

Plenty of enthusiasm marked the first game between the Kaufmann's and Gimbels nines in the Commercial and Industrial League at Garfield Park last evening. It was the opening home game for Gimbels, and was attended by quite a number of prominent personages from the organgation. Gimbels won by a 20-0 count.

C. A. Marsh, general superintendent of Gimbels, pitched the first ball which was registered as a strike. Gil Scannel, the old St. John twirler, was on the mound for Gimbels, while Heisel worked the game for Kaufmann's.

Miss Burkhart, welfare director of Gimbels was in the stands, and seems to be quite a baseball fan. Andrews, a new addition to President Dan Dougherty's arbiter staff, was behind the bat for his first game in the C. & I. League. President Dick Mackey and Secretary "Polly" Kline, of the C. & I. League, were in attendance.

The boys from Kaufmann's could do little with the offerings of Scannell, who struck out 13 of the opposition in the six innings he worked. He allowed only four hits, none of which were for extra bases. In addition to his labor on the mound, Scannell reached first base three times, scored three runs and stole two bases.

Kelly and Kirsh led the attack for the winners with three hits each. The score:

GUNNERS WIN AGAIN

Hugh Turner's crack Canonsburg Gunners won another Inter-County League fracas last evening, beating Dormont 6 to 5. Homewood took over Butler 10 to 4 in the other league fracas.

In the City League, the North Side Civics beat Book Shoe 5 to 2, and Pleasant Valley had an easy time with St. Johns, winning 14 to 7.

The Homestead Aces won over the Duquesne Builders by 3 to 1, and Collier Colts stepped into the league lead by beating the E. L. Puruckers, 8 to 3, in Greater Pittsburgh League battles.

The Braddock Owls solved the offerings of Carl Stewart and upset the dope in the Tri-Boro League by defeating Rankin, 6-5.

Byllesby annexed its third straight win in the Philadelphia Company loop, defeating Equitable Auto, 7 to 5.

The Troy Hill Millers took a 9-8 slugfest from the St. Anthony Club in the North Side League, and Immaculate Heart downed the Stamm Club, 9-5. Twin City Radiator went into first place in the Greater North Side circuit by swamping City View, 12-2.

ST. ADELBERTS WINS

St. Adalberts defeated St. Michaels 12-0 in the Gimbel West Penn League. The J. J. Boyles swamped the Hall Printers, 12-2, in the Gimbel Major League.

In the Commercial League, Reliance Reserves easily took the measure of Union Printers, 15-1.

each club's caddie ranks in the field, and all other junior golfers eligible, in the tournament, the field will be cut appreciably and play will be more keen. There will be no "rush" to finish, and every entrant will be given every opportunity to produce his best score. In medal play, where every little stroke counts, this is a big advantage.

Country clubs throughout the district will profit by the new arrangement for caddies, inasmuch as members will be able to secure a bag-carrier if they decide to play on the same day the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's tournament is staged. It is not the aim of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph to leave district courses "caddie-less" in its enthusiasm to put over the Hearst junior tournament.

CADDIES IN TEAMS

Of the eight caddies who will represent each club, the four low scorers in the qualifying joust will be the standard-bearers for their club, and the team aggregating the low medal score will receive a handsome cup, to be held by the club they represent, and the individual members will be presented medals.

The tournament this year, it will be noted, is to be conducted in one class, rather than two divisions as last year. There is no entry or playing fee. The only requirement in this respect is that entrants provide their own clubs and balls.

There is no time to waste, despite the fact the tournament still is more than a month away. This especially applies to caddies who wish to compete, for the club qualifying rounds must be played sometime between now and five days prior to the tournament, and it is anticipated several of the clubs will have to stage their preliminary test in the near future. Caddie-masters may assist in this matter by announcing to the boys when their qualifying round is to be held.

OPEN TO ALL

May one enter the tournament if he lives in New Kensington, or Greensburg, or Wheeling, or Erie? He certainly may, even if he lives in Chicago. The United States is the limit, so long as any entrant can prove his amateur status and other requirements to the satisfaction of the Golf Tournament Editor.

If one is not a caddie and does not have a junior or regular membership at a country club, he may enter just as well as the boy who is fortunate enough to have a club affiliation. All that is necessary is to send in an entry blank to the Golf Tournament Editor.

ANSWER TO QUERY

Q.—If relief pitcher takes the mound with his team in the lead only to lose out in later innings, who is charged with the defeat?

A.—The relief pitcher is charged with the defeat.

.300 or better. They must share the .300 glory with the Pirates.

Donie Bush's warriors broke into that circle by their hard hitting of Monday and Tuesday and after yesterday's game they had a club average of .301. Five of the regulars are hitting above .300—Comorosky, Paul and Lloyd Waner, Barteil and Traynor. Sheely was hitting .286 and Grantham .283 up to today.

Kid Chocolate

KID CHOCOLATE'S showing against Vidal Gregorio in a 10-round bout at Shibe Park in Philadelphia tonight will be watched with more than ordinary interest, and not only because it will be the first test of the Cuban Negro since one of his hands was injured in his bout with Fidel La Barba, but because of the identity of his opponent. For Gregorio recently knocked out Al Scalfaro in quick time, and Scalfaro is the only fighter whom Chocolate has met in this country whom he has not defeated. Scalfaro, it will be remembered, knocked the Kid down in the first round and had him in wobbly state for nearly half the 10-round distance, so that Chocolate had to hustle during the latter part of the fight to get a draw. It will be interesting to note how he fares against the man who defeated Scalfaro.

Corduroy Tires

CORDUROY TIRES are taking a big part in this 60th Anniversary sale—tires that we are quick to recommend as "masters in performance".

Built as good as the best, and then made better by the addition of the original, patented side-wall protection—making them strongest where other tires are weakest.

Now, at the lowest prices ever in history—you can equip your car with this heavy duty, heavy non-skid tire at real savings.

Corduroys carry our one-year guarantee on passenger service, regardless of mileage.

Tires mounted while you wait. If it is not convenient for you to come in, one of our service trucks will deliver and mount Corduroy tires at your home. No charge for this service.

BOGGS & BUHL

The greatest tire of them all!

ONCE you use Kelly REGISTERED Balloons you'll never be satisfied with any other tires. Size for size they are even larger and sturdier than the regular Kelly line. The tread is much thicker and is carried further down the sidewalls so that the possibility of puncture is negligible. There is more rubber between the plies, and the seven-inch size has two extra plies of cord. Furthermore, for your protection, each is individually REGISTERED by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Co. At the present time we have a full stock of these tires, but they are going faster than the manufacturers can replace them, and we may not have your size long. Come in and let us quote you an allowance for the unused mileage in your present tires. You may find that after deducting this allowance from the price of a set of REGISTERED Balloons the cost is even less than you expected to pay for regular balloons.

$50,000 Radio Convention Entertainment on Air

Bringing to a climax the grand convention of radio dealers and distributors in Chicago, a mammoth entertainment will be staged in the Stevens Hotel tonight.

Mme. Schumann-Heink, Reinald Werrenrath, Charles Marshall, the Happiness Boys and others will participate in a $50,000 extravaganza which will come to Pittsburghers through WCAE at 10:30 o'clock and KDKA at 11 p. m.

Many Pittsburghers will be close to the microphones when the stunt goes on the air.

Spanish music in abundance will be radioed to KDKA fans at 9:30 and 10 o'clock during Neapolitan Nights and the Voyagers' trip to Spain.

NOTED BASSO SINGS

Dale Wimbrow, comic, becomes a permanent entertainer with LaPalina over WJAS tonight at 9:30. "Headin' South" will be his first number.

"Sailor's Last Voyage" has been selected by Sigurd Nilssen, basso, for his solo during the Mobiloil concert, WCAE at 8 p. m.

Shootin' irons and drama extraordinary will be the basis of "Way of the West," a hair-raising thriller of a different sort over WJAS at 8 o'clock.

WCAE at 9:30 will present the Revelers singing "Rhapsody in Blue" during the Palmolive concert.

"THE WAYS OF THE WEST."

The story of "The Ways of the West" is based on the activities of a band of cattle rustlers and the philanderings of their leader, Jim Royle. When his wife leaves him, he shaves off his beard and, donning up-to-date clothes, proceeds to woo the little heroine, Littlia Watson. The wedding date is set and just as the event is to take place Letitia's long-lost lover appears on the scene at the opportune moment upsetting wily Jim Royle's plans. This results in an unexpected climax. Contained in this play are the usual "Quick Draws," the shots in the back, frays and feuds, as in the majority of Western dramas, but in "The Ways of the West" everything is presented in a different manner.

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

Stocks Move Higher — Wall Street Quotations

STOCKS MOVE IRREGULARLY UPWARD

Transcontinental Oil Co. Turnover Large With Big Blocks Changing Hands

NEW YORK, June 5.—(AP.)—Stock prices continued to move irregularly higher in today's market. Heavy selling developed in some of the farm implement, mail order shares and scattered specialties in the early trading as a result of sensational attacks on stock speculation, but strong buying support was quickly supplied, and the market subsequently rallied under the leadership of the copper, public utility, motor, food and steel shares.

The recovery was influenced, in part, by the bullish interpretation placed by many brokerage houses on the reparations settlement and the confidence in the credit outlook. Weekly steel trade reviews continued optimistic in tone, Iron Age stating that pig iron production in May, usually a period of seasonal recession, established a new monthly record for both total output and rate per day. The report adds that "with June well begun, Steel Corporation subsidiaries are still producing at above rated capacity and independents are not far behind."

TRADING PROFESSIONAL

Trading continued largely professional in character. While there appeared to be a more cheerful feeling on the part of small speculators, many of them were still reluctant to enter the market after the costly experiences of last month. Several of the conservative commission houses continued to urge caution in the making of new committments on the theory that any extended advance in prices was unlikely on the prospect of flurries in call moncy rates later in the month.

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent, with demand and supply about evenly balanced. There was no quoteable change in time money or commercial paper rates.

Transcontinental Oil, directors of which are reported to be considering the payment of back dividends on the preferred, was turned over in large volume. The stock opened with a block of 20,000 shares at 13 and later blocks of 15,300 and 34,000 shares changed hands at 14, up fractionally above last night's close. Simms touched a new high above 37 and then ran into profit-taking.

Case Threshing Machine, which broke to 293 in last week's decline, soared 10 points to 335. Otis Elevator, Superior Steel, Newtown Steel, Cerro De Pasco, Greene Canaanea, Anaconda, Auburn Motors, Packard, Chrysler, International Printing Ink, Safeway Stores, Columbia Graphophone and Dunhill sold 3 to 6 points higher.

COMMONWEALTH SOARS

Commonwealth Power continued its spectacular climb by soaring 11 points to a new high record at 209¾, or more than 100 points above the year's low price touched in January. United Corporation and American and Foreign Power were each bid up at least 3 points.

Rails were rather quiet, although New Haven preferred was marked up to a new high at 120.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The raw sugar market was unchanged early today at 3.49c for spots, duty paid, with no sales reported.

The raw sugar futures market opened 1 to 2 points lower with all deliveries again at new low records for the season, and the July position at a new low for all time. The decline was due to renewed liquidation and selling by houses with European connections, influenced by the continued liberal offerings in the spot market. Shorts and Cuban interests bought on the decline, however, and following the call a steadier tone developed and opening losses were all recovered with the list at midday net unchanged to 1 point higher.

There was no change in the refined situation with all refiners quoting 5.90c for fine granulated, and second hands still available at from 4.80 to 4.85c.

Tremendous Increase in the Use of Gas—U. S. Thriving.

By B. C. FORBES

ATLANTIC CITY, June 5.

NOT less notable than the growth in the use of electricity is the expansion in consumption of gas, including natural gas.

The building of pipe lines, many of them of unprecendented length, is proceeding at a rate never before known. The production of natural gas in certain fields is almost beyond the layman's imagination. Total sales of gas now exceed two thousand billion—2,000,000,000,000—cubic feet. Customers total 15,000,000, and the number is rapidly increasing, especially in industrial centers.

THE Federal Trade Commission's investigation of the utility industry has not shaken the confidence felt in the future by the members of the National Electric Light Association assembled here in annual convention. The subject, indeed, is not being very widely discussed—not as much, one gathers the impression, as the recent adventures of the International Paper and Power Company in the newspaper field. That innovation is very generally criticised.

Utility men, however, refuse to concede that the exploit had anything to do with the utility industry, but claim that it was conducted wholly by the International Paper Company and for its purposes only. The public, however, will make up their own mind on this score—and there have been many indications that it has done so already.

Says A. F. Hockenbeamer, president, Pacific Gas and Electric Company, San Francisco:

"Our gas and electric business so far this year both have shown more than average growth. In the first quarter electric sales increased 14 per cent, and gas sales fully 11 per cent. I would say that general business conditions in our part of the state are about normal and will probably continue so during the remainder of the year.

"We are making rapid progress on our project for bringing natural gas to the San Francisco Bay region and signs are multiplying that this will give a very decided impetus to industrial expansion in this area. The advent of this cheap fuel, unsurpassed for industrial purposes, will remove about the only handicap I can think of in attracting to this section many types of industry which find natural gas particularly advantageous in their operations. We have already received a number of inquiries from industries of this character, and in the course of the next three or four years I look to see a very marked expansion of our industrial activity.

"We are expending $13,000,000 on this project and have plans under way for still further expanding it. We have also appropriated $11,000,000 for the enlargement of our electric steam generating facilities in San Francisco. Except possibly in the winter-time, these new units will use natural gas as fuel."

FRANK L. DAME, president, the North American Company, sounds this note of apprehension:

"I cannot detect any appreciable slackening in business from the weekly output reports, but I am very fearful that if credit conditions remain as uncertain as they are at the present time, general business will be affected."

THOMAS N. M'CARTER, president, Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, comments:

Generally satisfactory business conditions affecting particularly the manufacturing and construction industry are reflected in the business of central station companies, which are also beginning to reap the benefits of the very large sums which during the last few years have been spent in improving and extending their facilities. I can see no reason to doubt that demand for electric service will continue to increase as in the past. Astonishing as has been the past development of these utilities, a very large field remains to be cultivated and further intensive effort may be expected to result in further large gains in the volume of business.

"The gas industry, while facing a decrease in the consumption of gas by the average family, is largely expanding its sales in the industrial field. A readjustment of its rate structure permitting lower charges for both domestic and industrial quantity consumption, should bring an additional volume of business with a compensatory return."

I UNDERSTAND M. S. Sloan, president of the New York Edison Company, will be elected president of the National Electric Light Association for the coming year. He's a hustler.

Wheat Speculation Rapped in Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 5.—(AP.)—Speculation in wheat by Hungarian brokers was the subject of lively debate in Parliament today.

Count Aldar Szechennyi, who supports the Bethlen government, sounded an alarm, stating the "mad speculation in wheat would kill agriculture." He said Hungarian farmers were losing $1.10 on every quintal (a little more than two cwt.) of wheat produced.

He urged the government to restrain cultivation to the more arable lands.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, June 5.—(AP.)—Public utilities rose vigorously, several to new highs for the year and all time, today on the Curb market, but selling encountered at the peaks cut down the gains. In some cases advances were converted into losses. The general list displayed a mixed tone, with trading comparatively light.

Aviation shares displayed a strong undertone on prospects of new air lines being opened and a larger share of export business falling to American builders. Oils were irregularly lower, although higher prices for oil and gasoline are looked for as companies begin to draw on reserve supplies to meet the heavy summer demand for motor fuel. Mining shares are responding to reported better demand from Europe for copper.

American Superpower issues all opened strong, after scaling new high peaks yesterday. The new stock again established a new high, but the gains in all three issues were reduced by profit-taking. Electric Investors ran up to a new high, but fell back to behind a minus sign. Electric Bond Shares encountered selling.

New highs were established by Penn-Ohio Edison common, warrants and warrants B, Southeastern Power warrants, United Gas Improvement old and new, Allied Power and Light and American Cities "B," the last responded to payment of stock dividend at rate of 10 per cent annually compared to 4 per cent previously. Central States Electric, which controls American Cities moved briskly upward.

Utilities Equities, a public utility investment trust which is associated with Chase National Bank officials, climbed to a new high in anticipation of stock appreciation through utility advances. Goldman Sachs sold off.

Gulf and Humble of the oils were lower, while Fokker of the air stocks turned downward. Transcontinental Air Transport was strong.

Newmont, which holds stocks in copper companies, was the strong feature of the mining group.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

BUGS BAER Says

HOMEWORK IN RED INK

"Bugs" Baer

WE cannot gree with educators who claim that homework is injurious to the immature intellect.

What a child learns at school should be brought home and indorsed by its old man.

When Demosthenes chewed pebbles in the barn he was doing home work for the valedictorian scrambles in the open oratorical tournaments.

When Lincoln figured out the dancing letters in an old book by the light of a log fire he was doing homework for a million homes.

And depriving its old man of an entire education.

The old parlor lamps are gone now and midnight oil is figured out in kilowatts. But when you see a child doing its homework in red ink it takes you back 30 years with a suddenness that snaps the suspender buttons of history.

Once again we see old Mommie Cossett in the old schoolhouse at Ninth and Thompson. Those were the days when interscholastic athletics consisted of getting your hand smacked with a brass-bound ruler.

Mommie Cossett had one bad habit. When she crossed your palm with the silver of chastisement, she always placed your hand on her knee.

As the ruler descended, you pulled away your mitt and Mommie cracked herself on her floating cartilage.

Then she got smart and placed a book between your hand and her knee. But she would never have thought of this if she hadn't done homework when she was a little girl.

The penalty for pulling away your hand was extra homework. You had to parse the verb "to be" one thousand times in red ink. By the time you finished you were the finest two-word gramarian in the world.

In the old days homework was more or less a disciplinary business. If Henry Ford hadn't been a bad boy in school he would never have thought of the flivver. Henry did years of homework in his father's machine shop.

When we hear a little child spelling C-A-T with the pencil in its mouth our education comes rushing back in a torrent that drowns our information.

When the little child asks us what the equator is like and what happens to it after the third person, possessive, we are enabled to give it an answer that is amusing as well as wrong.

A little girl or boy who wants to be promoted to the next grade should never ask Daddy what's what and how.

Homework should be juvenile and not erroneous. But, all we have to say, is that when a child is reading its lesson aloud, it is educating more than one person.

A Scarsdale bank announces that it will "hereafter save customers the bother of paying their monthly bills."

A neat trick—if it works.

Imaginary conversation between banker and depositor—

Mr. A.—You advertise that you will pay the monthly bills.

Banker—Yes sir.

Mr. A.—Well, here's my gas bill. Will you attend to that?

Banker—Yes, sir. All you have to do is fill out an application. Of course we make a three per cent charge for meter inspection. Then we simply ask you to deposit ten times the amount of your bill, and pay the customary $10 trust fee. Come back tomorrow and we will be ready to have you sign the check and stamp and address the envelope.

MEN OF THE HOUR

This is Rhinelander Doakes, millionaire philanthropist, who has contributed $1,000,000 to the Coast Guard service. His only stipulation is that the money be used to purchase yachts and schooners for the Coast Guard to bombard and search, and thus keep the Government out of embarrassing complications.

* * *

On the charge of delivering a public address without having obtained a permit, a city councilman of Brockton, Mass., has requested a warrant for Senator Heflin.

If that fails he can always accuse the Senator of being a common nuisance.

TRUE CONFESSIONS

I'd rather sit with Joan Lowell
And read her salty hooey
Than groan through futile labyrinths
With Lippmann, Kant or Dewey.

Thought for today.

The mail man who went for a walk on his day off has nothing on John Gilbert, who spends his spare time getting married.

Ina Claire—John, did you work with Miss Garbo today?

Mr. Gilbert—Yes... why?

Ina Claire—Oh, nothing... I just wanted you to kiss me. But never mind. You're probably all tired out.

BELIEVE IT OR NO—

BELIEVE it or not, but Mrs. McGoofus of Ashtabula, Ohio, is married to the champion doughnut eater of Amrica and has a cat that grows whiskers like a mouse. Although they have a radio in their home, they went 365 nights last year without having any callers.

NOTE—The above statements are based upon data which we believe to be reliable, but we cannot guarantee results.

One of these days there will be a great scandal—some mail order house will get something on the Book-of-the-Month judges and make them send out a catalog.

WETS SUFFER SEVERE BLOW IN WISCONSIN!

(Albany, Wis., Herald.)

"W. J. Hahn attempted to speak at the same time that Senator Markham was giving his address and it became necessary for the sheriff and deputy sheriff to assist him from the hall. It was a very good chance to show that Albany intends to have law and order in our midst and to uphold the right of public gatherings without being disturbed by intoxicated individuals."

Don't Let Politics Mar Campaign for Charter

County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong is to be commended for his announced decision not to enter into controversy with any person about the Metropolitan charter, which is to come before the voters for approval at a special election June 25. Mr. Armstrong favors the charter himself and the result of the charter constitutional amendment at the polls in Allegheny County last November is conclusive evidence that a most impressive majority of citizens of the county hold the same views as Mr. Armstrong.

Yet the decision at that time was not unanimous. Opposition to the charter (amendment) although hopelessly in the minority as compared with the sentiment for it, was sufficiently in evidence to warrant the assumption that it would continue in some quarters. Just because there appears from time to time a charter opponent who is prominent in civic or political matters is not a reason for any charter supporter to become controversial. All are entitled to their views, and if a person opposes the charter through sincerely honest conviction that he takes his stand for the best interest of the community, his attitude is as worthy of respect as that of a charter proponent.

The charter is not a matter of party politics, and it would be a shame were its chances of success at the polls to be endangered by any attempt to make political capital out of either support or opposition to the charter.

Let us forget politics in our consideration of this great issue and think about only what is to the best interest of the community.

Improvement Is Urged For Rodgers Air Field

Lieut. Samuel C. Eaton, Jr., fearing that there may be intent to abandon Rodgers Field when the new airport is ready for use, has written to the city-county air board a communication, later submitted to Council, warning that the field should be maintained because the district may find eventually that it will be a necessary part of aerial transportation facilities here. That appears to be quite plausible.

Rodgers Field, though limited in extent, may be found very useful later. Its accessibility is one of its great advantages and it appears reasonable to assume that its proximity to the city will make its value more evident as aerial travel develops. The argument in behalf of maintaining Rodgers Field is accompanied by a request for an appropriation of $3,000 for the construction of an 1,800-foot runway. It appears that it would be a wise expenditure.

Sentiment alone should preserve Rodgers Field, named in honor of a Pittsburgh martyr to aviation, the first man to cross the continent in an airplane and whose life a short time later was sacrificed in the cause of aerial development.

Excuse for Quick Change Of Volstead Act Removed

By her resignation as Assistant Attorney General to resume the practice of law, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt has relieved the administration of its only excuse for haste about the transfer of the administration of the Volstead Act from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice.

Supporters of Mrs. Willebrandt and her ideas of prohibition enforcement were largely responsible for the agitation to make this transfer.

They wished her to be in complete charge of the prohibition enforcement forces. And as she was Assistant Attorney General, they thought the simplest way to bring this about was to put the whole administration of the Volstead Act under the Department of Justice.

With the elimination of Mrs. Willebrandt, the administration can well afford to consider and decide upon its merits the question whether the Department of Justice should be burdened with the administration of the Volstead Act or whether this and kindred matters should await investigation and study at the hands of President Hoover's commission on law enforcement.

Whatever reasons this commission may discover in favor of such a change, any reputable lawyer can quickly cite a number of reasons why the cause of justice would gain by LEAVING THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE VOLSTEAD ACT WHERE IT NOW IS.

The Treasury Department has assembled and has in operation the machinery for administering not only the prohibition act but the internal revenue laws relating to intoxicating liquor, the Harrison narcotic act, and the narcotic drugs import and export act.

There would seem to be no more reason for transferring the administration of the Volstead Act to the Department of Justice than for transferring the administration of these other laws to the same department.

The Treasury Department is entrusted with the administration of the tariff laws. It is charged with the prevention of smuggling and with the enforcement of laws against smuggling. Yet there is no proposal to transfer these agencies to the Department of Justice.

Furthermore, all American practice is against combining the function of ADMINISTERING THE LAW with the function of PROSECUTING THOSE WHO VIOLATE IT.

The prosecutor in city, state and federal government is as a rule separate and distinct from the police officer.

Nobody has yet offered any real reason why the federal government should depart from American practice in this matter and make an exception of the enforcement of the prohibition act.

What is the purpose of appointing a law enforcement commission to investigate and report upon ways and means by which the administration of the law in this country can be bettered if the federal government is going to anticipate the findings of this commission by making an arbitrary transfer of the administration of the Volstead Act from one department to another?

Unless the administration intends to subordinate the entire work of the Department of Justice to the ferreting out, rounding up, trial, conviction and jailing of each and every violator of the Volstead Act, it will at least allow its law enforcement commission to study the question before burdening the Department of Justice with the administration of a law which the Treasury Department has administered ever since it was passed.

Here is a case where "the rule of reason" might well be applied, and public sentiment will surely support its application.

Coming In Out of the Wet

Drawn by Nelson Harding

Knowing enough to come in when it rains
Was always considered a token of brains.
The Volstead Act's champ,
Bored from battling with damp,
Shows wisdom and sense, as the picture explains.

Abandoned at last is the mop and the pail
And dipper employed in an effort to bail.
As her task fairly stumps
The "Leviathan's' pumps,
To this little girl give a hand, without fail.

Tales That Are Told

Romance!

THE maid had been hinting that she did not think much of service, and this, in conjunction with the nightly appearance of a rather sheepish-looking young man, caused her mistress some apprehension.

"Martha, is it possible you are thinking of getting married?" said her mistress.

"Yes, ma'am," admitted Martha.

"Not to that young fellow who has been calling on you lately?"

"Yes, ma'am, he's the one."

"But you've only known him a few days."

"Three weeks Thursday," corrected Martha.

"Do you think that is long enough to know a man before taking such an important step?"

"Well," answered Martha, "it isn't as if he was some new fellow. He's well recommended. A girl I know was engaged to him for quite a long time."

All Aboard

THE steamer was just leaving the pier when a man rushed up and shouted: "Hold on a minute, captain, there's a party of 50 coming aboard."

The steamer backed in again, and the man walked on board and sat down.

After five minutes the captain went across to him and asked if the party would be much longer.

"What party?" asked the man.

"The party of 50 you spoke about."

"Oh, I'm the party! I'm 50 today."

Celebrating

"MY DEAR," said the old man tenderly, "today is our diamond wedding, and I have a little surprise for you!"

"Yes?" said the silver-haired wife.

He took her hand in his. "You see this engagement ring I gave you 76 years ago?"

"Yes?" said the expectant old lady.

"Well, I paid the final installment on it today, and I am proud to announce that it is now altogether yours!"

Time Wasted

A LAD from Epps' Crossing, having ambitions to become a great banker, ran away from home and succeeded in getting a job as bank messenger. Upon his return home two weeks later one of his old friends asked him why he didn't keep his job in the city.

"I don't like being a banker," he had replied. "I'm sorry I learned it."

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS.

THEY got to talking about something besides bridge at the bridge party. "My maid tells me that Mr. and Mrs. Flat fight like everything."

"Oh, my dear, I can hardly believe it! They seem so loving."

"That's just showoff. She scratched his face, and he pretends he cut it with a safety razon."

"But my dear, he takes her every place! He's going to Europe on business for the company, and he's taking her along."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

LAZY folks never cease to amaze and amuse me. They're always so sure that they're suffering from some unique ailment unknown to the more industrious members of the community.

You never yet saw a lazy person who would acknowledge that he or she was just plain lazy.

No, indeedy! They always have some fancy diagnosis or alibi.

Frequently they're too "high-strung" to endure the pressure and monotony of common labor. Or they have a weak heart—which runs in the family. Or nervous indigestion. Or a sensitive nature. Or some secret sorrow. Or some special talent which incapacitates them for all baser forms of toil. Or mysterious "sinking spells."

Since psychology has become so cheap and easy, the alibis have increased in number and taken on a new cultural tone. Sinking spells have been replaced by "inferiority complexes." Nervous indigestion is traced to various "inhibitons" and "repressions." And a good, lively "neurosis" will relieve you of almost any job except, maybe, washing your own teeth.

But there's something better than even these as a defense for laziness. Glands—they're the latest wrinkle. As we're chuck full of glands, and nobody knows much about them, it's safe to use them as a cover-up for almost anything. Also much more stylish.

There's Al, for example. Al hasn't done a tap of work for the last 18 months. But is he lazy? I should say not! Why, according to Al, there's nothing he likes better than a good hard job. Gosh, how he envies fellows who can work! But unfortunately there's something the matter with his thyroid—or his adrenals are out of whack. Or maybe his tyhmus is acting up.

And if these various excuses fail the lazy person can always take to anemia and spinach and begin to babble about Vitamine B.

All of which is hifalutin' hooey. There are forms of weakness which are definitely associated with adolescence, malnutrition and illness, but there is nothing clinical about the average case of laziness. It's simply the oldest and commonest form of human cussedness. Every human being is afflicted with it and there's only one cure for it—GET BUSY!

AND IT IS EXACTLY AS HARD FOR ONE PERSON TO GET BUSY AS IT IS FOR ANOTHER. The 6:30 alarm sounds just as horrid to Energetic Ernestine as it does to Sluggish Sal. The "4 o'clock slump" comes as surely to the Big Boss as it does to the Big Bum.

WHEN IT COMES TO HARD LABOR WE ARE ALL HIGH-STRUNG AND AFFLICTED WITH SINKING SPELLS.

LAZINESS ISN'T A DISEASE. IT'S SIMPLY A HANGOVER FROM THE DAYS WHEN WE ALL HAD FLEAS AND ATE OUR ENTREES RAW.

LIGHT AND GRAVITY

By Garrett P. Serviss

"I am a constant reader of your articles and value them very highly. The other day while watching a 'radiometer' spinning in an optician's shop I began to wonder at the 'force' of the sun's radiation, and I attempted to make a comparison of the radiometer and the earth, as affected by the solar bombardment. I notice that the 'radiometer' has an absorbing (dark) side and and a reflecting (silver) side. I notice that the earth in some respects has its 'absorbers' (the continents and islands) and its 'reflectors' (the oceans), and I naturally wonder whether the solar bombardment could have any effect on the earth's rotation. Can the sun exert two opposing forces at the same time, one gravitational drawing the earth toward it, the other, the solar bombardment, forcing the earth away?—H. J. W., New York."

ONE of the chief objects of these articles is to induce readers to use some of the critical precautions of science in studying the causes and reasons of the great phenomena of nature. While heartily appreciating your intellectual curiosity, let me say that the analogy which you suggest between the radiometer spinning in the sunlight in the optician's window and the earth whirling on its axis in the sunlight in open space, though it has a spacious brilliancy, alluring to the imagination, nevertheless is characteristic of the delusive results to which reasoning by analogy continually leads if great precaution is not taken to make sure that actual and complete analogy exists.

In the radiometer, careful mechanical provision is made to cause the repellant force of the sunlight to act at its highest efficiency. The absorbing and reflecting vanes are exactly opposed, and furnished with a good leverage. Even so, the resultant force is very slight. A mere glance at a school globe shows that no real likeness exists between it and a radiometer, so that the condition of axial rotation would not be found even if the force of the light-pressure were sufficient to produce such rotation.

The light-pressure is proportional to the surface of the body on which it is exerted, while the gravitational pull is proportional to the volume of the same body. Now, it is a well-known fact that surface area varies as the square of the diameter of a body, while volume varies as the cube of the diameter. But with the same density, the mass, or quantity of gravitative matter, in a body is proportional to its volume. In this case we may treat mass as only another word for weight.

Suppose we had two balls of iron, one of them an inch and the other a foot in diameter. The volume, mass, or weight, of the first would be 12x12x12=1728 times as great as that of the second, while its surface would be only 12x12=144 times as great. PROPORTIONALLY, then, the pressur. of light would be 12 times as great on the small ball as on the large one.

From this proportionality it is evident that if the size (volume) of a body of any fixed density is continually diminished, there will be found a point where the light pressure upon it just balances the gravitational pull, and, then, if the diminution of size is continued the light pressure will begin to exceed the attraction and th body will be driven off against gravitation. The precise size depends upon the density; but in general matter consisting of particles of the size of fine dust is repelled by the pressure of sunlight. If the earth were a cloud of such particles it would be blown away by the sun's radiation.

Bible Passages

Be Upright But Humble

(Proverbs 15; 18-33.)

A WRATHFUL man stirreth up strife: but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.

The way of the slothful man is as an hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous is made plain.

A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

Folly is joy to him that is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding walketh uprightly.

Without counsel purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellors they are established.

A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth: and a word spoken in due season, how good is it.

The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath.

The Lord will destroy the house of the proud: but he will establish the border of the widow.

The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the Lord: but the words of the poor are pleasant words.

He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house; but he that hateth gifts shall live.

The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.

The Lord is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: and a good report maketh the bones fat.

The ear that heareth the reproof of life abideth among the wise.

He that refuseth instruction despiseth his own soul: but he that heareth reproof getteth understanding.

The fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom; and before honour is humility.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Romance

NOT only gracing fiction's thrilling page
Where tales of wonder and of love abound
To weave their old enchantments, age to age,
Is strange and splendid romance to be found.

The masters caught all valor and all fear,
Set joy and longing in their magic lines
And life's swift challenge, every smile and tear,
In matchless charm from out their pages shines.

But scrawled through history, too, the passions pass
And leave their imprint on a land, a race;
The downfall of a people may but glass
The havoc wrought by some fair woman's face.

Than any tale of it since time had birth,
And all its centuries of ceaseless change
Unfold the countless romances of Earth.

The Spark-Plug Of Japan

By Herbert Kaufman

ADDISON, Chesterfield, Chateaubriand, Talleyrand, Bonaparte, Clive, Jefferson and Washington possessed but the haziest of ideas about Japan.

Isolated by religion and by law, Nippon wended her course through the centuries, unnoted and uncoveted; her Mikado, a mere figurehead, the Tycoon in supreme command, and her Shoguns scheming and intriguing; a medieval people even when steamboat and locomotive were plotting economic revolution throughout western civilization.

Dutch merchantmen occasionally drifted into her ports and, at the peril of their lives, traded with potters and weavers; but Japanese mariners were restrained under penalty of death from venturing away from local coasts.

Junks were limited in size by decree, so that even though the spirit of a Columbus or a Marco Polo stirred within her sailors, none might challenge the great wastes and pursue his imagination beyond horizon deadlines.

Mutsuhito, the Mikado, was barely a year old. At the age of 15, the burden of state was thrust upon him.

His childhood had been lived in the shadows of mysticism. The soldiers surrounding his palace, weird creatures panoplied in lacquered mail and armed with bow and lance, maintained vigilant watch lest some impious subject might chance to look upon the sacred face of the "Scion of the Sun."

As he gazed out of his prison window upon his paper-house capital, not a wisp of factory smoke floated to the heavens nor did the wheeze of a single engine strike his ear.

On July 29, 1912, 60 years after his birth and 45 years after his ascent to the throne, Mutsuhito breathed his last upon the vastest miracle in all the astounding annals of history.

Within the span of one life, he viewed progress as no other race attained in a thousand years.

The clangor of triphammers, the puffing of trains, the hum of trolleys, the whirr of printing presses, the click of telegraphs, the jingle of 'phone bells, the buzz of power looms resounded in a triumphant pæan to celebrate the closing of his reign.

Dreadnaughts lay at anchor in his harbors. A new social order pervaded his realm. Democracy had leveled all ranks. Armed bullies no longer strutted the streets. Samurai and the sons of Samurai bent over ledgers and held throttles and trafficked in market-place and shop and stock exchange.

Shoulder-strapped peasants and peasants' children, risen to estates taboo to their humble sires, patrolled the decks of cruisers and planned maneuvers for irresistible army corps.

Within his time, two mighty nations, the Chinese and the Russian, had tasted the valorous, invincible steel of his forces.

Hospitals, schools, universities, colleges, libraries were sprouting in every city.

The first Powers of the universe had sued for alliance with his people.

He accomplished more than fiction, at its boldest, would have dared conceive possible, and lifted an empire and its subjects to the peaks of his own dreams.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 5.—An increasing demand for mystery and detective stories is burning up midnight oil for writers of thrillers. Almost every popular magazine is in the market for a bang-up hair raiser, and those who can turn them out are not worrying about the coming of winter.

Edgar Wallace is not only the best selling novelist in England, but his shockers have a wide sale in America. E. Phillips Oppenheim could not fill his orders for international intrigue in 20 years. And Willard Huntington Wright as S. S. Van Dine is one of the literary sensations of the hour.

So great is the demand one publishing house organized a subsidiary known as The Crime Club, Inc., through which it purports to give its subscribers their newest mysteries two weeks in advance of publication. It is reputed to have several thousand steady clients.

Men like Stanley Baldwin, of England; Woodrow Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover have given impetus to the craze by letting it be known they found recreation in mysteries. On almost every great man's night table these days is a blood-and-thunderer.

There is perhaps no mental relaxation superior to following the slick crook from crime to retribution, guessing who plunged the dagger or who has the pearls. A justice of the Supreme Court often turns from a knotty legal tangle to plunge headlong into a detective story.

The trouble now is the market has been flooded with shoddy tosh. Mystery yarns in their striving to thrill and terrify have become as mawkish as the old penny dreadfuls. I know one writer who turned out four full length mystery novels in 15 days.

No writer can grind out so much work with any degree of excellence. The fact is that in the hundreds of detective tales the last year not more than six could stave off the yawn—as a mystery reader, I recall only three that kept me up—"The Bellamy Trial," "The Murder on the Blue Train" and "The Canary Murder Case."

There is a story of a friend calling up a mystery story writer. A servant explained he was just starting a new detective story.

"O, all right," said the friend, "I'll wait."

Broadway's new gastronomical diversion for stay-ups who patronize the pineapple, orange and apple juice huts is the skinless hot dog sandwich. I don't know who thought up skinning the hot dog, but it is a beaut.

The biggest night club spender is a teetotaler. He has the Diamond Jim Brady philosophy about Broadway: "It's fun being a sucker if you can afford it." His reservations in a year's time amounted to more than $10,000 for couvert charges alone. A big spender, he totals his checks and always catches split pencil additions.

I'm no great shakes in letting myself go in sentiment, and furthermore it is none of my business, but I'd like to take that spendthrift for a ride on an elevated train crawling its serpentine way through a tenement section down town. He could gaze into many cheerless and curtainless flats where the price of one couvert would bring great happiness—more happiness indeed than buying out a club for the night for a lot of unappreciative parasites.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

HOW do you treat your neighbors?

If you live in a large city you may not know any of those in the same apartment or in the house next door.

But the visit of a doctor to one of your neighbors should cause you to call and offer assistance.

Is this the right sort of spirit?

Would it not afford a certain degree of pleasure to that neighbor if you manifested some interest at a time where there is sickness in the house?

Perhaps you do not know these persons, where they came from nor what they are doing for a living, but does that make any difference when you can see there is trouble and a need for friendliness?

Perhaps they have paid no attention to you, but why should that fact be considered in time of illness?

There is need for a certain kind of aloofness in city life.

But it should not be carried to the point where offers of assistance are not made in times of sickness.
